British Capture Sidi Barrani; Push On

FIERCE BATTLES SWIRL AROUND DESERT CAMPS

Three of Il Duce's Generals Seized.

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 11 (AP).—British troops today stormed and captured Sidi Barrani—the strongest Italian base in Egypt—and rolled westward in armored cars to occupy considerable additional areas, general headquarters announced tonight.

Captured, said the official communique, were "a large number" of military prisoners, including three Fascist generals, who went into British custody along with more than 6,000 prisoners of war already taken.

The Italians put up a stubborn resistance before the British finally took Sidi Barrani, and late tonight, on a 200 mile square desert battleground, fighting still was going on between isolated groups, with the Italians holding out desperately. It was generally believed, however, that with the capture of the base, the present phase of operations had been concluded satisfactorily for the British.

Camps Strongly Defended.

South of the town, Fascist camps still holding out were areas of intense struggle. Each is protected by a deep outside trench and by antitank defenses behind which, around the whole camp, there is a low but deep wall built of rocks and boulders and mounted with antitank, antiaircraft, and machine guns.

These dangerous little nests were being attacked by infantry under cover of heavy artillery bombardments, the R. A. F. supporting British armored columns and at the same time violently attacking the Italian rear.

Summing up air activity, it was declared that in the last 24 hours at least 10 Italian aircraft had been destroyed.

The fall of Sidi Barrani, the greatest success yet reported in the spectacular British desert offensive, and the continuing thrust of British mechanized units to the west along the Mediterranean coast imperiled the entire Italian force in Egypt.

Drive On Sollum.

Just how far to the west this steel spearhead had been driven was not stated. At all events British advance forces already have been reported in occupation of areas near Buqbuq, which lies some 35 miles west of Sidi Barrani toward the frontier of Italian Libya, and the next objective of the counterinvasion appeared to be the important Fascist city of Sollum, which lies just within Egypt.

Sidi Barrani is 70 miles inside the frontier, and between that point and the Italian divisions supporting it to the west a "Wavell wedge"—the men of Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell's Egyptian command—has been driven.

Sidi Barrani, which had been reported strongly fortified even if it is only a collection of primitive hovels, is the roadhead thru which all supplies must be funneled to the scattered Italian outposts in the desert.

First Major Italian Capture.

The capture of Sidi Barrani was the first major one effected by the Italians themselves in their early fall offensive into Egypt—an offensive long stalled and apparently now being turned the other way. The Italians took the town on Sept. 17.

The British entered Sidi Barrani during the afternoon, said the high command's communique, and the circumstances suggested that the Italians may have been taken by surprise.

The British command already had announced the capture since yesterday of 2,000 Fascist prisoners of war to add to the 4,000 reported in custody then. Too, the seizure of "huge quantities" of Italian war material was reported.

British March 75 Miles.

All this had been accomplished in two and a half days of fighting, the British having reached the scene in a forced march of unusual speed across 75 miles of desert from their interior Egyptian positions.

With British troops now apparently firmly entrenched for miles along the coast, speculation arose that Italian Marshal Rodolfo Graziani must at-

DUCHESS WALLY GAINING SLOWLY; STILL IN DANGER

Miami Beach, Fla., Dec. 11 (AP).—In the privacy of a hospital suite packed with flowers sent by well-wishers, the duchess of Windsor today recovered slowly from the effects of major dental surgery.

Physicians gave out periodic information about the duchess' condition from a nearby hotel. They reported that she showed a "most satisfactory" condition in the 24-hour postoperative period, adding: "However, the danger of complications, while slight, will not pass for at least 72 hours."

This indicated the Windsors will not leave the hospital at least until Saturday, and then may be in the United States a few more days, altho they had hoped to embark for Nassau Friday.

The duke issued a statement expressing appreciation for the privacy given his party at the hospital. He said there were so many messages that there would be delay in acknowledging them directly.

REPORT BELGIUM FACES A SERIOUS FOOD PROBLEM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Dec. 11.—The chief of the German military administration for Belgium, Herr Reeder, today told all Belgian officials and mayors that all foodstuffs in the country must be seized to insure a fair distribution of supplies between rich and poor. He had summoned the officials to a conference on means of "mastering the serious food difficulties" facing Belgium. He said that potatoes and some other foods would be sent to Belgium from Holland and Germany.

French Restrictions Tightened.

VICHY, France, Dec. 11.—A survey of the French food and supply situation has resulted in government orders tightening the food restrictions. A new law provides that any one who wilfully wastes bread will be liable to a jail sentence. In restaurants not more than 50 grams may be offered to each customer at a time.

New British Air Leader Arrives Safely in Cairo

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 11 (AP).—Air Marshal Arthur William Tedder arrived today to become deputy commander-in-chief of the middle east royal air force, replacing Air Marshal Owen Tudor Boyd, who was captured by Italian soldiers when his plane was forced to land on the island of Sicily Nov. 21.

TWO UNIONS—TWO STORIES

The Janitors

How the funds in the treasury of the Building Service Employés international union began to grow as soon as the notorious racketeer George Scalise was forced out of the presidency last spring was disclosed yesterday by Paul B. David, secretary and treasurer of the organization.

Since Scalise, now serving a sentence of 10 to 20 years in New York for thefts, was replaced by William L. McFetridge the treasury balance increase has averaged more than $10,000 a month. There is nothing miraculous about that, David said.

"Scalise never let the balance rise above $90,000, very little for an international with 70,000 members," David asserted. "He drew out vast sums which he never accounted for. Last May 8, when he was displaced, we had a balance of $78,183. An audit Oct. 31 showed we had $142,662. I estimate that in five years we'll have a half million dollars.

Accomplished by Honesty.

"It hasn't been difficult to make this showing. All it took was common sense, economy, and the plain old desire to be honest."

McFetridge has taken the position that members of the international, composed of scrubwomen, janitors, elevator operators, and pin setters in bowling alleys, are entitled to full information about where their dues go. He also has made it plain that he intends to permit no racketeering by local union officials.

As a illustration of how Scalise, who still has pending here indictments charging him with the embezzlement of $118,000, spent money and how McFetridge saves it, David told of two trips they made.

"In October, 1939," he said, "Scalise took six men with him to the American Federation of Labor convention in Cincinnati, using $5,000 of expense money. This year McFetridge took eight men to the New Orleans convention, and from the $1,000 he drew he turned back $100.

How Things Were Changed.

David explained that Scalise claimed he was expanding the membership in the east and that he was not accountable for sums spent for "organization."

"He did not even pay his vice presidents from the international funds," David added. "They had to get their money from the locals, and none ever had a voice in our affairs. McFetridge has changed this, pays them $300 a month each and they must be available for conferences and union business at any time."

The present international administration has urged that any members of locals who suspect racketeering appeal directly to McFetridge.

The Bartenders

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Judge Robert Jerome Dunne announced from the bench yesterday that reports had reached him that duress was being used in connection with the election of officers of the bartenders' union, scheduled for Jan. 6 under his jurisdiction and personal supervision.

A few minutes later it was learned that two candidates had quit. Roy D. Keehn, appointed receiver of the union on complaint it had become infested with gangsters led by Frank Nitti, said two more withdrawals might defeat the purpose of the receivership.

Seeks Probe of Withdrawals.

Keehn said he would ask the court to begin an inquiry into the reasons for the two candidates' withdrawal from the race. It was apparent that powerful influences were at work, he said.

"I know what Judge Dunne had in mind when he talked about duress," Keehn said. "Reports have reached us that tavern owners as well as bartenders are being threatened. Originally a large number of union members wanted to run against George B. McLane for business agent and James Crowley for president.

"Now Crowley is left with only one opponent, and we feel sure one candidate will continue to oppose McLane. But if these two should change their minds the court would be faced with a problem."

Fears of One Candidate Told.

The withdrawal of Thad C. Witt as a candidate for the union presidency was reported to Attorney Charles C. McGuire, representing Keehn. Later the receiver was advised that Arthur Donahue, candidate for business agent, had said he was getting out of the race because he feared to offend the rulers of the union and thereby endanger his livelihood if the McLane-Crowley ticket should win.

Still opposing Crowley is Austin Steeves, bartender at the machinists' union hall who is said to have the backing of many union labor leaders.

Against McLane the candidate listed as "sure" is Gerald Forney, a former University of Iowa football tackle.

Attorney Harold Levy, who was hired originally by McLane as attorney for the union, retained after McLane was deposed, but separated from the pay roll last September by Receiver Keehn, complained to Judge Dunne yesterday about the loss of his $400 a month salary.

Levy, it was said, expects to be rehired if the McLane-Crowley ticket wins.

ENVOY IMPLIES BRITAIN WANTS U. S. NAVY'S AID

Calls Cargo Guard 'Terribly Thin.'

See 'Hurry Up' Plea

LONDON, Dec. 11.—Lord Lothian's speech at Baltimore, Md., tonight is interpreted here as meaning that the British attitude toward the United States is due for a change. It is assumed the British ambassador did not say what he did without the full approval of the British government.

It is believed here that, first, Great Britain is going to ask the United States for far more than it has asked so far; second, it is going to be franker in asking for it, and, third, it is going to emphasize the necessity for speed in getting it.

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 11 (AP).—Making an implied plea for American naval assistance in keeping supply routes open to the British Isles, the Marquess of Lothian, British ambassador, declared tonight that the issue of the war "now depends largely on what you decide to do."

"If you back us you will not be backing a quitter," he asserted, and "with your help in airplanes, munitions, in ships and on the sea, and in the field of finance now being discussed between your treasury and ours, we are sure of victory."

Lord Lothian made his remarks in a speech he prepared for delivery to the American Farm Bureau federation here. Because of illness, however, he was unable to come here to deliver the address in person, and he assigned Neville Butler, counselor of the British embassy, to read it for him.

Leaves Decision to U. S.

"It is for you to decide," the manuscript said, "whether it is to your interest to give us whatever assistance may be necessary in order to make certain that Britain shall not fall."

Predicting still greater German attacks on British shipping in the coming months, Lord Lothian declared the British navy already "is strung out terribly thin."

"We think this is a situation which concerns you almost as much as it concerns us," he said. "It has long been clear that your security, no less than ours, depends upon our holding the Atlantic impregnably and you the Pacific."

Two-Ocean Attack Visioned.

The axis-Japanese pact, he continued, raises the prospect of "a two-ocean attack on us both in the Atlantic and the Pacific." This, he said, would be launched simultaneously if an Italian or German army or fleet could occupy Gibraltar or Northwest Africa "or Great Britain's control of the Atlantic has been sufficiently weakened to cause doubt where the

GERMAN FREIGHTER CAPTURED BY DUTCH WARSHIP NEAR CUBA

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11 (AP).—The navy department announced tonight that the 6,031 ton German freighter Rhein, which slipped out of Tampico, Mexico, on Nov. 29 to run the British blockade, was "in possession of the Dutch destroyer Van Kinsbergen this morning off the coast of Cuba."

The Nazi crew attempted to scuttle their ship, the navy announcement said, before abandoning it. Another source had reported earlier that a Dutch warship "intercepted" the Rhein and that fire was observed aboard the freighter.

The location of the Rhein's interception apparently was somewhere near the place where the British cruiser Diomede on Sunday intercepted the 5,033 ton German freighter Idarwald, which left Tampico with the Rhein. The Idarwald was scuttled by its crew.

The news that one or more Dutch naval units were working with the British in patroling western Atlantic waters came as something of a surprise. There had been no previous indications that the Netherlands navy was represented in new world operations.

PREDICTS PEACE NEXT SPRING IF U. S. SHUNS WAR

Gen. Robert E. Wood.

New York, Dec. 11 [Special].—Conclusive action by the United States to convince the world that it refuses to be dragged into the European war probably would bring about a negotiated peace in the spring, Gen. Robert E. Wood of Chicago, chairman of the board of Sears, Roebuck & Co., today told members of the New York Board of Trade at its annual meeting.

Warning his audience of 450 business men that a strenuous propaganda campaign aimed at pressing the American merchant marine into actual war supply service is a virtual certainty, Gen. Wood predicted that this form of aid to Britain most certainly would lead to actual war involvement.

Prefacing his remarks with the statement he favored all possible aid to Britain, provided everything is paid for—either in collateral or island possessions and British transport of British supplies—Gen. Wood said that aside from these considerations the nation must keep out of the war.

Opposed to Intervention.

"The real question is not how much aid we should extend, but whether or not we should enter the war," said Gen. Wood, who has been active in the work of the America First committee, directly opposed to the interventionist Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies, headed by William Allen White. "My answer," he added "is no!"

Gen. Wood reviewed the trends of opinion on the subject of United States participation and concluded with a strong appeal to the American people not to risk their system to interfere in the quarrels of Europe and Asia.

[Chicago chapter of the America First committee will meet today to plan rallies against intervention in the European war. Story on page 3.]

"It is possible that the English may request a show down from us in the near future as to whether we will declare war on Germany and enter as an active participant," said Gen. Wood. "In any case, I believe, whether from our viewpoint or Britain's, we should decide the question in the very near future.

Answer Should Be "No."

"If we say 'no,'" he continued, "it is probable that there would be a negotiated peace in the spring; if we say 'yes,' the war probably will last from two to five years longer. Our answer should be 'no.'

"If we stay out of the conflict we are in a position at its close to accomplish incalculable good to an exhausted world; in fact, we will be the only great nation that has not sapped its resources and that will be in a position to help rehabilitate the world."

Gen. Wood suggested that probably only two persons in the world are in a position of temporal or spiritual authority—namely, the President of the United States and the pope—that they could approach both belligerents and see whether a peace could be arranged.

Train Hits a Cow; Jumps Tracks; 2 Die, 11 Injured

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 11 (AP).—The national railways administration reported tonight that two persons were killed and 11 injured today when a passenger train jumped the tracks after running into a cow. The accident occurred outside the city of Balsas in Guerrero state, about 120 miles from Mexico City.

200 LISTED WHO PAID FOR ADS IN PRO-WAR DRIVE

Financiers, Writers, Actors on Roster.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

(Pictures on page 3.)

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—An official list of 200 contributors to the "Stop Hitler Now" advertisments purchased in newspapers thruout the country by William Allen White's Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies was disclosed today by Senator Rush Holt [D., W. Va.].

The "Stop Hitler Now" advertisment, published last summer, launched the White committee's nation-wide propaganda campaign for more and more participation by the United States in the European war. Holt has charged this committee with deliberate attempts to involve this country in the war.

The list of contributors is dominated by the names of eastern financiers and industrialists, actors, playwrights, moving picture producers, song writers, and others in the theatrical and radio business.

Senator Holt said his list, hitherto unpublished, is the same as the list filed with the state department. Senator Bennett Champ Clark [D., Mo.] and other noninterventionists have sought unsuccessfully to force publication of the list by the state department.

Morgan Partner in List.

The list of contributors to the "Stop Hitler Now" ads contains the names of Thomas S. Lamont, partner and son of a partner of J. P. Morgan & Co., and Mrs. H. P. Davison, wife of a Morgan partner. Altho J. P. Morgan's name does not appear on the list of contributors for the advertisments, officials of the White committee have admitted that he made the first contribution for its organization. During the world war J. P. Morgan & Co. was the financial agent of Britain in the United States.

Morgan is a director of Morgan, Grenfell & Co., Ltd., the London branch of the firm. Lord St. Just [Grenfell], Lord Bicester, Lord Catto, Viscount Harcourt, and other directors of Morgan, Grenfell & Co. have vast holdings in British insurance companies, shipping lines, banks, utilities, and other enterprises.

Bank Tieups Disclosed.

Senator Holt disclosed in the senate on Monday that the present Lord Cornwallis, a descendant of the British general who surrendered at Yorktown in the American revolution, is a director of British insurance companies with at least 10 subsidiaries in the United States. These subsidiaries, he declared, are connected thru interlocking directorates with 10 of the largest 12 New York banks, having aggregate financial resources of 17 billion dollars.

On the list of contributors to the "Stop Hitler Now" ads is the name of Ward Cheney, wealthy silk manufacturer, and his wife, Frances D. Cheney, who is a sister of H. P. Davison, the Morgan partner. Cheney, according to Senator Holt, manufactures silk parachutes for the army.

The list contains the name of Irving Berlin, author of the song "God Bless America," with which the movie and radio interests are seeking to supplant "The Star Spangled Banner" because the national anthem is regarded as anti-British.

Others on Roster.

Among the names of prominent industrialists and financiers and members of their families on the list are Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock, wife of the famous polo player, who is a partner of Lehman Brothers corporation, which is controled by the family of Gov. Herbert H. Lehman of New York; Joseph A. Thomas, another Lehman Brothers partner; Mrs. John Schiff, whose family is connected with Kuhn-Loeb & Co.; Frederick Warburg, a member of another New York banking family; Mrs. Daniel Guggenheim, Mrs. William Hale Harkness, Mrs. Averill Harriman, Howard Hughes, aviator, oil man, and movie producer; I. D. Levy and Jerome H. Loucheim, directors of the Columbia Broadcasting corporation, and Henry Luce, publisher of Time magazine.

The names of writers, actors, and moving picture producers include Maxwell Anderson, Fred Astaire, Philip Barry, Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Edna Ferber, Lynn Fontanne, Alfred Lunt, Samuel Goldwyn, Katharine Hepburn, George S. Kaufman, Myrna Loy, Paul Muni, Robert E. Sherwood, Cornelia Otis Skinner, and Walter Wanger.

BRITISH CAPTURE SIDI BARRANI AND PUSH ON IN EGYPT

Three Italian Generals Seized in Battle.

tempt soon to move up substantial forces from Libya for a major engagement in an effort to break the British wedge.

This attempt at relieving the forward Fascist detachments would come by way of the coastal road from Libya, and the British air arm is declared to be striking regularly at that area. The fleet is there, too.

The British command announced that in the continuing aerial offensive R. A. F. pilots had bombed the steep road at Sollum, Egypt, and the important Italian base at Bardia, Libya.

[In London the high mobility of the British forces in Egypt was likened to the spectacular cavalry raids led by the Confederate General J. E. B. Stuart in the American civil war. This comparison referred to Gen. Stuart's feat of riding clear around the Union army just before the Seven Days' battle in Virginia. British sources said they knew nothing to confirm reports that the Italians cut off about Sidi Barrani numbered two divisions.]

Rome Admits Reverses.

ROME, Dec. 11 (AP).—The Italian high command acknowledged reverses in the Egyptian campaign about Sidi Barrani today, but said British armored divisions which made the swift attack on Fascist lines there suffered "extremely serious losses."

Fighting of "exceptional violence" continued all day Monday in the desert struggle with Libyan advance troops "resisting gallantly" before their retreat to Sidi Barrani, the government communique said in its first official mention in Rome of the engagement.

Two divisions of Italian troops held out and inflicted "serious losses" on the British, it was said.

General Slain in Battle.

Italian Gen. Maletti was killed as he led his Libyan troops into battle.

On other phases of the war there were more encouraging reports. An authoritative source said that up to Dec. 10, 37 British warships and 33 merchant vessels had been sunk against a loss of 23 Italian warships.

Italian forces have shot down 667 "enemy" planes, it was said. The loss of 110 Italian planes was acknowledged.

Italy's war casualties, including dead, wounded, and missing, from June 11, the day she entered the war, until Nov. 30 totaled 18,824, an official announcement said.

British Dispute Air Claims.

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP).—The air ministry tonight said that 460 Italian airplanes had been destroyed since Italy's entry into the European war last June, while total British losses against the Italians were put at 58.

British Seize Italian Base in Egypt

ENGLAND CALLS CAPTURE OF BASE 'MAJOR VICTORY.'

Triumph of Cunning, Paper Asserts.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 11.—Recapture by the British of Sidi Barrani, strongest Italian base in Egypt, was hailed in London tonight as "a major victory of the war" and the biggest blow Premier Mussolini has suffered since the Italian fleet was crippled at Taranto on Nov. 11.

Front page news stories stressed the military value of the British achievement, tho when the town fell into Italian hands on Sept. 17 the loss was discounted as of "little strategic importance."

Recapture of Sidi Barrani, according to the Daily Express, came sooner than was expected by military experts here. The paper described the victory as "a masterpiece of speed and cunning." Italian Marshal Rodolfo Graziani, the Express declared, "fell into the British trap." He was "allowed" to penetrate farther and farther into Egypt and was unable to move his troops back fast enough when the counteroffensive was lodged.

Says "Inaction" a Mystery.

The Daily Sketch diplomatic correspondent said Italian leaders must have known of the projected offensive and described their apparent "inaction" as a "mystery."

The only direct statement attributed to the war office was a cryptic announcement, "We go marching on." One "high military authority" was quoted in the Daily Telegraph as saying, "It certainly looks like a good show, but in the absence of details it is not advisable to be too jubilant."

The Italian troops engaged are spreading over a wide area and authoritative circles suggested it was "just possible that they might squeeze out of the pocket."

Altho the war office had no details of how many of the 15,000 Italians in Sidi Barrani escaped, the expectation here was that most were captured.

Italians See Chance of Victory.

New York, Dec. 11 (AP).—The Rome radio in a broadcast heard here tonight said the London radio "sings a victory song" about the Sidi Barrani engagement, but that the "battle is now being fought and might very well become dangerous for the British forces themselves." It predicted the "espisode" would turn to the "complete disadvantage of the British."

Claims Exaggerated, Nazis Say.

BERLIN, Dec. 11 (AP).—Authorized sources expressed the opinion today that British claims of successes in Egypt and Greek claims in Albania merely proved that the British position is precarious.

"They exaggerate mere episodes into tragedies," these Germans said.

American fleet should be stationed."

"We have both, therefore, a vital interest in decisively defeating the now rapidly maturing naval attack on the communications of the British Isles. It is the very best way of preventing the spread of the war. And it is an essential step to that victory which will eventually follow the failure of Hitler to destroy Great Britain, both by air and by sea, and the uninterrupted flow of American munitions to the British Isles."

Chance to 'Save Ourselves.'

Lord Lothian declared that no one who had seen what "steady and constant bombardment of great cities from the air means could wish any friendly country like the United States to undergo any similar experience."

Britons, he said, for geographical reasons, were "on the firing line" but "you and Canada and Australia and New Zealand and probably South Africa have the chance, if you take it, of saving yourselves from being the theater of total war.

"You are the center of that great ring of fortresses—Britain, Gibraltar, Cape Town, Suez, Singapore, and Australia—to which I should add Hawaii and Panama," he continued.

"If the Ramparts Fall—"

"As long as these fortresses stand, the war, with its aerial bombardment, cannot in any real sense of the word roll up to your shores or devastate your towns and cities.

"Almost alone among the nations you still have the chance of making your country immune from the devastation of war, not by pacifism or attempted appeasement of the dictators, but by helping to maintain the frontiers I have described.

"But if the ramparts fall, the war will inevitably cross the oceans and roll up against your shores."

PEASANTS WILL GET TITLES TO MEXICAN FARMS

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 11 (AP).—President Manuel Avila Camacho tonight issued an order for individual land titles to be given as soon as possible to the 1,500,000 Mexican peasants living on the republic's 15,000 communal farms. The 65,000,000 acres will be parceled among the peasants, but communal operation of the farms will continue. Observers interpreted the decree as the first step toward breakup of the communal farm system and a return to individual tillage. They asserted this would not affect the distribution of vast baronial tracts to peasants.

GEN. HAMMOND MAPS AMERICA FIRST CRUSADE

Ex-Guard Leader Named City Chapter Head.

Gen. T. S. Hammond.

Brig. Gen. Thomas S. Hammond, former senior brigade commander of the Illinois National Guard and a Chicago civic leader, was appointed chairman yesterday of the Chicago chapter of the America First committee, which is pledged to arouse public sentiment against interventionist activity in the United States.

Gen. Hammond will preside at a meeting of the chapter at noon today in the Hotel Sherman, where plans will be made for the first of a series of public rallies designed to give expression to sentiment for keeping this country out of the European war. The first of these rallies will be held next Wednesday night in Orchestra hall, it was said. A national figure, whose name has not yet been announced, will be the speaker.

Plan Immediate Drive.

"The Chicago chapter will plunge immediately into the work of bringing the America First committee aims to the attention of every citizen of this municipality," Gen. Hammond said yesterday. "Loop headquarters of the chapter, separate from the national headquarters at 141 West Jackson boulevard, will be chosen within the next few days.

"Our purpose is to marshal public opinion behind the committee's announced program of building an impregnable defense for America and giving expression to public sentiment for keeping America out of the European war," he said.

Extend Group to 11 Cities.

The announcement of Gen. Hammond's appointment was made by R. Douglas Stuart Jr., national director of the committee, who now is engaged in extending the organization to other cities. Stuart reported that chapters already have been formed in 11 other cities, and that others now are being formed.

Janet Ayer Fairbank, well known author, was appointed vice chairman of the Chicago chapter. Other prominent Chicagoans selected to serve on the chapter committee are Dr. Anton J. Carlson of the University of Chicago; Clay Judson, attorney and former president of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations; J. Sanford Otis, treasurer of the national America First committee, and Sterling Morton, William H. Regnery, and Edward L. Ryerson Jr., executives of Chicago manufacturing plants.

Contribute to "Stop Hitler" Drive

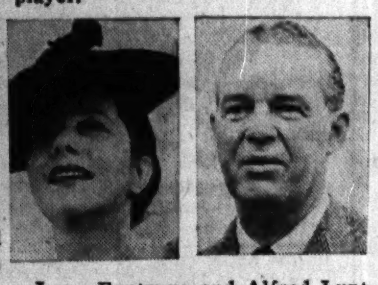
Below are several prominent persons who have contributed to "Stop Hitler Now" advertisments purchased in newspapers thruout the country, according to Senator Rush Holt and officials in Washington.

Myrna Loy, screen actress, and J. P. Morgan, financier.

Thomas S. Lamont, son of partner in Morgan firm, and Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock, wife of famed polo player.

Katharine Hepburn, actress, and Howard Hughes, oil heir and movie producer.



Lynn Fontanne and Alfred Lunt, stage stars.

Mrs. Frances Cheney (left), sister of Morgan partner, and Cornelia Otis Skinner, actress.

CHICAGO DEFENSE GROUP PLANNED TO GET WAR WORK

Mayor Wants Facts on City's Industries.

Mayor Kelly announced last night that within the next few days he will appoint a Chicago defense commission and assign to it two definite tasks—to analyze the metropolitan area's capacity to produce for national defense and to persuade officials in Washington to award contracts here.

"The plan is to have this body composed of business, civic, and labor leaders," the mayor said. "The Association of Commerce and other groups will be asked to coöperate. We want to have real facts about our abilities to lay before the proper officials when we ask for our share of the defense awards."

Finds State Not Badly Treated.

He indicated his belief that Illinois has not been so badly treated in contracts already signed as the bare figures indicate.

[The mayor referred to a chart appearing in yesterday's Tribune showing that Illinois was 13th in defense contracts made between June 1 and Nov. 1. On a per capita basis Illinois' share of the value of contracts awarded would have been three times what the state has received.]

"Seaboard states seem to be getting an undue proportion now," the mayor said, "but this is because many of the contracts are for navy work. Then, too, some large corporations are sending in bids from eastern states, which makes it appear those states are favored, while in reality much of the work will be done in the firms' midwestern plants.

Able to Do More.

"Also, I think it will be found that Chicago factories are getting a big share of the work in sublettings. But we want to be prepared to show that we can and should produce more. An active committee will be able to do a great deal along this line."

The mayor added that he hoped large contracts for foodstuffs, particularly meats and canned goods for the troops soon to go into barracks, can be obtained for Chicago companies.

British Admiralty Issues Appeal for More Officers

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP).—The British admiralty today appealed for officers to expand the naval forces. It asked for applications by mercantile officers, engineers, yachting men, civilian air pilots, executives, former naval officers, and physicians and dentists.

Soviet Children, 9 to 15, to Engage in War Games

MOSCOW, Dec. 11 (AP). — Soviet school children from 9 to 15 years old will engage in vast war games with wooden rifles, machine guns, and cannon in their winter vacation, it was announced today.

BRITON CALLS FOR A CO-OPERATIVE, POLICED WORLD

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP).—Home Secretary Herbert Morrison, in a speech that amounted to a reply to Adolf Hitler's oral attack yesterday on the "have" nations, today envisioned a coöperative post-war world "guaranteed by an international police air force." By implication, however, he rejected any hope of peace in a world dominated by Nazi Germany.

"I see no reasonable hope of freedom from horrors of war until we can achieve the deliberate mobilization of our economic resources under a coöperative international plan," Morrison said.

"There must be no private monopoly, if monopolies there be. They must serve the state. We must look forward to a society that is rid of the twin pests of extreme riches and extreme poverty."

Belgrade Hears Reports of Labor Riots in Austria

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, Dec. 11.—Labor disturbances in Austria have been reported recently, reliable neutral sources said today. A strike in a large factory near Vienna led to the calling out of troops, it was declared, and 17 persons were arrested and an unknown number shot. Workers were said to have objected to working 13 hours a day and to have resented a call to work on at least one Sunday.

ITALIAN TROOPS SLOW UP GREEK DRIVE IN NORTH

Athens Claims Rapid Gain on Southern Front.

ATHENS, Dec. 12 Thursday (AP).—Continued advances in southern Albania were claimed for Greek forces early today but in the north, a spokesman indicated, picked Italian troops had succeeded in slowing the Greek offensive.

On their extreme left, north of fallen Argyrokastron and Porto Edda, the spokesman said, the Greeks pushed ahead without even rearguard action from an enemy retreating toward the Chimara heights.

On snow covered battle grounds of the north and central sections fierce fighting with heavy losses to the counterattacking Italians was said to have failed to halt the Greeks.

[Dispatches from Ochvida, Jugo-Slavia, said the Italians had wiped out minor Greek gains northwest of Maschapolis and west of Pogradetz, one of the first important Italian bases captured by the Greeks.]

Meet Stubborn Resistance.

Italian resistance in the Premet region of the central sector was described as "very stubborn," but the Greeks were said to have occupied strategic heights in their drive toward Elbasan.

"More to the north, the enemy was thrown back from very strong positions 1,800 meters [about 6,000 feet] high, which the enemy defended seriously," the spokesman said. "So great was the importance of this height that the Italians tried a counterattack with choice troops but they were repelled with serious losses."

Italian reinforcements rushed to this battle area by plane were forced back at times by fire from Fascist machine gun nests seized by the Greeks, Athens reports said.

Greek Reservists to Front.

Earlier the Greek command, declared by a spokesman to be carrying out "important moves which are now in full movement," sent shock troops armed with long knives into battle against the Italians.

These fresh units—dark and reckless men from the Greek island of Crete—were declared in dispatches from the front to have terrified the Fascists with the ferocity of their charges.

The nature of the high command's new maneuver was not explained, but the use of these troops was made known simultaneously with a disclosure that Greek reservists who had been living in Turkey were now en route to the front.

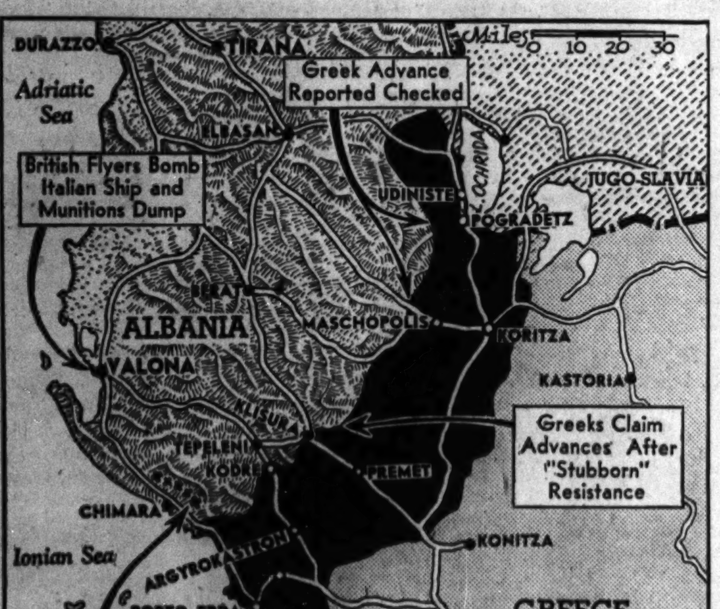
Greek dispatches said that the continuing bad weather and the activities of the British air force had knocked the Italian airdromes in Albania substantially out of action for the time being.

The British themselves announced a new raid on Valona, an Italian supply port on the Albanian coast, in which it was declared that a ship in the harbor, a munitions dump, and some buildings were hit.

Every British plane participating was reported to have got away safely.

Italians Retard Greek Advance

(Story in adjoining column.)



Captions indicate important developments in Greek-Italian war in Albania, where Greeks admit their advance on the northern front has been retarded.

SOVIET ARMY IN WEST WARNED THAT IT MUST ALWAYS BE ON GUARD

MOSCOW, Dec. 11 (AP).—Gen. G. K. Zhukov, commander of the Kiev military district, today told a communist party conference that the Red army in the western border area should stay constantly mobilized "so that no tricks of foreign enemies can catch us unprepared."

Urging intensive work to increase the soviet defensive capacity, he said: "We shall educate our fighters always to feel the deepest hatred and contempt for an enemy, no matter how he is disguised."

The soviet press published Adolf Hitler's address briefly and without comment. Pravda gave it 46 lines on the back page. Prime Minister Winston Churchill's speech of yesterday was published at the same length just below Hitler's.

Turks See End of Threat; Country's Blackout Ends

ANKARA, Turkey, Dec. 11 (AP).—Evidence that the Turkish government is confident that spreading of the Balkan war has been averted for the present was seen in an order, effective tonight, canceling the nationwide blackout in effect for weeks.

DE GAULLE FORCE AIDS IN CAPTURE OF SIDI BARRANI

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP).—Headquarters of the "Free French" forces of Gen. Charles De Gaulle announced tonight that French units had fought with the British in the capture of Sidi Barrani, Egypt, from the Italians.

"We have taken a number of prisoners and war materials," it was added.

At the frontier of Italian Libya and the French territory of Chad, which lies to the south, "Free French" forces were declared to have "completely occupied a zone of French territory which should have been evacuated under the armistice terms."

This area was no more precisely located.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

A GREEK CAPTAIN AND ONE SOLDIER OCCUPY KEY CITY

Reveal Italians Fled from Base Without Fight.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE GREEK TROOPS IN ARGYROKASTRON, Dec. 9 [Passed by military censor, delayed].—Argyrokastron today [Monday] is celebrating the return of Greek rule after 19 years of separation. On Wednesday a formal ceremony of swearing allegiance to King George II. of Greece will be held.

Today a group of men who handed the city over to the Greeks told me how a young Greek captain with a single evzone soldier [mountaineer] occupied Argyrokastron at 10:45 o'clock yesterday morning [Sunday].

Capt. Constantin Apadjococbu rode into town with his soldier-chauffeur and took possession in the king's name. An hour and a half later one company of infantry arrived in trucks to complete the occupation.

Mayor Goes with Italians.

The pro-Fascist mayor fled with the Italians, who left Argyrokastron at midnight on Dec. 7 without a fight. Only 25 of the town's 13,000 population elected to leave with the Italians.

The mayor was replaced by a committee composed of the Greek Orthodox Bishop Pantelelmon, a Mohammedan mufti, Halid Itsito, and three laymen who sent word to the Greeks that the city was theirs for the taking. When the Greek captain rode up, they met him, fêted him, and the town once again was Greek.

The Italians first evacuated the town hastily on the night of Nov. 28 as the Greeks approached, and then returned on Nov. 29 when the Greeks paused for mopping up operations. Saturday at midnight they left for good.

The fighting left the ancient town untouched to the delight of the Greeks. The 14th century Venetian fortress which gave the town its present name, meaning silver castle, still towers atop a hill in the center of the community.

The important part of Argyrokastron's fall is not the five tanks captured nor the quantities of other arms, nor even the ground gained, but the boost to Greek morale, which was already high. Argyrokastron is the capital of northern Epirus, a province Greece lost to Albania by the London conference in 1921. Wednesday's ceremony implies for the Greeks not merely the taking over of Argyrokastron, but the return of the lost province of nothern Epirus to Greece.

Fail to Blow Up Bridge.

For several days Greek cavalry scouts had been able to reach the first houses of the town clustered on a steep hill, but Italian machine guns on the heights prevented their further advance. When the Italians finally pulled out, they went so hastily they did not even blow up the bridge which was the only approach by road.

Greeks said one of the heaviest battles of the war occurred only 10 miles to the east of Argyrokastron on Nov. 27.

The battle went on for four days, and at times the fighting was so close that machine gun and rifle fire could be heard.

Two thousand Italians lost their lives before the Fascists retreated, it was said.

HITLER BOMBERS RETURN TO NIGHT RAIDS ON LONDON

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP).—German bombs fell upon London tonight for the first time in two days and nights, at the end of the longest lull since the beginning of the air siege. This broke a calm which, save for an alarm caused by the appearance of two reconnaissance planes before dawn today, had existed since early Monday.

Other raiders in waves smashed heavily at a west Midlands town. Several other west Midlands areas, Liverpool, a northwest town and another in the southwest also were under attack. One town in East Anglia was bombed during the day.

Bad weather on the continent had given Britain a respite and likewise had limited British operations against enemy bases in Germany and occupied France. The air ministry reported, however, that R. A. F. flyers last night bombed railway junctions, airdromes, a power plant and docks in German held territory.

NAZIS BAR U. S. DIPLOMAT FROM TRAVEL IN REICH

ROME, Dec. 11 (AP).—The German government has refused a visa to Edward L. Reed, counselor of the United States embassy in Rome, who desired to return to the United States by way of Germany, a reliable source disclosed today. Reed, who has been transferred to Washington, D. C., was told at the German embassy that the Nazi government "preferred that he not go thru Germany," it was said. He had planned to go to Stuttgart to take a plane next Monday for Lisbon, Portugal.

THOSE WHO 'EAT OUT' IN BRITAIN FACE FOOD CURB

Extension of Rationing, Price Control Seen.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 11.—Extension of food rationing and price control regulations was foreshadowed in parliament and the press today. Maj. Gwilym Lloyd George, son of the world war prime minister, David Lloyd George, and parliamentary secretary of the board of trade, told the house of commons that people "eating out" soon may have to surrender coupons for rationed food consumed. He said the practice of eating in hotels, restaurants, and workers' canteens has been extended considerably since the last war.

[The British are not required to use ration coupons to purchase meals in restaurants, altho the size of the meals available has been reduced, due to periodic shortages of certain foods.]

Study 'Ersatz' Marmalade.

In addition to new rationing measures, the government was reported considering extending the price control system to cover all grades of fish. Fish prices have increased enormously in Britain in recent months. There have been widespread complaints against profiteering.

Because of a shortage of sugar, experiments are being carried out to produce "ersatz" marmalade by substituting carrots for sweetening.

The transport ministry announced the government is considering a one-day ban on railway passenger traffic to clear the lines for a concentrated delivery of coal to London. There has been widespread criticism of coal shortages, particularly in 17 districts on the outskirts of London, which, according to The Evening News, were "victims of the coal famine during the Arctic weather last winter."

Food Situation 'Grim.'

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP).—Britain's food situation "today is just as grim as when Mr. Lloyd George [the world war prime minister] started his intensive food production campaign in 1917" [when the British Isles came perilously close to starvation], R. S. Hudson, minister of agriculture, told a farmers' meeting here today.

He said the British navy's task of defeating the German counterblockade of submarines and bombers now is "doubly or trebly" as difficult as in the world war.

Hudson said farm labor would have to contribute to the steadily increasing demands of the armed services and additional labor would have to be provided by women.

In the house of lords Lord Strabolgi, Labor peer, said the convoy system, modeled after that employed in the world war, needs overhauling.

Lord Woolton, minister of food, took a more optimistic view, telling a party meeting that Britain "has satisfactory stocks of wheat and other commodities" as well as a two year supply of coffee.

Dies in Pact

[Associated Press Photo.]

PEARL HARRELSON.

Eldorado, Ill., Dec. 11 (AP).—An inquest will be held Thursday in the deaths of the 'teen aged Eldorado couple found asphyxiated in an automobile near this city yesterday.

The victims, Pearl Harrelson, 15, high school sophomore, and her 18 year old sweetheart, Charles Tate, were found by two of her uncles who were rabbit hunting. A garden hose had been fastened to the exhaust pipe and it led thru an opening in the rear of the car so the other end was near their heads as they sat in the front seat.

Deputy Coroner Riley Belt described their deaths as a "perfect suicide" pact, but he asserted no motive had been discovered by investigating officers.

WARNS BRITONS WILL DIE IF NAZI VICTIMS ARE FED

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP).—Ronald Cross, minister of shipping, tonight said in a broadcast to the United States that food could be sent to people now under German rule "only at the cost of the lives of British men, women, and children."

The choice, he said is between "their stomachs or our lives," and added, "We put the lives of our own people first."

"Germany has got to feed these people," he continued, "because it suits the German book that they should be fed, but it would suit Germany far better that somebody else should undertake the task and leave Germany with a greater margin of foodstuffs for her own use. And the greater the margin of foodstuffs at Germany's disposal, the longer she can carry on the war."

SHOOTS FELLOW EMPLOYE.

Winchester, Ind., Dec. 11 [Special].—William Monroe, 42 years old, an employé of the Anchor-Hocking Glass factory here, today shot and seriously wounded Charles Herriford, 26, a fellow employé, with a 12 gauge shotgun and told Ben Yost, his foreman: "Call the law and an ambulance. No man can wreck my home as long as I live."

BRITAIN RUSHES BILL TO PAY FOR CIVILIAN LOSSES

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 11.—The long awaited war damage bill was presented to parliament today by Capt. H. F. C. Crookshank, financial secretary of the treasury. The bill is to be rushed thru parliament. It provides for compulsory insurance for all private property and is retroactive to Sept. 1, 1939. The bill amounted in effect to a five year annual tax of ½ of 1 per cent on the valuation of all houses, buildings, premises, and factories in the country.

The value of buildings to be insured was estimated between about 24 and 32 billion dollars. It was provisionally calculated the premiums would yield about $800,000,000 in five years, but the premiums collected in that period only insure property until Aug. 31 next year, when further legislation is contemplated.

Treasury to Share Cost.

If total compensation claims exceed that figure, the exchequer [treasury] will meet the excess up to $800,000,000. If the total damage exceeds $1,600,000,000, the government will continue to meet the 50 per cent additional excess and make up the difference by increasing the premiums and rates.

Other bills covering public utilities, railways, highways, and life insurance [death and injury] were promised shortly. There already is a special scheme insuring warehouses and commodity stocks.

The new insurance bill means a proportionate boost in rents and mortgage charges, as British usage permits landlords and building societies to pass on charges of this kind to tenants and mortgagees. Churches and chapels will not be required to pay premiums.

Furnishings Not Included.

The bill does not include furnishings or other personal chattels which are still on a voluntary basis and insurable at the rate of 1½ per cent annually. A compulsory premium for a house valued at $4,000 will cost about $20 yearly.

The bill also provides a compulsory scheme of insurance for all movable assets of business undertakings—plant, machinery, office and shop equipment.

On agricultural properties and land used for recreation, the contribution rate is reduced to 25 per cent of the normal rate.

The building damage bill is expected to make possible new construction on modern lines.

JAMES H. DURFEE DIES.

Decatur, Ill., Dec. 11 [Special].—James H. Durfee, 57, secretary of the Mutual Home and Savings association since 1916, died today. He worked for the Wabash railroad as assistant ticket agent here and also in Springfield before returning to the insurance business.

DUTCH AROUSED BY NAZI BAN ON NAME OF QUEEN

References to Wilhelmina in Textbooks Barred.

AMSTERDAM [via Berlin], Dec. 11 (AP).—The purging of all references to Queen Wilhelmina in Dutch schoolbooks has caused such reaction in Holland that it was necessary today for Dr. J. Van Dam, the new secretary general of education, to broadcast an appeal for calm.

A number of books containing speeches and pictures of the Queen and other members of the House of Orange were withdrawn from the schools in a formal campaign to wipe out patriotic propaganda for the exiled ruling family and require that these subjects be handled from a strictly historical point of view.

Asks for End of Strikes.

Dr. Van Dam urged pupils to end political disputes even when there is a serious difference of opinion, and also directed an appeal for calm to students who engaged in protest strikes against the dismissal of Jewish professors, strikes which resulted in the Germans closing the universities of Leyden and Delft, and the fixing of an earlier Christmas vacation date for students at Amsterdam university.

New rules issued for the withdrawal or revision of school texts prescribe: No offense to the German reich, army, or people, and no propaganda for Marxism, the league of nations, Queen Wilhelmina, or the House of Orange.

The singing of the national anthem "Wilhelmus" is forbidden.

Pictures of the queen, however, still hang in school rooms and most of the Dutch public buildings.

Some Still Back Queen.

The agitation is emphasized by the deep differences of opinion, especially between the National Socialist groups on one side and the older people who are still warm-hearted toward the exiled family and its traditions.

Dr. Van Dam's program includes improvement in teaching the Dutch language, exchange in teaching methods between Germany and Holland, and improvement in teaching the German language and culture.

He also promised more emphasis to sports, popular in Germany's educational system but hitherto neglected in the Dutch curriculum.

Marquis in U.S.

The Marquis Guy de la Roche, French cavalry officer, with wife and son, Claude, 2, when he arrived in New York yesterday on Spanish liner Magallanes. He told of capture by Germans and later escape.

HUNDREDS SLAIN AS REBELLIONS GRIP INDO-CHINA

French Execute Natives; Uprisings Continue.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HONGKONG, Dec. 11.—Serious native uprisings have taken place in northern and southern French Indo-China, it was learned today, and hundreds of natives have been executed by French legionnaires for possessing arms.

Authorities sent a punitive expedition of French Foreign legionnaires to Langson, north of Hanoi, to quell a revolt in which the natives were killing Frenchmen and pillaging houses.

More than 400 natives in Cochin China, of which Saigon, in southern Indo-China, is the capital, have been executed. The uprisings, which it is charged were inspired by the Japanese, continue unabated. The natives are armed with French weapons they are alleged to have received from the Japanese.

Move by Japan Feared.

MANILA, P. I., Dec. 11.—French Indo-China is fighting to put down native uprisings lest they give Japan an excuse to move into the south, according to uncensored statements brought here today by travelers.

[Domei, Japanese news agency, said yesterday that Maj. Gen. Raishiro Sumita, head of the Japanese military mission in Indo-China, would go shortly to Saigon to study the situation in "the disturbed region."]

Saigon, with one of the best airfields in the far east, is only four hours by plane from the British naval base at Singapore.

The travelers said the Indo-China administration late in November was combatting the worst native uprisings since 1937. Within a radius of 100 miles of Saigon at least 20 major uprisings, officially attributed to communists, took place in the week ended Nov. 26, with as many as 10,000 natives participating in a single incident. Planes were said to have bombed the rebels.

Two hundred natives were reported lined up and shot at the Saigon airport on Nov. 22.

Border Fights Intensified.

TOKIO, Dec. 11 (AP).—A Domei dispatch from Hanoi, French Indo-China, said today hostilities were being intensified along the border of French Indo-China and Thailand [Siam].

Sabotage Sweeps Syria.

JERUSALEM, Dec. 11 (AP).—Widespread acts of sabotage, centered mainly in France's military establishments thruout the mandated territories of Syria and Lebanon, were reported today to have followed the recent appeal to "free Frenchmen" made by Gen. Charles de Gaulle, leader of the French forces still fighting at Britain's side.

GERMANS WHO GO TO POLAND GIVEN LOWER TAX RATE

Nazis Urge Business Men to Move There.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Dec. 11.—To induce more Germans and German businesses to move to the former Polish territories which have been "reincorporated into the reich" Nazi authorities have reduced drastically the taxes payable in these districts. Whereas every person in Germany proper who earns a minimum of $225 a year must pay income taxes, the new German eastern provinces tax will apply only to those whose income is above $1,200 a year.

No war tax is collected in the eastern provinces, where the head tax, the corporation tax, the real estate tax, and the fortune tax are reduced by between 30 to 50 per cent for Germans.

May Drop Turnover Tax.

In special cases "involving the strengthening of the German elements in the eastern provinces" the Nazi state will not collect the taxes usually levied on the purchase of real estate and may drop the turnover and the inheritance tax.

The reductions granted to German citizens in the eastern provinces will be applied until 1950 to the income tax, the fortune tax, and the inheritance tax. The cuts in the head tax, the real estate purchase tax, the turnover tax, and the real estate tax will be deducted until 1945.

Special Awards for Babies.

The Germans in these regions also will be granted special loans when they marry, special awards if they have children, as well as subsidies to pay for schooling, and to equip their homes if they live in the country and not in cities.

Lest the citizens of the reich complain, Nazi tax specialists have worked out a new tax scale for families with children, granting a tax rebate for the third and following children. Formerly the rebate of $4 a month on the tax bill was granted for every third and following child if the father earned less than $3,200 and the child was under 16 years of age. Now the rebate is granted for every third and following child up to the age of 21 regardless of the income of the parents.

DAIRY IN SKOKIE ENDS FIGHT WITH DRIVERS' UNION

The Cream Crest Farms dairy of Skokie ended its labor dispute with local 753 of the Milk Wagon Drivers' union yesterday when it signed a contract with the union under which its 10 employés become members of the local. Two of the dairy's drivers were assaulted Tuesday and tires on several trucks were slashed. John O'Connor, business agent of the union, who is at liberty on $100 bond on a charge of assault and battery brought by August Van Daele, a driver, is to appear Dec. 19 before Police Magistrate Allen Klein of Winnetka.

Herbert Horton, vice president of the dairy, said that, during the milk strike last April, his firm signed a contract with the union, but repudiated it when the union insisted he discharge drivers who had not been union men. The new contract, he said, eliminated this difficulty.

Henry Weber, president of the union, asserted that no such demand had been made at the time of the former contract. He and O'Connor also denied that there had been assaults on the dairy's drivers or vandalism against its trucks during the dispute just ended.

15 Navy Bombers Leave Honolulu on Secret Hop

HONOLULU, Hawaii, Dec. 11 (AP).—Squadron VP-26, comprising about 15 long range navy patrol bombers, left Pearl Harbor Tuesday for an unannounced destination, it was learned today. Navy officers declined comment, but unofficial sources indicated the planes might be bound for Manila for neutrality patrol duty.

CLAIM HUNDREDS OF POLISH CLERGY JAILED BY NAZIS

Catholic Schools Closed, Vatican Paper Charges.

ROME, Dec. 11.—Many Polish bishops and hundreds of priests are being held in concentration camps in Germany, the Vatican newspaper Osservatore Romano, said in an editorial today. The paper painted a gloomy picture of what it asserted to be the plight of Roman Catholics in German-occupied Poland.

Millions of Catholics, the Vatican organ said, find it difficult to profess the Catholic religion because the German authorities have closed churches in many parishes and arrested the clergy. Moreover, it said, severe restrictions have curtailed drastically the activities of religious institutions, while the Lublin Catholic university and many seminaries and other Catholic schools have been forced to close.

"The bishop of a diocese is exiled from the territory under his jurisdiction while his auxiliary is held in a concentration camp in Germany," the paper said. "Not a few ecclesiastics are in jail. These limitations hamper the normal functioning seminaries and of religious institutions."

"The religious press which once was flourishing is submitted to strong restrictions. Publication of many religious books is prohibited and suspended. There remain a few diocesan bulletins which are submitted to censorship.

"The Polish Catholic Action cannot operate. . . . 'German' Catholics in some places in western Poland have been forbidden to attend religious functions celebrated by Polish priests.

"In those regions live several million Catholics who are facing the gravest religious difficulty. A certain number of churches, including, also, cathedrals, have been closed. Access to many others is permitted for only a few hours on feast days and very few on week days.

"Hundreds upon hundreds of ecclesiastics, both of the lay and regular clergy, have been sent into exile or confined in concentration camps, where not a few have died.

"Many parishes are deprived of the clergy. The priests who have been allowed to remain have not sufficient means of subsistence because they do not receive the salaries which were paid to them by the former Polish republic."

TALK OF IRISH BASES REVIVED AS ULSTER'S PREMIER SEES KING

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP).—Official sources maintained silence today concerning the visit of J. M. Andrews, northern Ireland's new premier, to London, but it was disclosed that he was received by King George and talked with Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Home Secretary Herbert Morrison. It was considered significant that Andrews came to London at a time when Britain would find southern Irish coast bases advantageous in fighting German submarines and planes. It has been suggested that bases might be obtained if an understanding was reached between northern Ireland and Ireland.

Rear Admiral E. J. King to Command Patrol Force

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11 (AP).—The growing place of airpower in naval operations received recognition today when Rear Admiral Ernest J. King, a former chief of the navy's bureau of aeronautics, was ordered to take command of the warships and planes now on guard between the United States and Europe. He will relieve Rear Admiral Hayne Ellis as commander of the patrol force about Dec. 17. Ellis will become a member of the general board.

WAIT ROOSEVELT RETURN TO ACT ON BRITISH LOAN

Jesse Jones Takes View It's Up to Congress.

BY JOHN FISHER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—Any decision on a loan to Great Britain awaits the return of President Roosevelt from his Caribbean cruise, Jesse Jones, secretary of commerce and federal loan administrator, indicated today.

Jones told a press conference that congressional approval would be necessary for a loan to Britain, and since it is an "administration matter" the request cannot be made now because "the administration is away." Asked whether he thought something might happen when "the administration gets back," Jones replied: "Something usually happens, doesn't it?"

Jones at Fiscal Parley.

Jones, the administration's leading money lender, was one of the participants yesterday in a conference of high government officials at which the British financial condition and possible assistance from the United States were discussed. The treasury has received information on British resources and the cost of prosecuting the war from Sir Frederick Phillips, undersecretary of the British treasury, who flew to the United States.

Officials have contended that thus far the British have not requested any specific financial aid, altho Lord Lothian, the British ambassador, has stated bluntly that such assistance must come from the United States. Jones declined to discuss the information which Phillips has provided or the conference at the treasury yesterday.

Tells Latin American Aid.

Jones did announce, however, additional loans to Latin American nations in furtherance of the "good neighbor" policy. The biggest of these, all thru the Export-Import bank, is 60 million dollars to Argentina. This includes an earlier loan of 20 millions which had not been touched and which was incorporated in Argentina's new request.

Argentina also is the beneficiary of 50 million dollars from the 2 billion dollar exchange stabilization fund, as announced last week by the treasury. The deal was made nominally for the purpose of stabilizing the peso but in reality amounted to a loan of dollars to give Argentina needed exchange.

Taking cognizance of reports to the contrary, Jones said that the Export-Import bank loan negotiations with an Argentine financial mission in this country had not included a discussion of Argentine credits to Great Britain.

British Position Explained.

Great Britain is a leading market for Argentine foodstuffs, which are competitive in the American market. By getting credits from Argentina, the British could save their cash for war purchases in the United States, altho in reality the United States would be financing the arrangement.

When Jones was asked whether United States loans to South American countries would aid Britain indirectly, he replied:

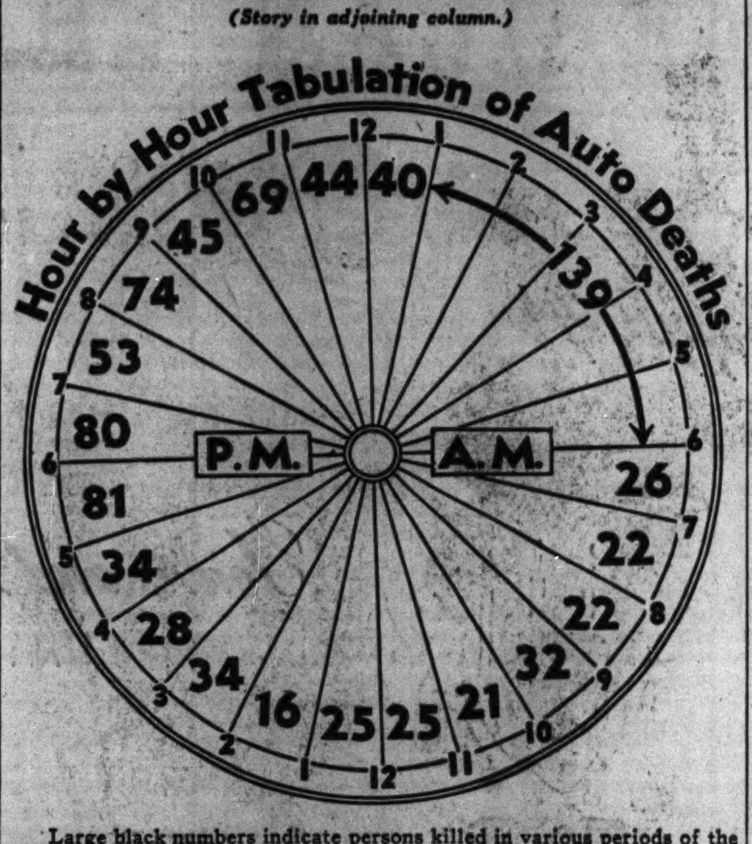
"I do not know enough about the affairs between South American countries and the British to be able to answer that intelligently. Our loans are to aid them in making purchases here."

In addition to the Argentine loan from the Export-Import bank, Jones said that Uruguay is the recipient of a loan for 7½ million dollars, including an old unused loan of 4 millions.

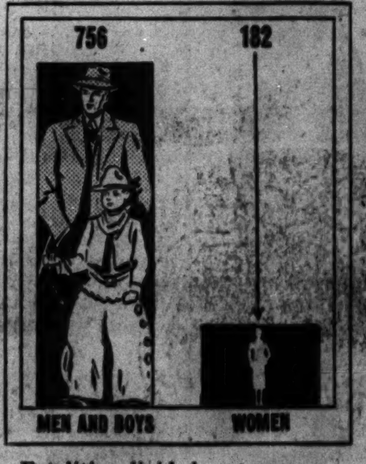
Discussions also are under way, Jones said, for a 50 million dollar loan to Cuba, and a loan of an undisclosed amount to Peru. The Reconstruction Finance corporation, thru its Metals Reserve corporation, is negotiating for purchases of Chilean nitrate and also copper from any country that can supply it, Jones asserted.

Coroner Analyzes Auto Death Figures

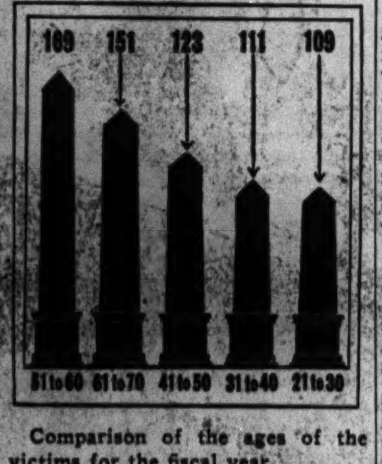
(Story in adjoining column.)



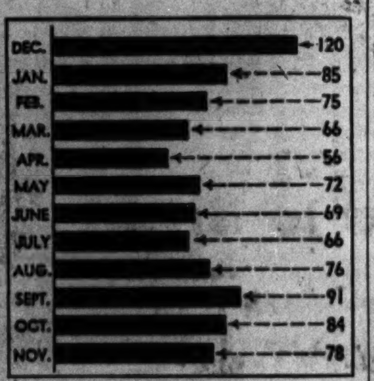
Large black numbers indicate persons killed in various periods of the day and night in traffic accidents in Cook county, based on annual report of coroner for the year ending Nov. 30.



Fatalities divided as to sex.



Comparison of the ages of the victims for the fiscal year.



The number of traffic fatalities by month in the county.

WOMAN INJURED FATALLY BY AUTO ON SOUTH SIDE

Mrs. Emma Duncan Walling, 61 years old, was fatally injured last night when she was struck by an automobile at 62d street and Woodlawn avenue. She lived at 6137 Woodlawn avenue. The driver, Harry M. Gaither, 40, colored, of 471 East 41st street, was held for the inquest.

An unidentified woman, about 50 years old, was killed last night by a hit and run automobile at Milwaukee avenue and Paulina street. Police are trying to trace the driver thru broken bits of headlight glass. The victim wore a brown print dress, a maroon sweater, and a black coat and hat. The body was taken to undertaking rooms at 1462 North Ashland avenue.

An unidentified man was fatally injured by an automobile at Peterson and Pulaski roads last night. The victim, about 40, died in Swedish Covenant hospital. The automobile driver was Elmer L. Exler, 1219 Winnemac avenue, a butcher.

Arthur W. Dun, 65, a truck driver, was fatally injured last night when he was struck in front of his home at 833 Cass street, Joliet, by a car driven by Paul Bachmann, 19, of New Lenox, Will county.

Thomas Bruhn, 21 years old, 2637 Crawford avenue, Evanston, a gas station attendant, died yesterday in the Evanston hospital of injuries incurred last Sunday when the car he was driving skidded into a cement culvert on Glenview road about half a mile west of Skokie highway in Wilmette.

AIRPORT WORKER FREED IN HIT AND RUN DEATH CASE

Howard Reinlie, 23 years old, 5514 North Mango avenue, an employé at Curtiss-Reynolds airport, Glenview, was freed of a manslaughter charge by Judge Leon Edelman in Felony court Tuesday in connection with the hit and run death of John Gerdes, 54, it was learned yesterday.

Gerdes, a janitor who lived at 1919 Cuyler avenue, was struck at Lincoln and Irving Park avenues, on Nov. 3. He died Nov. 27. Reinlie, arrested last Saturday by police who had been given his license number by a witness, denied striking Gerdes. He was discharged when the evidence against him proved unsubstantial.

FIND DANGER AGE IN COUNTY AUTO TOLL IS OVER 50

Coroner Reports Total of 938 Deaths in Year.

Almost half of the persons killed in Cook county automobile accidents in the last year were more than 50 years old, Coroner A. L. Brodie reported yesterday in his report of traffic fatalities for the year ending Nov. 30.

The total death toll for the year was 938, an increase of 14 over the preceding year. The most dangerous 10 year age span for the victims was from 51 to 60. In this group 169 were killed. In the age group from 61 to 70, 151 were killed, and 113 of the victims were over 70. Thus 433 of the 938 victims were more than 50 years old.

Of those killed 756 were boys and men, 182 were women. Of the drivers involved in the fatalities 786 were men, only 29 were women. The identity and sex of 123 of the drivers were unknown.

Ages of Drivers Shown.

As in previous years the statistics showed that the majority of drivers in fatal accidents were between 21 and 40 years old, with the highest concentration in the ages from 21 to 30. Of the drivers 136 were between 26 and 30, 121 were from 21 to 25, 110 were from 31 to 35, and 91 were from 36 to 40.

Chicago accounted for 703 of the deaths and 235 occurred in the rest of the county. Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 820 persons had been killed by automobile accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 598 were killed in Chicago, where 22,505 were injured in traffic accidents during the same period.

The coroner's report showed that 572 of the victims were pedestrians. Others killed were 165 occupants of cars, 177 drivers, and 24 riding in vehicles other than automobiles. Sunday continued as the most hazardous day with 173 deaths, closely followed by Friday with 166 and Saturday with 161.

December Is Worst Month.

December, 1939, was the worst month with 120 fatalities; September had 91; January, 85, and October, 84. April with 56 deaths had the fewest.

The tabulation of deaths by months:

December	120	June	69
January	85	July	66
February	75	August	76
March	66	September	91
April	56	October	84
May	72	November	78

The hour from 5 to 6 p. m. was the deadliest period, with 81 deaths, while 80 were killed from 6 to 7. Hour by hour, the following table shows when the deaths occurred:

A. M.—		2 to 3	34
12 to 1	40	3 to 4	28
1 to 6	139	4 to 5	34
6 to 7	26	5 to 6	81
7 to 8	22	6 to 7	80
8 to 9	22	7 to 8	53
9 to 10	32	8 to 9	74
10 to 11	21	9 to 10	45
11 to 12	25	10 to 11	69
P. M.—		11 to 12	44
12 to 1	25	Unknown	28
1 to 2	16

Anthony C. Prusinski, chief deputy coroner, said the figures showed that an extra hour of daylight at the end of the day during May, June, July, August, and September, when daylight saving time is in effect, saved lives.

During those months 20 persons were killed from 5 to 6 p. m., compared with 61 fatalities in that hour during the other seven months. From 6 to 7 o'clock there were 16 deaths during the daylight saving period, compared with 64 in the other months.

SLAYER OF GIRL, 8, TO MAKE PLEA FOR MERCY TODAY

The board of pardons and paroles in Springfield will hear an application this morning for the commutation of the execution of Robert Schroeder, 26 years old, who is scheduled to die in the electric chair at 12:01 a. m. tomorrow for the bludgeon slaying of Maizie Smith, 8. She was killed July 18 in the basement of a tavern at 2850 North Central avenue, where Schroeder worked as a porter. He was convicted by a Criminal court jury. Public Defender Benjamin Bachrach will support the application before the board, while Assistant State's Attorney Irwin Clorfene will oppose it.

Public Utility Employes Give Chest Fund $158,724

Merle J. Trees, chairman of the 1940 Community Fund campaign, yesterday announced that employés of the public utilities in Chicago, the workers themselves, as distinguished from the companies, have contributed $158,724 to the fund.

CAPE COD'S NEW ARMY CAMP HAS CHINK IN ARMOR

Bridges to Mainland Are Vulnerable Targets.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Falmouth, Mass., Dec. 11.—Cape Cod usually boards up its resort rooming houses, taverns, and hot dog joints against the nor'east gales right after Labor day, but not so this year. This winter the cape is enjoying a whopper of an off season boom.

Camp Edwards, a cantonment to house 30,000 troops of the 26th or Yankee division, Massachusetts National Guard, is the reason. Work was started Sept. 16 on this huge military reservation among the scrub oaks and stunted pines near Falmouth.

Cost Estimate Is Short.

At the start, Camp Edwards was to have cost 7 million dollars. Now the estimate is 19 millions. One week the construction pay roll hit $952,000, which gives an idea of the prosperity which has fallen from the winter skies into the laps of the cape residents garrisoning the resort outposts during cold weather.

But cost is a minor consideration with the government. The contract was let to the Walsh Construction company of Davenport, Ia., on a fixed fee basis and Walsh was told to build the camp as rapidly as possible. The government pays all the bills. What Walsh will get as a fee for the 19 million dollar job is a military secret.

Vulnerable to Attack.

One major problem confronting the camp would be the difficulty of transporting troops and supplies in and out of the area during wartime. There are only two bridges, both high and extremely vulnerable to air attack, leading from the mainland over the Cape Cod canal. Pontoon bridges, army experts admit, would be out of the question because of the swift tidal currents thru the canal.

At present the bridges constitute a traffic problem of major magnitude because 6,000 workmen's cars pass over them twice each day.

Work Is Behind Schedule.

Camp Edwards is about six weeks behind schedule. There are 1,122 buildings under construction today with a required goal of 1,306. It looks now as tho the troops will move into the reservation about the middle of January.

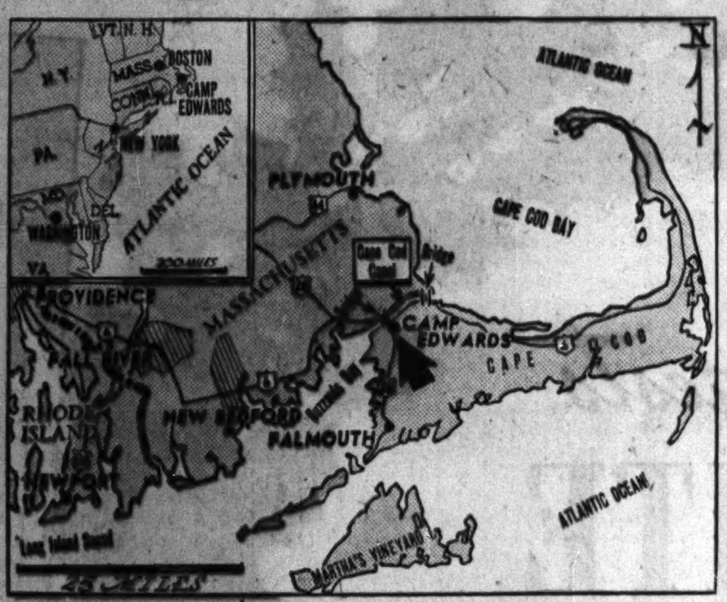
Some officers have expressed concern over fire hazards. The camp will have five fire stations.

Labor troubles have plagued Camp Edwards since its inception. One problem has been shortages of labor. Eleven thousand carpenters were needed several weeks ago.

However, the carpenters' union in New Bedford, 32 miles away, enjoyed jurisdiction in the area and charged a membership fee of $75, which many unemployed carpenters were unable to pay. Union officials finally relaxed the rules to the extent that each new member could pay $25 down and the remainder in weekly instalments.

Cape Cod Enjoys a Winter Boom

(Story in adjoining column.)



Arrow indicates location of Camp Edwards on Cape Cod, where barracks to house 30,000 troops are being built at an estimated cost of 19 million dollars. There are only two bridges across the Cape Cod canal to the mainland, providing a transportation problem. Both would be highly vulnerable to air attack in time of war. The small map shows location in relation to surrounding states.

BEGIN TRAINING SKI TROOPS ON MOUNT RANIER

Mount Ranier National Park, Wash., Dec. 11 (AP).—The army's newest offensive arm—ski troopers who will wear reversible green and white gabardine clothing to camouflage themselves in trees or snow—began full time operations today on the nation's third highest mountain.

Eighteen veteran skiers, picked from the third division for specialized training, went out in sub-freezing weather on their first ski patrol.

For the next three months, the ski troops will range this peak, 14,408 feet high, perfecting their technique, learning snow warfare and mastering the art of concealment.

While the third division soldiers will be at their wooden mountain barracks full-time until the next select group arrives Feb. 20, ski troops organized from the National Guard's 41st division, now in training at Camp Murray, will commute to the mountain one day each week for snow warfare instruction.

CHARGES I AM CULT WARPS HIS CHILDREN'S LIVES

Charges were made yesterday before Judge Rudolph Desort that two children were being prevented from leading normal lives because of their attendance in the I Am cult school in the Auditorium hotel.

The statement was made by Attorney R. C. Schnell, who filed a petition in behalf of Policeman Howard Meissner, 43 years old, for custody of the latter's children, Robert 6, and Cary, 5. Meissner's wife, Josephine, 40, won the children in a divorce decree issued last year and Meissner has been paying $68 monthly support money.

When Schnell told the court the board of education had investigated the cult school, Judge Desort issued a subpena for the board report and directed that the children be brought into court this afternoon. Schnell told Judge Desort the children had been in the I Am school since last Sept. 24.

CHARGE 'I AM' HAD 'REAL' PORTRAITS OF JESUS ON SALE

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 11 [Special].—Testimony was produced in the court of Federal Judge Leon R. Yankwich today to show that the late Guy W. Ballard and other leaders of the Great I Am cult offered "real and authentic portraits" of Jesus and St. Germain to the public at $2 each.

Ballard's widow, Edna; her son, Donald, and eight other members of the sect are on trial for using the mails to defraud. A jury must determine whether they were actuated by real religious sentiments in making their claims, or by commercial greed.

Today's principal witness was Max Gysi, a retired eastern banker who met the Ballards in Boston in 1935, financed their movement to the extent of $600, and later became their business manager. He told of the Ballards, at Christmas time, handing him a letter purporting to come direct from St. Germain in the "outer world," and expressing the hope they would soon meet face to face. Gysi said Ballard told him St. Germain hadn't sent any one else so personal a Christmas message.

St. Germain, in the theological claims made by the Ballards, was an "ascended being" who delivered his messages to earthlings thru Ballard himself, who wrote them out in red or purple ink on a typewriter.

DAIRY EMPLOYES RENAME BERNIER UNION PRESIDENT

August Bernier was reëlected president of local 754 of the Dairy Employés' union in a meeting last night in Car Men's hall, Ashland boulevard and Van Buren street. Also reëlected were Jack Cameron, vice president, and Frank J. Gillespie, secretary and treasurer. The terms are for five years. At another meeting on Dec. 20 at 220 South Ashland boulevard, the union, which is made up of inside dairy workers, will elect a recording secretary and three trustees. The present trustees, Fritz Nieding, Otto Debs, and Charles Flanagan, are seeking reëlection.

LAG IN DEFENSE FORCES ARMY TO REVISE QUOTAS

Clothing, Housing Lacking for Month's Draft.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—The war department is engaged in a downward revision of its schedules for the induction of National Guardsmen and draftees into the army.

Army officers frankly confessed that the schedules drawn up before and after the draft have collapsed and that the war department will not be able to reach its goal of a standing army of 1,200,000 officers and men, known officially as the protective mobilization force, as rapidly as had been hoped.

The war department expected to be between 50,000 and 100,000 men behind the revised schedule by Feb. 1. This would put the army somewhere in the neighborhood of 250,000 behind its original schedules, drawn before the draft.

Hope to Reach Goal June 30.

Officers said they still have hopes of reaching the goal of 1,400,000 men in training by June 30 to provide the protective army of 1,200,000. They said the delay might be confined to the early months of the year and that the department might be able to catch up before the fiscal year ends.

The present revision on which the war department is busy is necessitated by failure of the defense program to provide military essentials according to schedule.

The army lacks not only arms and ammunition for such a force but housing facilities and all items of equipment down to shoestrings. The army lacks barracks and tent camps to house the men. It lacks uniforms, shoes, and other items of clothing.

To speed construction of barracks and other army buildings the war department today transferred part of the burden of construction from the Quartermaster corps to the army engineers.

Burden Transferred.

Another pressing deficiency is in competent officers. The army plans to order an additional 20,000 reserve officers to active duty to help train and organize the new army, but many of these will have to be schooled to their duties.

The schedule called for the induction of 34,000 Guardsmen between Nov. 18 and 25 and 126,000 between Jan. 3 and 19. The latter group was to include the 33d division of Illinois guardsmen.

On Nov. 22, the war department announced it had been forced to defer the induction of the 35th division, which is composed of Kansas, Nebraska, and Missouri Guardsmen, until Dec. 23.

Under the revised schedule the induction of the 35th division will probably be put off until after the Christmas season. The army reluctantly confessed that the induction of the 33d division will also have to be postponed because its quarters at Camp Peay, Tennessee, are not ready.

The December call for 60,000 men has been deferred. Officers admit they have no place to put the men.

Dog Gives Alarm

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Rose Jones, owner, with Rex, dog which awakened people when fire started in apartment building.

Barking by Rex, a 2½ year old dog, awakened his master and mistress and enabled them to warn 50 other tenants when fire broke out in a three story apartment building at 6318-20 Drexel avenue yesterday. All the residents escaped to the street.

The dog's owners, Wynn Jones, 36 years old, and his wife, Rose, called the fire department.

Marshal Thomas Gaffney of the 5th division said the blaze started under the rear porches and spread upward thru apartments at the back of the building. He estimated the damage at $2,000.

NEW RECRUITING OFFICE FOR NAVY AIR PILOTS OPENS

A new flight selection board has been formed here by the Navy department and a recruiting office for student air pilots set up in the Naval reserve armory at the foot of Randolph street.

The board is headed by Lieut. Carl G. Olson, U. S. N. Other members are Lieutenant Commander Paul R. Huber, U. S. N. R., and Lieut. [junior grade] Howard C. Piper, both of whom are in the medical service. The board will interview applicants as to their educational requirements and physical condition. Those accepted will be sent to the naval reserve aviation base at Curtiss-Reynolds airport, Glenview, where they will be given a month's training, including 10 or 11 hours of flight.

Students passing this preliminary training will be sent to the naval training bases at Pensacola, Fla., or Jacksonville, Fla. Prospective naval aviators are being given primary training at 13 reserve bases thruout the country, the department announced.

BOY CYCLIST KILLED BY CAR.

Charleston, Ill., Dec. 11 [Special].—Arthur Courtney, 16 year old Charleston High school student, was killed last night when he was hit by an automobile while riding a bicycle on route 16 near this city. The car was driven by J. M. Risk, Mattoon oil operator.

U. S. AND CANADA REACH ACCORD ON AIR LINE SYSTEM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—The state department today announced consummation of a formal agreement between the United States and Canada for reciprocal operation of air lines connecting the two countries.

The agreement confirms an air transport pact entered into by the countries on Aug. 18, 1939, and recommended for adoption by aeronautical authorities of both nations at a conference in Ottawa last September.

Existing international air lines now operate between Montreal and New York [Canadian Colonial], Montreal and Boston [Northeast Airlines], Winnipeg and Fargo, N. D. [Northwest Airlines], and between Vancouver and Seattle, Wash. [Trans-Canada Air Lines and United Air Lines]. These operations are to continue.

Nonstop Route Approved.

Chief of the new international air routes authorized will be a nonstop service between Toronto and New York to be operated by Trans-Canada Airlines. A service between Buffalo, N. Y., and Toronto will be operated by a United States line still to be named.

A new air service also will be operated between Bangor, Me., and Moncton, N. B., where it will connect with Trans-Canada Airlines and Canadian Airways. This service will be operated by Northeastern Airlines.

Another new service is one to be operated by a United States carrier between Great Falls, Mont., and Lethbridge, Alta., where it will connect with Trans-Canada Airlines.

May Be Chicago Connection.

A United States line was authorized to install service between Windsor, Ont., and some point or points in this country which probably will provide a connection with Chicago and the midwestern states.

Trans-Canada Airlines was authorized to extend its Toronto-Windsor service to Detroit but at present no steps along this line are contemplated.

The Canadian government agreed to coöperate with the American government in establishing aids to navigation on the coast of British Columbia which will benefit the United States air line to Alaska as well as Canadian airways. Consideration of further routes to Alaska was postponed.

Provide for Revision.

This arrangement, resulting from the exchange of notes dated Nov. 29, 1940, will remain in effect until Dec. 31, 1942. It provided that at least six months prior to the expiration date a further conference will be called to consider any revision or modification of recommendations made at the Ottawa meeting in September as well as any new problems arising in the interim.

ALDERMEN GASP AT M'DERMOTT'S 'TO HELL WITH IT'

Outburst Shocks Finance Committee Hearing.

Ald. J. J. McDermott.

"To hell with that law."

That shout from Ald. James J. McDermott [14th] temporarily disrupted the council finance committee meeting yesterday. Members of the committee, who were discussing the 1941 city budget, appeared shocked by the outburst.

McDermott's declaration referred to the city sprinkling ordinance which bans lawn sprinkling during certain daytime hours in the summer. The law is designed to keep water pressure constant.

Disputes Hewitt's Statement.

Public Works Commissioner Oscar E. Hewitt had just told the committee that every resident on the south side could have an ample supply of water in the summer if the ordinance was obeyed.

"You'd need more damm' coppers than there are in the country to enforce that law," McDermott yelled.

"What's more," shouted McDermott, pointing his finger across the committee table at Hewitt. "Why, on the south side people have to wait until 9 at night to cook dinners. They don't have water."

Objects to Funds Requests.

McDermott was objecting specifically to requests by Hewitt and city engineers for $6,500,000 for next year to be used in constructing the new south side filtration plant which is already under way at 79th street and the lake. Hewitt also asked for $1,000,000 for water meters for south side homes.

McDermott said $1,200,000 should be spent on the 47th street water tunnel, where work was suspended a year ago because of lack of funds.

At McDermott's request the question of how the money, which is part of the city water fund and derived from water collections and the sale of water certificates, will be spent was referred to a subcommittee.

The committee also voted to have a subcommittee investigate benefits or possible higher costs to home owners which might be caused by complete installation of water meters. At present only commercial buildings and buildings with three or more apartments have metered water. Both Hewitt and City Controler Robert Upham are to appear before the committee today to discuss water fund appropriations.

Object to WPA Project.

Both Ald. Arthur G. Lindell [9th], and McDermott objected to a proposed expenditure of $10,000 for a WPA project to revise records in the water pipe extension department. The project was referred to a subcommittee.

A request for $261,000 for an automatic lawn sprinkler system and fire hydrants for the city airport was deferred.

A protest against the committee's denial of shorter hours for bridge tenders is to be made tomorrow by Michael J. Boyle, business agent of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, local No. 134. The aldermen say the demand, which was for a 40 hour week instead of 48 hours, would have added 40 men at a cost of $85,400. Boyle is expected to protest elimination by the committee of 38 north side bridge tenders whose work will be done by short crews and roving bridge tenders.

ALDERMEN BALK AT PROPOSAL ON BUS LINE PRICE

Assail Suggestion of Mayor's Expert.

BY LAURENCE BURD.

A suggestion that the city council's unified traction ordinance place no ceiling on the price to be paid for the Chicago Motor Coach company was criticized sharply by aldermen yesterday.

The idea was suggested by Philip Harrington, traction commissioner and Mayor Kelly's chief adviser on traction matters, at a meeting of the local transportation committee. The bus company has offered to sell its properties for 10 million dollars. This price has been assailed as excessive by the city council.

Doubts Value of Limit.

"There is serious doubt whether the city council should try to limit the price to be paid for the bus company," Harrington said. "The properties will be bought not with the city's money, but with funds of the transit lines owners. The price is chiefly their concern."

Harrington's remarks were made just as the meeting adjourned, and discussion was postponed until tomorrow's meeting.

Ald. James R. Quinn [50th], chairman of the committee, said he disagreed with Harrington.

"Any cash the new company spends to buy bus lines will leave that much less for buying new equipment," Quinn said. "The council should see to it that no such price as 10 millions is paid."

Calls Assets Water.

Ald. Paul H. Douglas [5th], who has warned repeatedly that the coach company's own books show its actual physical properties worth only 3¼ millions, said:

"The bus company's offer represents 6¾ millions of so called water. As yet I have seen no evidence that the offered price will be reduced. Certainly the city council should take action to prevent the purchase of all this water. The bus company is using its exorbitant earnings of 24 per cent a year as an argument for a high price."

Douglas argued that an inflated purchase price for the bus properties would be "persuasive evidence" of their value used for fixing fares, and would tend to freeze the fares at a high level.

Puts Figure Under 5 Million.

Ald. Frank Keenan [49th], asserted that the value of the coach company's physical assets should be the only basis for the sale price. He placed the value at less than 5 millions.

The transportation committee voted yesterday to make a portion of money paid into the proposed new city transit fund available for financing superhighway construction. The amount to be paid to the fund is problematical, inasmuch as payments will be made only if the new company's expenses and bond interest are earned.

ROB REAL ESTATE OFFICE.

Three masked colored bandits yesterday entered the real estate office of the Polish National alliance at 1913 Broadway, Gary, and forced Violet Wadas, 20 years old, acting office manager, to open the safe and surrender $500.

HOUSE QUIZZERS TOLD OF UNION'S $50 INITIAL FEE

Membership $300, Says Business Agent.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11 (AP).—Inquiring, at the suggestion of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, into union fees charged electrical workers at nearby Fort Belvoir, Va., a house committee heard a union business agent testify today that a $50 down payment was required toward a $300 membership cost.

David W. Thomas, an itinerant electrician now living in a trailer camp at Alexandria, Va., had told the committee investigating migrant labor, headed by Representative John H. Tolane [D., Cal.], that when he applied for work at Fort Belvoir three weeks ago he was informed a union permit was necessary.

Tells of Losing Interest.

He telephoned local 26 of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers [A. F. of L.] in Washington, he said, and was told that a $300 initiation fee was required for membership.

"I lost all interest then," Thomas said, who added that he came from St. Louis and was an experienced electrician, but not a union man.

C. F. Preller, the local union's business agent, followed Thomas to the witness stand and quoted $50 as the initial required payment.

"As for paying $300 down," he said, "those things just don't happen."

Mrs. Roosevelt Heard.

The two men were called before the committee after it heard Mrs. Thomas testify yesterday about her husband's failure to obtain work under an electrical contractor at Fort Belvoir.

Mrs. Roosevelt, on the stand following Mrs. Thomas' appearance, suggested that the union head be questioned about the case.

The $300 initiation fee, Preller testified, has not been changed for nearly 17 years.

1941 Price Reductions of $70 to $159 Put Sensational Nash Ambassadors in Price Brackets Never Before Reached by Such Big, Powerful, Value-Packed Cars!

Even a quick glance at the chart above tells you something's happened in the 1941 Automobile World . . . and it has! The Nash Ambassador Six (compared above) is typical of the amazing values Nash offers America this year. Reason? $7,000,000 spent for new and more modern methods of construction enables Nash to reduce prices while the rest of the industry raises prices. These great cars enter new lower-price fields—and you get more car, more luxury, more size and features for your money! Let these figures whet your appetite—then come in and drive it. A complete comparison is even more amazing.

NASH BUILDS BETTER "6"s AND "8"s IN THE THREE MAJOR PRICE-FIELDS!

BRITAIN'S FINANCIAL POSITION.

Ever since Lord Lothian, the British ambassador, said that Great Britain could not go on forever on its own financial resources and might need a little credit, this subject has been up in Washington. There was some criticism of the ambassador in London. Some people called him a defeatist and said his statements were untrue as well as unwise. But Lord Lothian was not speaking out of turn. He was just back from London and he had been in touch with the government. He was followed to America by Sir Frederick Phillips, undersecretary of the British treasury.

Sir Frederick is in almost daily consultation with Henry Morgenthau of the United States treasury department. There is a British staff of experts with such schedules as a borrower might take to a bank. Morgenthau and Phillips have been calling in such persons as Mr. Stimson; Sumner Welles of the state department; Jesse Jones, the loan administrator; Mr. Knudsen of the defense advisory commission; Gen. Marshall, army chief of staff, and other people from the treasury and the dollar stabilization fund. It all looks like business.

In congress, where the Johnson act and the cash and carry provision of the neutrality act are still defended, there has been inquiry as to what Great Britain has already spent here and as to the extent of its resources, of convertible British investments, and the general financial condition of the world's richest empire.

Representative Fred Crawford of Michigan went to the state department for figures on British expenditures in purchases here and found them available up to Oct. 31. Great Britain and Ireland, Canada, Australia, and other units of the British empire had actually spent, to the named date, $165,580,960 for war materials. That was the amount actually paid out. Mr. Crawford said he had the state department verification of it.

On Nov. 22, the British purchasing committee said that it had let contracts for 2 billion dollars' worth of war materials and that over a billion dollars' worth had been paid for and shipped. The three weeks' difference in time between the two sets of figures—one of Oct. 31 and the other of Nov. 22—might explain something but there still is a large gap between the two.

The United States is the overseas arsenal for the British government in which dollar exchange, under our present laws, is needed for the required cash payments. Even the amount spent according to the British purchasing commission statement would not indicate an exhaustion of British financial resources. Nothing like a crisis is indicated now. British assets in the United States are estimated at between 4 and 5 billion dollars.

In Washington the assumption is, apparently, that the British are not only suffering unreplaceable losses in shipping and severe damage in plant equipment and buildings at home but that they are nearing the end of their ability to finance the war. None of these assumptions is borne out by any of the known facts which, in themselves, reveal that the British are prosecuting the war and maintaining their defense with a vigor and ability which have caused a noticeable change of tone in Herr Hitler's remarks. He is still blustering, but he is giving himself an unusual latitude in time and place in his prophecies. He isn't promising the Nazis English roast beef for Christmas.

Herr Hitler's confessed slowing up is a tribute to British courage, resourcefulness, and determination of which the British people may be proud. On their island front, with their sea power, with their great empire and its resources, they have been the first to set the Fuehrer back. He is now explaining and promising. He isn't talking of the present; he is peering into the future.

Our own financial condition has been alarming to many of the most prudent men in the country for several years and the new expenditures are not improving it. Before the armament appropriations of 16 billions put a new ceiling to the national debt as it will be in a few years, that debt and the annual deficits constituted a grave future problem. Men are not putting limits now to the foreseeable spending in the next five or ten years, even if the United States remains out of the war and even if it uses its credit for its own purposes. They speak of an additional 5 billion dollars a year for ten years, just to meet our own special requirements.

Without deep involvement abroad America faces its own grave financial problems. We have not forestalled our own crisis.

THE RIGHT MAN IN THE RIGHT PLACE.

The noble work of extirpating the handbooks in Chicago by an injunction restraining such sinful activities seems to have met a slight setback in the office of that leading statesman, Sheriff Thomas J. O'Brien.

Before the bookies can be haled into court and placed in cold storage for violating the injunction they have to receive formal notice that there is an injunction. Some of the sheriff's trustiest catchpolls went forth with copies of the injunction, but at the end of a day they had nothing to show for their labors but a mileage report. Reporters, not to mention hundreds of customers, had no difficulty in locating the books, but the writ servers drew a blank.

There is an old saying that if you want a job done well, do it yourself. It certainly fits the present circumstances. When he was serving his nation in congress there was no nose in Chicago keener at sniffing out a handbook than that of the Statesman O'Brien. Here is a grand opportunity for the boss to show up his help by serving the writs himself, in person.

Only one difficulty suggests itself. The Statesman O'Brien could find the joint all right, but how would you pry him away before they paid off on the last race in California? The last time he left before closing time it took a couple of stickup men to get him out in the sunshine.

TRIMMING JOBS AT THE CITY HALL.

The city council is suffering a sudden and unprecedented attack of economy, which is about as welcome to most of its members as an attack of the mumps. However, the money isn't there, and as a guide to lancing the more badly swollen pay rolls the aldermen have before them a survey committee report recommending elimination of 260 jobs.

This actually means dropping less than one employé in a hundred among the city's 28,000 pay rollers. Any active grand jury could probably create more vacancies. However, within the limits of the time available for its work, the committee did an excellent job, observing faithfully Mayor Kelly's mandate that essential city service be left unimpaired.

The committee's technical staff recommended a cut of 385 jobs. The committee itself restored 125 of these. It found in some overstuffed departments that the deadwood consists of superannuated employés who would hold on under their civil service seniority while pruning would only eliminate the younger employés who are doing the work. The proper remedy here is a compulsory retirement act.

In its survey the committee confessedly did not take into account the personality of employés. This was unfortunate, but perhaps unavoidable. While it is hard to reduce such matters to a percentage basis, it is a fair guess that in the average public office in Chicago a fifth of the employés do half the work, while there is a marginal 25 per cent of loafers who do not account among them for more than 5 per cent of the useful activity of the office.

The loafers, as frequently as not in the city hall, are protected by civil service. Department heads with authority to enforce discipline and a really strict civil service commission could cure the condition, but that remedy is not likely so long as the Democratic machine controls all the public offices in Chicago.

The survey committee had time to cover only 12,000 of the 28,000 city jobs. It made no survey of the incompetent, swollen personnel of the Municipal court. It did not get into the overmanned basic services under the department of public works, altho it combed over that department's headquarters. It paid no attention to the police and fire departments.

The machine's judges in the Municipal court must be stripped of their present statutory power to create an unlimited number of berths for political pay rollers. Pending statutory amendments, public opinion may do something to revive the judges' consciences, if any.

No one in the city hall has yet had the courage to grapple with the union problem as it relates to city employés. The question here is not one of decent wages for trade union members, which are conceded, but the maintenance of annual wage scales that are grossly in excess of those granted members of the same unions in private employment.

There is no reason why elevator employés in public buildings should be paid $20 to $30 more a month than the neater and more efficient operators working under union wage contracts in privately owned office buildings. Members of building trades unions have always defended their high hourly wage scale on the ground of seasonal employment. Yet members of these unions employed by the city not only have year-round jobs but get pensions, paid vacations, and other perquisities not enjoyed by most members of the same unions in private employment. The city's present financial distress offers an opportunity for a showdown on these unjustifiable wage scales, if the aldermen have the courage to act.

Chicago needs more policemen than it can afford. It could get better service from the force it has. Policemen, who are only human, have a way of finding soft assignments and special details and sticking in them long after the need for the post has passed. The remedy for this is a thoro survey of police personnel, which every large police department ought to have about once in five years. Chicago has not had one for eight years, and the effects of the last one are beginning to be dulled.

As for the pay roll cuts which were recommended, they were most carefully considered, and the city council should adopt them without question. It should then go on from there. It will have to, if it balances its budget.

BREAST OF GUINEA HEN.

The federal reserve board index of industrial production is considered by many people the number one index of the state of business, or was until it was tinkered with a few months ago. Others get the sign of the times from freight car loadings. And a few insist that you cannot beat a good steel ingot for telling you where you are. Who is to say who is right? Some prominent persons in the produce business think that they have a barometer which is more faithful than any of these. They offer in the statistical competition the guinea hen.

All housewives who have ever served breast of guinea hen on the dinner table, raise your right hand. Not a hand is showing. Monday to Saturday night, except Friday, the main dish at home is hamburger, round steak, baked ham, pork chops, veal cutlets, corned beef, or stew of some sort; Friday night, fish; Sunday, chicken, leg of lamb, or roast pork. If you are going to a friend's house for dinner tonight, expect to be served turkey, chicken, or beef tenderloin. But you won't get guinea hen. The breast of that noble fowl is a restaurant, not a housekeeping, delicacy. And being what it is, it is sensitive to fluctuations of the business cycle.

When because of depressed economic conditions people don't eat out much and pay close attention to the numbers on the menu card when ordering when they do, guinea hens go begging. But when dining out is no novelty, hosts don't bother to verify the arithmetic on the checks, and night clubs get a big play, there are not enough guinea hens to go around.

Right now guinea hens are scarce. For the best quality the wholesale price is 32 cents a pound, up 13 cents from last year. Dealers who supply the swanky winter resorts are taking all offerings. And so the current saying on West Randolph street is "good times are here, as the guinea hen is our guide."

ODDS AND ENDS OF LEARNING.

Somebody, probably a radio announcer, has stirred up the miscellaneous information hounds with the question, "Which language is spoken by the most people, English, French, Portuguese, or Arabic?" Telephones are ringing all over town. Librarians are being harassed. Wise men are losing their reputations right and left.

People naturally think there is a catch in the question, and begin to investigate the distribution of Arabic. The oriental institute at the University of Chicago reports a surprising interest in Arabic among telephone users.

We intend to vote for the English language until some recognized authority rises to prove that we are wrong. Out of a 1926 newspaper almanac we have dug the following figures, in millions, for world languages:

English, 160; German, 110; Russian, 100; French, 70; Spanish, 50; Italian, 50; Portuguese, 25. The book doesn't mention Arabic, but it names the world's champion, which is Chinese: 400 millions, including all dialects.

Cinderella did not wear a glass slipper; she wore a fur slipper. The old French version of the tale gave her a "pantoufle en vair," or slipper of sable fur. This was corrupted, by a printer's or copyist's error, into "pantoufle en verre," or glass slipper. The two words sound alike. And thus we make another small erasure in the world's many mistakes.

The language of footnotes frequently baffles the average reader, and we have been urged to print a glossary of the more common abbreviations. You will find most of them in the front of the big dictionary, but not that grand old author Ibid., who seems to have written thousands of books. Some of the ready writers in the Tribune's staff wonder why they never catch up with him except in footnotes. [It is a contraction of the Latin "ibidem," and means "in the same place."]

A Heart to Heart Talk About Winter.

Winter is that season of the year when we yearn for spring and get better acquainted with our plumbers. After they depart—undoubtedly, for Florida—we call a contractor to rebuild the house. Then we call a doctor. We just l-o-v-e Winter!

It's such joy to bound from bed at 10 below and shovel coal; then bound outside and shovel snow; bound back and shovel coal; rebound and shovel snow.

Here's a winter poem, entitled:

SHOVELBOUND.

Jingle bells, jingle bells,
Jingle in our hovel;
O, what fun it is to wield
A one horse, open shovel.

Second verse, thought up by the Mrs.:

Jingle bells, jingle bells,
Jingle on his shovel;
O, what fun it is to watch him
Groan and growl and grovel.

Told voise, by us:

Jangle bells, jangle bells,
Jangle in our hovel;
O, what fun 'twill be to smack her
With a one horse, open shovel.

We just l-o-v-e Winter! Jake Irmiter.

A Philosopher Looks at the Line Book.

Perhaps the new Line Book may serve as a model to the rest of us, showing how we can all be Linemasters of our book of the year. If we all remember only the best of the things that happen each day, the high spots of our private weekday Line, and quietly forget the other matters, I think we can end the year with a pretty good record; one that will encourage us to start the next year's Line with the ambition to emulate the Tribune's series, each better than the one before.

SING A SONG OF CYNICS.

Ho, hum! What's it all about?
Why do people worry so,
Rush around and shout?
Laugh a little, cry a little,
Learn to do without;
Eat a little, drink a little,
Grow a little stout;
Life's a dancing shadowgraph,
Life's a well of doubt;
Ho, hum! What's it all about?

Ho, hum! What's the reason why?
People are so ponderous,
Even you and I!
Play a little, work a little,
Lay a little by;
Love a little, hate a little,
Then you up and die!
Life's a never-ending quiz,
Life's a weary sigh;
Ho, hum! What's the reason why?

Brother, Can You Spare a Dime?

If you have a dime, take a look at the design on the reverse side: the laureled fasces, with ax blade protruding from the top, ancient badge of the tyrant Roman rulers' power over life and limb, borne by the lictors before kings and consuls, relic of the galley slave age, and now the emblem of the Fascist. Our Goddess of Liberty on the obverse side is in bad company. Uncle Sam is liable to a Mussolini suit for infringement of his trademark. The axis has replaced the ax.

VACCINATION AGAINST SMALLPOX.

A STRONG stretch of the imagination is required to picture the devastation wrought by smallpox before the advent of vaccination. Today we look upon the disease as a public disgrace because prevention is immediately at hand. Nevertheless, it does exist and every little while an outbreak appears in some locality when least expected.

A century and a half ago Edward Jenner pointed the way to freedom from this loathsome malady. Prior to his work most persons exhibited scar pitted faces. Louis XV. of France was a victim and, among royal survivors, were Joseph I. of Germany and Peter II. of Russia. In the hundred years from 1700 to 1800—60,000,000 people succumbed to the ailment in Europe alone.

But the end was near. Physicians of inquiring mind were beginning to wonder if some antidote could not be found. It remained for Edward Jenner, a country doctor of Gloucestershire, England, to investigate the popular belief that one who had suffered from cowpox would be forever free from the danger of smallpox. Cowpox was occasionally communicated to milkmaids who had scratched their hands and then milked an animal with sores on the udder.

Instead of passing the rumor by as trivial and of no consequence, Jenner traced a number of patients who had developed lesions on their hands and who—regardless of the number of exposures—remained immune to the major disease. He sensed clearly what had happened. A tiny bit of the infected substance from the udder had entered the circulation thru an abrasion. The typical vaccine eruption occurred and freedom from later contamination resulted.

The name of Jenner's first patient, James Phipps, deserves to be recorded. This lad volunteered for a crucial trial. A slight scratch was made upon his arm and the cow material was then rubbed in. The boy was not ill, altho a sore ensued which healed promptly with a well formed scab. Case then followed case and in every instance, the experiment was a success. In 1798 Jenner gave his experience to the world in his book entitled "An Inquiry into the Causes and Effects of the Variolae Vaccinae."

There is no sound reason why we should not banish smallpox completely. But, strangely enough, the procedure has not been accorded world-wide acceptance. In some quarters resistance is offered against the adoption of this simple but essential expedient. When carried out with care and skill, vaccination is safe.

Some of us apparently look upon the process as fine for every one except ourselves. We are perfectly willing to have school children—even our own—protected, but we forget that a single person, in the presence of an epidemic, if susceptible, is a menace to every one else.

With some immunity lasts for life, while with others it is likely to wear out, requiring renewal just as one must purchase new clothing from time to time. Even with modern medical resources, an afflicted person is seriously ill. The fever is high, toxemia is present, and delirium not infrequently comes on. While we see but few indications of the ravages of the disease today, if we neglect vaccination for a few years the scourge will be bound to strike sooner or later. In this connection some of us may recall the Kansas City epidemic of 1921.

Perhaps our age will be looked upon by posterity as one of enlightenment in certain particulars, but a dismal failure in others. Wouldn't it be shameful if we should suffer a widespread siege with this preventable disorder?

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

"FOOD FOR EUROPE" PROBLEM.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—May I thank you for the great service you have done in printing the replies prompted by the letter, 'Feeding Europe,' published on Nov. 6? The statement printed today over the names of 20 clergymen is a pertinent reply to the original letter, but, as one who is deeply concerned both by the feeding problem itself and by the opposition to it on the part of some of our most conscientious leaders, may I point out a few aspects of the matter which have not been adequately touched upon?

In essence the only reason to be opposed to feeding some 35 million starving people [at the cost of their own governments and at the risk of transportation of the food in their own ships] is the fear that a few days' supply of food may fall into the hands of the Nazis.

It is my belief that this is a matter being deliberately agitated by the William Allen White committee. Consciously or unconsciously our people are being led to war-mindedness, part of which is the rationalization of inhumanity.

In addition, may I point out: 1. That the Quakers who have been administering relief in Poland for the last months have not as yet met with bad faith on the part of the German authorities with whom they have had to deal.

2. That any one who wishes to make his influence felt in molding a humane public opinion should write to Lord Lothian, British ambassador, Washington, D. C., urging British coöperation with the Hoover plan.

3. That democracy will not gain in the esteem of the peoples of Europe if the greatest democracy on earth is blocking the delivery of food that is life itself to millions of men, women, and children.

ABOUT GOLD.

Champaign, Ill., Dec. 8.—The President has secured 22 billion dollars' worth of gold and has buried it in the underground vaults at Fort Knox, Ky., and in the other vaults thruout the country so it can have a good rest.

We got all this gold because the President gave $35 an ounce for it in a market where it was selling for $17.50 an ounce.

We now have most of the gold in the world and soon we will have it all; that's because we are paying twice what it is worth.

It is not money in any nation on earth and they are all extremely glad to get rid of it at that price.

We have paid for this gold in good old American merchandise, automobiles, cotton, grain, machinery, etc., all of it sold at half price because it was paid for in gold valued at twice its real value.

If we are lucky and get the real value of this gold, $17.50 an ounce, we will take a loss of half the price we paid for it; that is 11 billion dollars.

Poor old American taxpayer, he gets it at every turn of the road and lately there are many turns. JALBERT REEVES.

FROM THREE CANADIAN SOLDIERS.

CAMP BORDEN, Ont., Dec. 7.—We, three Chicagoans, are members of one of Canada's finest fighting regiments, the Essex Scottish. We came to Canada and enlisted six months ago, believing in our own hearts that we were helping in the fight for freedom and democracy.

Up here in Canada right now we have enough snow to share with any one who would like it. As we expect to stay here this winter [we are guessing now] we were wondering if there is any person, or persons, in Chicago or thereabouts, who has any old, but serviceable skiing equipment that they have no use for. We would be extremely grateful to any one who could possibly send it to us. We can earnestly assure them that if they knew the enjoyment we could get out of skis it would more than repay them for any inconvenience they may have in forwarding them. It would help to pass the long cold winter days in Camp Borden for three soldiers who are not allowed to cross the border to visit our homes in Chicago.

Any and all replies can be sent to L/cpl Jimmie Lillie, who, by the way, was well known in soccer circles in Chicago as a member of the Brickies, Wonderbolts, and Manhattan teams.

STOP MASS PAROLES!

Chicago, Dec. 6.—Cannot something be done at once to stop the wholesale paroles now taking place at Springfield? Civic organizations should protest and demand that our city and state officials put a stop to these dangerous tactics. Also that decent and responsible persons be placed in charge of the parole system. A friend and I, having been victims of a holdup by two men with guns, should know whereof we speak. All of our money and jewelry were taken and we were subjected to vicious threats. We escaped unharmed by some miraculous turn of events, but the nervous shock was never to be forgotten. Women are not safe on the streets after dark.

What has become of our old time neighborhood policemen? They are no longer seen except to direct traffic. Is our land going to become one ruled by gangsters?

Women, do your part! Protest the release of dangerous convicts, thieves, and morons. FORMER VICTIM.

"WHEN CHICAGO WAS YOUNG."

Chicago, Dec. 5.—You have a column every Sunday in THE TRIBUNE entitled "When Chicago Was Young," by Herma Clark. I am much interested in this. In fact it is the first thing I read on Sunday in THE TRIBUNE. It is well gotten up and brings to an old Chicagoan many personages, times, places, etc. Herma Clark, whom I do not happen to know, is to be congratulated.

My grandfather came here in the early '40s, my father was born here in '46, and myself in '81. So you can see how I love to read these articles every Sunday.

One thing disturbs me, however—the footnotes. They seem to be getting fewer and fewer, and, in my opinion, are one of the features of this column. Can you not see that more of these are put back the same as they used to be? Old houses, for instance, old families, etc.

GEORGE MASON JR.

IF WE GO TO WAR.

Chicago, Dec. 9.—If we take the last step toward war via loans and allow ourselves again to become involved in the quarrels of Europe or Asia there is no telling how long the conflict will last. It would mean untold destruction, famine, starvation for millions, and also economic chaos. The Red hordes, both here and abroad, would swarm over the ruins. We would be "making the world safe for bolshevism," and end up here at home with a totalitarian tyranny.

We are a great nation of 130 million people, and if we are incapable of solely defending ourselves we do not deserve to exist as a nation. To say that it is necessary for us to help fight other people's wars for our own protection or that the British fleet is our first line of defense are statements of cowardice or are deliberately made in an effort to foster certain international interests. If we are to go to war because we do not like the kind of government another nation has, then by the same token we should have fought Red Russia a couple decades ago and forced her to accept our kind of government. FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

The volume of Legal Friend mail necessitates printed statements on common questions. No copies or records of the letters or answers are kept. Hence follow-up letters should be complete in themselves. If questions are based on some previously printed problem a clipping of the article should accompany. Most of the replies are mailed. Letters bearing no name and address are disregarded. A self-addressed envelope will expedite handling.

ESTATE PROBATE.

Highland Park, Ill., Dec. 3.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I recently received official notice from an attorney representing my mother, concerning the filing of my father's will for probate. As one of the heirs [1] is it necessary for me to be present in the Probate court on the date mentioned?

2. Is it necessary for me to be represented by an attorney at that court proceeding?

3. If there is disagreement as to who should be appointed administrator, how is this matter usually handled?

4. If the will is not contested and the estate is solvent must specific bequests be fulfilled within a specified time or is this left to the discretion of the administrator?

5. The estate referred to is being probated in Calhoun county in the state of Michigan. The bequests mentioned in [4] are cash bequests for which there is ample cash on deposit in the bank.

F. E.

1. No.
2. Ordinarily it is not necessary for the heirs to be separately represented.
3. The judge is likely to give preference to the oldest.
4. Under present Illinois law distribution should be shortly after the expiration of the period allowed for filing claims.
5. The Michigan period for filing claims is not less than four months or more than one year. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

GREEN'S REGIME FACES 30 MILLION STATE SHORTAGE

Must Act Quick to Provide Relief and Pensions.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 11. — The gloomy prospect of meeting a $30,000,000 deficiency will face Governor Elect Dwight H. Green when his Republican administration takes over the government of Illinois from the Democrats on Jan. 13.

Gov. John Stelle, the 100 day Democratic interim chief executive, told the budgetary commission today that the $72,000,000 biennial relief appropriation, which, it was hoped, might be sufficient for all needs up to July 1, will be exhausted by Jan. 15.

On the basis of present expenditures of $3,800,000 per month, an additional $20,900,000 will be necessary to maintain relief at its present level until July 1, the governor said.

Old Age Fund Running Low.

The $24,000,000 biennial old age assistance appropriation also will be exhausted by the end of the calendar year, Stelle said. Fletcher C. Kettle, superintendent of the division of old age assistance, informed the budgetary commission that $9,350,000 will represent the state's share of the forthcoming deficiency—up to July 1.

How to meet this total shortage of $30,250,000 will be Green's and the legislature's first problem.

Gov. Stelle has asked the budgetary commission to introduce bills appropriating the deficiency from general revenue, the moment it is possible to present measures to the 62d general assembly. This probably will be on Jan. 8, when the session convenes.

Green will be inaugurated on the 13th, and by that time it seems logical that the measures will have passed one of the houses and be on second reading in the other. Under normal legislative procedure, the shortest time in which a bill can be passed is five days.

No Opposition Expected.

That the bills will be given clear sailing is indicated by the attitude among Republicans. They seem to feel it would be well to continue relief payments as at present, and consider probable need and possible reduction when the question of providing funds for the 1941-1943 biennium comes up in midsession.

The governor elect, it was reported, was apprised of the general situation before he went south for a vacation, and asked that bills be prepared in his absence to meet the deficiency. Therefore, it is expected that approval by both houses will be forthcoming without delay, which would mean that the bills could be engrossed and signed into law by Jan. 15.

Judge Rudolph Desort granted a divorce yesterday to Mrs. Margaret Madsen, 30 years old, 6215 South Sacramento avenue, after she testified that her husband, Don, 32, a sergeant with the 108th aero squadron of the National Guard, thought more of his motors than he did of her. "He's too much in love with those airplane motors," she said. "I hardly ever used to see him. He was always at the airport." They were married July 20, 1936. She was represented by Attorney Victor Frohlich.

STATE AID QUITS OVER TAX FAVORS SHOWN BY STELLE

Protests Ruling to Free Materials from Levy.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 11.—Martin Philipsborn Jr., supervisor of the public utility revenue division in the state finance department, tendered his resignation today. He acted in protest, he said, against changes in rules, since Gov. Henry Horner's death, that favor groups "with influence."

Sam Keys.

Finance director A. M. Carter replied that he had discharged Philipsborn in a letter sent to him last night, and already had appointed Sam Keys of Lincoln, former president of the Young Democrats, in Philipsborn's place. The post carries a salary of $400 monthly.

Hits at Contractor Exemption.

Philipsborn wrote the director: "Since the death of Gov. Horner, I have watched with increasing apprehension the growth of an alien spirit in the department of finance.

"This has been manifested by the alteration of rules and practices to the end that certain groups, with influence, are permitted to evade their shares of responsibility as taxpayers under the occupation taxes."

Philipsborn said he referred, among other things, to a rule revision which proposed to exempt contractors from paying a tax on purchases used in construction work.

Aids Shorn of Power.

He also said that since the Stelle administration took control, supervisors no longer have the right to choose the personnel of their divisions.

"After deliberation," his letter continued, "I have concluded that I no longer am able to stand by and watch this demoralization of our revenue system which, for the last seven years, has kept the state of Illinois on a pay as you go basis."

Philipsborn, a Chicago lawyer, had been in the department of finance since 1933.

DEFENSE COUNCIL PLAN APPROVED BY GOV. STELLE

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 11 [Special].—Gov. John Stelle tonight approved the organization of the Illinois Emergency Defense council—a group which in case of war would exercise wide powers—and asked an advisory committee to recommend a personnel which he indicated he would appoint.

The recommendation is to be made next week by a group composed of Alexander Wilson, the governor's administrative assistant; Dr. Peter T. Swanish, state commissioner of placement and unemployment compensation; Col. H. L. Kellogg, engineer for the state planning commission; Robert Kingery, chairman of the state planning commission, and Walter Williams, chief of the Illinois highway police. Gov. Stelle will be ex-officio chairman of the council.

Wrap up a THRILL in this Year's Holly Wreath!

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM
1941

Buick SPECIAL Sedan, $1052. White sidewall tires extra★

SUPPOSE, come Christmas morning, you took your wife to the front door, pointed out through the holly wreath—and there let her see a brand-new Buick standing at the curb!

A thrill? You bet—for the whole family!

Out of the question? Not at all. Look:

We're not suggesting that you add the cost of a new Buick to your Christmas budget.

But you probably will be buying a new car soon and we are simply proposing that you buy it now, a few months ahead of time—and make this a holiday long to be remembered.

We're suggesting that there's no time like the present to get back of that big FIREBALL Eight—no time like right now to start piling up gasoline mileage economies that run as high as 10% or 15%.

There's no time like holiday time to dress up yourself (and family) in smart, fresh Buick aerodynamic styling, or to introduce your brood to the roomy comfort of this BuiCoil-cradled traveler.

You can do that—if you act promptly.

A trial ride to give you a hint as to what Buick can do—a little figuring on your present car's worth (at today's trade-in values, not next spring's)—a little working out of convenient terms—and you'll have a FIREBALL to celebrate this Christmas!

How about it? It's one thing your wife would never expect—and just about the finest gift any man could give his family!

DEMOCRATS HAVE ROAD PLANS ALL FIXED FOR GREEN

They're Even Letting Jobs Before They Leave.

BY HAL FOUST.

When Dwight Green takes office as governor on Jan. 13, he will inherit $13,700,000 worth of paving contracts, a five year road building program, a disintegrating highway system, and a recommendation for an increase in motorists' taxes to catch up with the progressive destruction and obsolescence of the system.

These inheritances from the Democratic administration of the late Gov. Henry Horner and of Gov. John Stelle were outlined yesterday before an annual convention of the Illinois Road Builders' association by C. M. Hathaway, engineer of construction of the Illinois highway department. The meeting, in the Stevens hotel, was attended by 500 paving contractors and material and supply men.

No Plans Announced.

Green has not announced his road plans other than to say he will scrutinize contracts before acknowledging their validity. His campaign, however, favored tax reductions rather than tax increases. And Ernst Lieberman, chief engineer for the highway department, is slated for the ax.

The 40 million dollar Congress street superparkway is another obligation that the Democrats are seeking to impose upon the incoming administration. Hathaway and Philip Harrington, Chicago commissioner of subways and superhighways, spoke before the road builders' association as if the Illinois highway department under Gov. Stelle has been definitely committed to this project. The project has been criticized as a scheme to develop real estate with money from motorists' taxes needed for deathproof superhighways.

Bids to Be Taken on Dec. 20.

The 13 million dollars in contracts to be awarded by the Democrats for construction during the Green administration will include 2 million dollars' worth of jobs on which bids are to be received on Dec. 20.

Hathaway told of a five year road program developed by this administration with only four more weeks to serve. Its purpose, he said, is to replace and to modernize slabs that are being pounded to pieces or becoming dangerously and extravagantly obsolete at a rate of 322 miles a year. Such reconstruction for 1940 totaled 110 miles and for 1939 totaled 68 miles.

"The continuation of the present revenues," said the engineer, "will not close the gap between replacements and requirements for replacements. A considerably increased revenue is the only solution definitely assuring a thoroly modernized system of roads in a reasonably short period."

1940 Construction Summarized.

Hathaway summarized 1940 construction by the Illinois highway department as follows: 166.83 miles of high type pavement; 197.79 miles of gravel, crushed stone, or low type bituminous pavement; 104.35 miles of grading; 18 railroad grade separations; 2 highway grade separations; and 69 bridges.

The entire 1940 expenditure was $19,800,000, exclusive of work by counties with their $9,500,000 in gasoline tax revenue and by cities with their $9,300,000 of revenue from this source. About the same amount of money will be available for 1941 work, but not as much for the primary highway system because 4 million dollars of regular federal aid to Illinois has been reserved for national defense roads, for access roads to military and naval establishments.

Tells Military Needs.

Congressman Jennings Randolph of West Virginia advocated highway construction for national defense. He credited Germany's superhighways, contrasted with France's country lanes, as responsible in a large measure for Hitler's success to date.

Hal G. Sours, director of the Ohio highway department and president of the American Road Builders' association, also urged that the development of a better highway system was essential to military preparedness. He added, however, that a road system for wartime transportation was virtually identical to a good system for peacetime use.

Herbert Anderson, president of the Illinois Road Builders' association, deplored allocations of 94 million dollars of Illinois gas tax revenue to purposes unrelated to highways, mainly for relief.

STATE EXPENDITURES DURING LAST MONTH TOTAL $20,266,331

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 11 (AP).—State Treasurer Louie E. Lewis reported today that total expenditures of the state government were $20,266,331 during November, or $1,898,533 more than was collected during the month.

The treasurer's report showed that the balance in the state's general revenue fund declined $289,831, and stood at $8,710,355 on Nov. 30.

Principal state revenues were $7,880,747 from the three per cent sales tax and $4,177,748 from the gasoline tax. Major disbursements included $3,795,191 for emergency relief, $2,900,760 for old age assistance and $2,073,599 for road building and maintenance.

Lewis said the federal government transferred during the month $13,841,172 from the Illinois unemployment trust fund to the railroad unemployment trust fund in accordance with the state unemployment compensation act and the railroad unemployment insurance act. The Nov. 30 balance in the state's unemployment compensation fund was $190,504,470.

IMPROVED DATA ON ICING ADVISED IN CRASH INQUIRY

Plane's Last Messages Put Into Record.

A need for a standardized and more precise expression for icing conditions encountered by airplanes, and for a better method of gathering and summarizing pilots' reports on weather aloft was expressed here yesterday by Clarence G. Andrus, meteorologist of the government weather bureau at Cleveland, O. He was a witness at the Civil Aeronautics administration investigation of the air line crash at Chicago airport last Dec. 4, that brought death to 10 of 16 persons aboard the plane. The hearing is being held in the new postoffice building.

At present there is no standardized way of expressing icing conditions, the meteorologist explained. He declared that pilot's reports of encountering ice were only "haphazardly" recorded, and that the government weather service now has inadequate personnel to accept all reports from pilots that are volunteered.

Pilots Volunteer Reports.

"The pilots are not obligated to give this information to us at all, but both they and the air lines usually volunteer it, or give it when we ask," he said. "Then we add it to our own forecasts as remarks. We have no way of indicating briefly and concisely just how severe, or how inconsequential the icing is."

Meteorologist Andrus' testimony was only a part of that taken during the day. But several witnesses confirmed reports current at the time of the accident that the air liner—a United Air Lines Douglas DC-3—had encountered conditions in flight that caused it to pick up considerable ice.

Scott's ship stalled and plunged to the ground from a height of 150 feet when it was 660 feet or less than six seconds from making a safe landing. The importance of ice in the investigation is indicated because of the suspicion that the plane had picked up enough to cause it to stall at 100 miles an hour instead of the usual 65 miles an hour. One hundred miles an hour is the usual approach speed for the air liners.

Other Planes Landed Safely.

Scott's plane, which crashed at 5:48 p. m. was one of six air liners that arrived at Chicago airport between 5:20 and 6 p. m. the night of the accident. The other five, following exactly the same procedure as Scott's ship, landed in perfect safety.

A transcript of the last radio conversation with the plane was read by John M. Becker, chief control tower operator at the airport. The plane began its communication with the control tower at about 5:42 p. m., six minutes before it crashed, after previously reporting to United Air Lines. Becker answered the first call from the plane, called trip 21, by giving it the wind ["north northwest about eight miles"] and telling it to land northwest [heading southeast].

The conversation followed:

PLANE — North northwest about eight and landing northwest, is that right?

OPERATOR—Yes, that's O. K., unless you have a lot of ice and wish to land west.

PLANE—We'll have to circle to get some of this ice off the windshield.

"It's All Up to You."

OPERATOR—That's O. K., it's all up to you. The wind now is north, very slightly north northwest, about 10.

PLANE—O. K., north northwest about 10.

OPERATOR—United 22 [another incoming flight] as soon as United 21 lands you will be given the clearance.

PLANE [21]—United 21 will land west.

OPERATOR—Will land west. O. K. United 21.

There was an interruption, then:

PLANE—United 21 will land northwest instead of west.

OPERATOR—That's O. K., United 21. It's still clear.

PLANE—O. K.

This was about 5:47, Becker said, and the recording here registered a long pause, the radio contacts having ceased temporarily when the plane crash severed a power line. Then the control tower clerk dialed Airways on the telephone and notified the other end of the crackup at 5:48.

GEORGE SEIF, 66, SANITARY BOARD TRUSTEE, IS DEAD

Re-elected for 6 Year Term Last Month.

George Seif.

George Seif, trustee of the sanitary district since 1934 and Democratic political leader, died yesterday in the Norwegian-American hospital. He was 66 years old.

Seif was born in Streator, La Salle county, and had a varied career as a miner, wholesale grocer, fire chief, investigator, and politician. He had been a resident of Chicago for 35 years, residing at 1628 Humboldt boulevard.

He worked for a short time after leaving school in the zinc mines at Joplin, Mo., then came to Chicago to work for a wholesale grocery firm. He returned to Streator in 1902 as a member of the fire department, and two years later was made assistant chief.

Becomes City Investigator.

Mr. Seif returned to Chicago in 1905 and for the next six years was connected with the law department of the Chicago Union Traction company. From 1911 to 1915 he was chief investigator in the city attorney's office, and from 1915 to 1917 was state examiner of chauffeurs.

He entered the insurance business after that, and in 1923 he began eight years as alderman of the old 35th ward, being elected to four terms.

Elected Court Clerk.

In 1930, Mr. Seif was elected clerk of the Criminal court, and in 1934 was elected to a six year term as sanitary district trustee. He was re-elected in last month's election.

He was a Mason, a member of the Knights of Pythias, the German Club of Chicago, the Civil Legion, and the Izaak Walton League of America. He served with the Illinois National Guard from 1893 to 1897. He leaves his widow, Elizabeth Carr Seif.

Funeral services will be held tonight at 9 o'clock in the chapel at 2410 North avenue. The funeral will be Saturday afternoon in Streator.

Thieves Take 8 Suitcases Full of Loot in Noon Raid

Gilbert L. Daane, 54 years old, treasurer of the Davidson Manufacturing corporation, reported to Hudson avenue police yesterday that burglars entered a back window of his apartment at 1209 North State parkway Tuesday noon and carried away $1,700 in clothing and jewelry. His wife, Mamie, was shopping at the time. The burglars used eight suitcases to carry away the loot. A cocktail set, lockets, brooches, 12 suits, and two overcoats were among the articles missing.

Veteran of Loop Traffic Police Division Retiring

A familiar figure along Clark street, in the loop, will be missing today. Policeman Herman Gottschalk, who was stationed at Clark street and Jackson boulevard for more than 25 years, is retiring under the compulsory retirement law. He has been on the force since 1907. For the last five years he has directed traffic at Clark and Van Buren streets. His home is at 4532 North Mozart street.

Approve Removing Trolley Wires at Chicago Airport

Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe yesterday authorized the Chicago Surface lines to remove the trolley wires and tracks on Cicero avenue from Archer avenue to 63d street and substitute motor buses. This route adjoins the Chicago airport and removal of the trolley wires has been urged by the city on the ground that they are a hazard to airplanes using the field.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Robert M. Curtis and Mrs. Russell Christie, and two grandchildren, Edward P. Russell II. and Diane Curtis.

Nathaniel B. Dial.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11 (AP).—Nathaniel Barksdale Dial, 78, Democratic senator from South Carolina from 1918 to 1925, died tonight of a heart ailment. He was a banker and lawyer and headed several mills and utility enterprises in Laurens, S. C.

HIGHWAY CRASH KILLS 4, HURTS 2 IN INDIANA

La Grange, Ind., Dec. 11 (AP).—Four children were killed and two other persons received injuries which may prove fatal in an automobile-truck collision on an icy highway a mile east of La Grange tonight, when they were driving here for a high school basketball game.

LIKE BAROMETER, SKIN REACTS TO WEATHER WHIMS

The weather has a direct effect on the condition of the skin, Dr. William F. Petersen, University of Illinois pathologist, told the closing session of the American Academy of Dermatology and Syphilology yesterday in the Palmer House. He said that skin tissues react directly to blood circulation, and that blood pressure goes up in cold weather.

"Skin diseases are most prevalent in the spring and fall, when temperature fluctuations are most violent," he said. "The human organism is most susceptible to infection in March and April, when these fluctuations have sharp ups and downs. Skin diseases are regional and seasonal.

"In midcontinental regions, temperature fluctuations reach their greatest magnitude, and individuals living there must make tremendous psychologic adjustments from day to day. Constant variation brings with it the possibility of fatigue. As a result, every physiologic adjustment necessitated by weather changes is apt to find reflection in any region of the body that is weak."

POLICE PUTTING 200 F-M RADIO SETS IN AUTOS

Two hundred frequency modulation type transmitters are being installed in the city's two-way police cars, Fred Schnell, head of the police radio division, disclosed yesterday. The F-M device eradicates static and allows for wider reception. Schnell said 25 of the city's 39 police stations now are equipped with the two-way radio cars. More than 2,000 policemen hold radio operators' licenses necessary for operating the police system.

Death Toll of Typhoon in Philippines Reaches 81

MANILA, P. I., Dec. 11 (AP).—Known deaths from last week's typhoon reached 81 today when Gov. Manuel Calleja of Albay province reported that 60 persons were killed on Catanduanes Island. Hundreds were injured.

PLANE CRASHES IN FOG AT ST. LOUIS; WOMAN AND 2 OF CREW HURT

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 11 (AP).—An American Airlines plane, arriving from Chicago in foggy, rainy weather, missed the runway at Lambert-St. Louis municipal airport this afternoon and smashed into a creek bank, trapping the pilots in the front compartment.

Rescue crews, working with axes and hacksaws, broke into the cockpit after 30 minutes. The chief pilot, Capt. Herbert W. Susott of Eberfeld, Ind., and First Officer Earl Phillips, based at Chicago, were slightly hurt.

Four passengers and Stewardess Ruth Arnestad of Duluth, Minn., were able to leave the plane without assistance. One of the passengers, Miss E. Lindenmeyer of Lake Forest, Ill., was shaken up. She complained of a "back discomfort" and will remain in a hospital for observation. Other passengers were Homer C. Powell of Fargo, N. D., and two company employés, J. Huston Shelton and Robert Wenc, both of Chicago.

DIG 30 FEET, FAIL TO FIND CRASHED PLANE'S MOTOR

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 11 [Special].—Attempts to find the big engine of a scout bomber that plowed into the ground at full throttle yesterday failed today after searchers had dug 30 feet into the earth and encountered the subterranean water level of La Ballona creek.

The body of the test pilot, Rudolph B. Lechner of Santa Monica, who was carried to his death at more than 350 miles an hour, was found a few feet from the depth at which the search was abandoned.

The scene of the crash is a Playa del Rey mudflat over which Lechner was testing the three ton machine. It is believed he fainted during a 12,000 foot power dive and was unable to pull out.

BELANT—Anthony H. Belant. A tribute of love and sacred memory of my beloved husband, who passed away Dec. 12, 1939, one year ago today.

My heart at dusk when the low winds moan
Seeks ever the place where you sleep.
My lips are tired with prayers I pray
And I wait the dawn of a splendid day,
And a country fair by the heaven's blue,
The eyes, the arms, and the lips of you.
Somewhere you wait for me, I know,
Because, beloved, I loved you so.

LONELY WIFE, FRANCES.

BOOKIES! HERE'S WHERE SHERIFF O'BRIEN RESIDES

Call Him Up, or Visit Him for Service.

BY THOMAS MORROW.

Sheriff Thomas J. O'Brien lives at 4858 Washington boulevard and his telephone number is Columbus 8100.

This information was divulged yesterday in case any of the 1,380 Chicago bookies named in the injunction halting their further operation are seized with a desire to give themselves up. It might be necessary to go to the sheriff's home, it was pointed out, as he could not be located yesterday in his office.

Meanwhile, machinery was set up in the sheriff's office to receive any bookies who may come in. This step was taken after 34 deputies scoured Chicago without success in search of bookies named in summonses issued last week in Circuit court at East St. Louis. Two hundred fifty of the summonses were returned unserved yesterday afternoon.

Willing to Scratch Them.

"If the bookies identify themselves properly," said First Assistant Deputy Edwin Nelson, "they may accept service here."

The deputies reported yesterday they had served 19 summonses in three days. These, however, were directed against individuals and corporations said to be connected with the suit thru property in which handbooks are or were operated.

Deputies seeking book owners found none, but were reported to have had some pretty interesting experiences. One fellow was said to believe that he had come upon the first robin of the season on the far south side.

Others fetched in fairly odd facts concerning little known flora and fauna in the Chicago districts. But not so much as a wall sheet or a slightly frayed tip was run to earth, it was admitted sadly in the sheriff's office.

There were several tense moments yesterday when a deputy was reported almost ready to close in on a handbook on the west side. This rumor, however, proved to be without foundation.

Yarrow Ahead Several Lengths.

Meanwhile the Rev. Philip Yarrow, head of the Illinois Vigilance association, laid down a challenge to Sheriff O'Brien.

"I can find a handbook," the Rev. Yarrow said without qualification. "I have been in handbooks in Chicago—and I can get into some of the same handbooks that the sheriff cannot find."

The Rev. Mr. Yarrow did not mention any weight or time qualifications in his challenge. He said, without reservation, that he could find the elusive handbooks in the loop.

The sheriff could not be reached for his reaction to the challenge.

The sheriffs are not to be dissuaded from their efforts to serve the summonses, however, it was learned yesterday from First Assistant Deputy Nelson, who spoke in the absence of Sheriff O'Brien.

Plan to Plug and Plug.

"The 34 deputies will continue to work on this matter," said First Deputy Nelson yesterday. "They will go out again today."

"There is no way for the sheriff to know whether the defendants are there," Nelson added. "Certainly it is not to be expected that the sheriff would know where these 1,300 persons are."

In the sheriff's office it was said merely that he was out. Employés did not believe, they said, that he was out serving the summonses in person.

Federal Judge Wilkerson Marks 71st Birthday

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson, who has been on the bench in Chicago for 18 years, observed his 71st birthday anniversary yesterday. He was in his offices for several hours and said he planned no special celebration. Recently the judge has been ill, but he reported he has fully recovered and intends to start hearing cases on his call after Jan. 1.

MRS. JOHN K. STRUBING JR.

Greenwich, Conn., Dec. 11 (AP).—Assistant Prosecutor Archibald H. Tunick announced tonight that Joseph Spell, 31, Negro, had confessed assaulting an attractive Greenwich society matron by whom he was employed as a chauffeur-butler and then hurling her into a lonely reservoir in Westchester county, N. Y.

Spell's employer, Mrs. John K. Strubing Jr., 32, member of a prominent Philadelphia family, was in a White Plains, N. Y., hospital, her condition listed as not serious.

Detective Sergeant Martin H. Nee, after visiting her in the hospital, reported that Mrs. Strubing said the butler had assaulted her three times in her home in the fashionable Round Hill section, had forced her to write a note demanding $5,000 ransom from her husband, and had thrown her early this morning into Lake Kinseco.

LOSES POSSUMS AND BANKROLL IN GARY ALLEY

Frank Powell, a farmer of Buffalo, Ind., arrived in Gary yesterday with a truckload of possums he had shot. He wanted to sell them, so he started thru the streets of Gary's south side colored district carrying two possums as samples. The liking of colored folk for possums is well known.

So Powell was not surprised when two colored men approached him at 15th avenue and Broadway. They stated that those were mighty plump, succulent looking possums, and asked if Powell intended to sell. He did, so they told him they would conduct him to a man who would buy all the possums he had.

Powell followed his guides into an alley off 15th avenue and they started to turn up an areaway. Something happened at that point. On regaining consciousness, to find his possums, his $40 bank roll, and his conductors gone, Powell believed it was a blow to his head.

Relief Rolls Show Decline for 5th Consecutive Month

Chicago's relief rolls declined in November for the fifth consecutive month, Leo M. Lyons, Chicago relief commissioner, reported yesterday. During the month 85,916 cases were assisted by the CRA, compared with 88,482 in October, and 97,804 in November of 1939. November was the seventh consecutive month to show an increase of closed cases, due to persons becoming self supporting. These totaled 1,132.

JUDGE RAPS U. S. DELAY IN CASES OF 22 PRISONERS

Orders Hearing for All in Unique Action.

Judge Woodward.

Twenty-two unindicted prisoners from the county jail will be brought before Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward this morning for a hearing on what the court yesterday termed unwarranted delay in the handling of their cases by government prosecutors.

The hearing, without precedent in the history of the federal court here, was ordered by the judge himself as the result of the government's failure to be ready for trial in a routine auto theft case which had been pending since September. The defendant in this case had been locked up in jail all the time because he was unable to post bond.

"It's a shame to keep men behind bars without a day in court," Judge Woodward said. "They have some rights, too. Some might be innocent. At any rate there should be a determination one way or the other.

Three Juries Fail to Act.

"We have plenty of judges to try them and plenty of government prosecutors. We have had three grand juries since September. I'm going to find out why there has been no action in a number of pending cases."

Records in the office of Hoyt King, federal District court clerk, disclosed that on Oct. 22, when United States Attorney J. Albert Woll took office, 14 cases involving prisoners in the county jail had been pending since July 1 or Oct. 1. The new prosecutor issued a formal order on Oct. 28, it was learned, directing that these cases be presented to the grand jury without delay.

Woll refused to comment on Judge Woodward's charges pending today's hearing. Sources in his office, however, said priority requirements of older cases held back those now pending. They predicted grand jury action in most of the present cases within the next few days.

Judge Releases Defendant.

The defendant in the auto case which precipitated Judge Woodward's unusual action was Harold Lawrence, 35 years old of Janesville, Wis. Federal prosecutors were granted a continuance in his case on Tuesday on the ground that several out of town witnesses had not arrived to testify. When the case was called again yesterday, the government announced it was still unprepared.

The defense protested and on the motion of Luis Kutner, defense attorney, the court entered a finding of not guilty and released Lawrence.

Judge Woodward then began investigating the cases of other federal prisoners in county jail. He examined court records himself and then dictated the order granting 22 of them a mass hearing today. The order has the effect of a writ of habeas corpus on the court's own motion. Legal experts said it would be possible in such a proceeding for the court to order the immediate release of any or all of the prisoners.

The case of one of the prisoners has been pending since September; 10 others have been awaiting grand jury action since October and the remaining 11 have been held less than a month, records show.

3 STARS PRESENT SATURDAY OPERA SAMPLE ON W-G-N

Three stars of the Chicago Opera company appeared as guests on the W-G-N Pageant of Melody last evening. They presented a colorful preview of "The Jewels of the Madonna" which is to be staged Saturday afternoon in the Civic Opera house. Musical moments of the opera were presented by Frederick Jagel, tenor, and Dusolina Giannini, soprano, who will sing the leading rôles in the opera on Saturday, and by Carlo Morelli, baritone, who took the place of George Czaplicki, who was ill.

The tragic story of this opera of love and passion, of cammorists and terror, and of a sacrilege was related to the accompaniment of music by the W-G-N orchestra, directed by Henry Weber. John Weigel was the narrator. Selections presented included "Balatella," "Serenade," the intermezzo, "Prayer," and the duet from the second act.

William A. Bacher produced the Pageant of Melody.

Plays on W-G-N

(Story in adjoining column.)

Actress Ruth Gordon, who will play part of Benedict Arnold's wife in "Breathes There a Man," play to be given on "In Chicago Tonight" program over W-G-N.

FAMED PATRIOTIC POEM TO LIVE ON W-G-N TONIGHT

'Breathes There a Man' to Star Ruth Gordon.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Ruth Gordon, the noted actress, will play Mrs. Benedict Arnold in a play entitled "Breathes There a Man—" as the highlight of the program In Chicago Tonight, which will be heard over W-G-N-Mutual this evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The play, by Forrest Barnes and Ashmead Scott, gets its name, of course, from the lines of Sir Walter Scott's "Lay of the Last Minstrel":

"Breathes there a man with soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said:
This is my own, my native land?
Whose heart hath ne'er within him burned
As home his footsteps he hath turned
From wandering on a foreign strand.

Story of Woman's Devotion.

The play tells the story of the devotion and loyalty of Margaret Shippen Arnold to her husband until his death in Britain. It reveals how she kept her vows tho he was a traitor to his. The play also deals with Gen. Arnold's great service to the American Revolutionary cause prior to the bitterness that led him to betray it.

Miss Gordon, who is starring in the comedy "Here Today" at the Selwyn theater, will be supported in the radio play by Bret Morrison as Gen. Arnold and DeWitt McBride as George Washington.

Comedy and Song, Too.

Comedy and song by Mischa Auer and Leni Lynn, film personalities now appearing at the Chicago theater, will round out the program. Leni will sing Foster's "Jeannie with the Light Brown Hair" and an operatic aria. Auer will be featured in a comedy contribution of the type for which he is famous in Hollywood.

William A. Bacher will produce tonight's show and Harold Stokes and the W-G-N Dance orchestra will provide the musical setting.

TIGER GIRL'S PAL ASKS CLEMENCY IN 1933 MURDER

A petition for executive clemency for Leo Minneci, serving 199 years in Joliet penitentiary for aiding in the murder of Gustav Hoeh in 1933, was filed yesterday with Gov. John Stelle. The plea was made by Minneci's brother, Christ, 1604 Ohio street. Minneci's associate, George Dale, was electrocuted for the crime. Their girl-companion, Eleanor Jarman, known as the "Tiger Girl," recently escaped from Dwight reformatory where she was serving a life term. She is still a fugitive.

Emergency Rescue.

Bernadotte Schmitt, professor of modern history at the University of Chicago, and Mrs. Schmitt encountered Count Sforza, one of the speakers at the Emergency Rescue committee dinner Monday evening, as they boarded a northbound I. C. train at 57th street at 2:15 o'clock the day after the dinner. Count Sforza was greatly upset because he could not remember the name of the hotel where he was stopping, and he had to get back to it, pick up his bags, and catch a 4 o'clock train for New York.

"I think the name of the hotel is something like the name of an English soap," he worried, brows puckered.

"Pears soap," supplied Prof. Schmitt.

"Pearson hotel," added Mrs. Schmitt.

The Pearson was just where the count was stopping.

Reunion in Janesville.

This column counts as its 1940 achievement the reuniting of a family and the acquisition, by a daughter made fatherless in the last world war, of photographs and letters in her father's possession when he was killed at the battle of Amiens. A little item printed here in connection with National Art week was responsible. One Scotty McGlone, we said, had offered the windows of his garage on East Delaware place as display space for paintings by Chicago artists. A woman in Janesville, Wis., read it and wondered if it could possibly be her uncle from Scotland, whom she knew was in this country. She wrote to him. It was.

* * *

The story is this: On the night before the battle at Amiens four brothers met, two of them in the American Expeditionary forces, two in the British, on a hunch that it might be a last supper for some one of them. The two Americans were killed the next day; the two Scotsmen survived. After the war—in 1922—one of them came to America, bringing with him his brothers' few possessions—photographs and letters—to give to his brother's daughter. He was Scotty McGlone, now the garage proprietor. He found her, or rather she found him, 18 years after his arrival, thru the piece in this column. He went to visit his niece last Sunday and took her the mementos he had saved for her all these years. His brother was Felix McGlone, an employé of THE TRIBUNE, who enlisted with the British Expeditionary force. His name, with a star before it, is on the list of Tribune soldiers and sailors on the bronze tablet in the foyer of Tribune Tower.

Wanted—Tall Man, Pretty Girl.

Chicago's Christmas benefit, to be held next Wednesday evening, which hopes to raise funds to outfit 80,000 needy children in new clothing and shoes for Christmas, needs a very, very tall, thin man to represent Uncle Sam in a spectacle to be interpolated among the theatrical numbers at the benefit, and a very pretty girl, tallish, but weight not more than 120 pounds. If you fill the bill and can offer your services, call Madeline Woods Ross at Randolph 6600. We asked a tall man we know—he's six feet six—but he declined, saying he was five feet eighteen.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1940: By Ely Culbertson.]

Most of the questions on play in the recent examination were answered correctly by a large percentage of readers. Question 40, however, was an exception:

You are West, declarer at an optimistic six heart contract. [The opponents made no bid.] Your hand and dummy are as follows:

WEST [declarer]	EAST [dummy]
♠QJ	♠K10
♥A108762	♥Q53
♦AJ10	♦KQ97
♣A8	♣KQJ10

North opens the spade ace, then shifts to a low club. What is your one chance to avoid the loss of a trump trick and fulfill your contract? In other words, how do you play the trump suit? [The defenders are experts.]

Only about half of the answers reaching me pointed out that the heart queen thru South is the correct play, and of that number only a small percentage proved their right to the 20 points' credit by noting that the one position of outstanding trumps that could bring success to the declarer was K-9-4 in the South hand, with the singleton jack in the North hand. A great many of the people who guessed the proper play of the queen probably were motivated by the hope that South, if he held the K-9 or K-4 would not cover the queen. It was not my idea to give credit for a good guess, without the right reason. Hence, my inclusion of the warning, "the defenders are experts."

Actually, since all contestants had the opportunity to mull over the questions before mailing in their answers, to lay out the cards and prove the possible winning play, it is disappointing that the proportion of right answers was not at least 98 per cent. All any one had to do was take the missing trumps, namely the K-J-9-4, and arrange them in all possible positions. [This, indeed, is what a player should do mentally at the bridge table.] Under such scrutiny, it should have become apparent that the only position of cards that would permit declarer to run the trump suit without loss was the blank jack in the North hand and, consequently, the K-9-4 in the South hand. There was no real excuse for the examinees who answered "Play the ace and hope to drop the blank king." They should have seen with their own eyes that dropping the king on the first round would leave an unavoidable trump loser still at large. Equally, there was no excuse for the hundreds of defeatists who, probably thinking I had included a trick question, answered that the contract simply could not be made.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 diamond	Double	1 heart	1 spade
2 diamonds	3 spades	Pass	4 spades
Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened the queen of diamonds and South took stock.

West's vulnerable rebid of the diamonds indicated that he had started with a six card suit. If South won with the king of diamonds, West would take the first trump lead with the ace of spades and lead the jack of diamonds. Since East must have started with a singleton diamond, East would be able to ruff away dummy's ace and South would thus lose a club, two diamonds, and a trump.

Declarer, therefore, won the first trick in dummy with the ace of diamonds and prepared for a later entry to his own hand by leading a club. West won, but could not strike a real blow for the defense. He led a diamond and East ruffed. The heart return was taken by dummy, and South ruffed a club in order to lead a trump. West took the ace of spades immediately, and led a third diamond, but East had no more trumps.

It is true that East had his opportunity to ruff a diamond, but he did not ruff away a high diamond. South, therefore, lost only one diamond trick, one club, and one trump, and made his contract.

Woman's Band Plays Haydn in Style of 1940

BY EDWARD BARRY.

In Orchestra hall last night the Woman's Symphony orchestra, Izler Solomon conducting, met and solved one of the most serious problems with which such an organization can be confronted—that of taking an 18th century work which is unassuming in outline and thinly scored and making it seem musically plausible to modern ears.

The work was Haydn's Symphony No. 26, in D minor, which is called the "Christmas" symphony [or, alternatively, the "Lamentation" symphony] for no reason that the score reveals or the musicologists have discovered. This was the work's first performance in Chicago and probably its first in America.

Mr. Solomon and his musicians made the work plausible not by bringing in any extraneous showmanship or by changing the instrumentation radically, but by introducing slightly stronger accents, and a slightly sturdier general musical plan than the 18th century was wont to employ. Thus the work last night had the added vividness and eloquence which large modern halls demand and to which modern ears have become accustomed.

The purely instrumental parts of the program included also the ballet fantasy from Eleanor Everest Freer's "A Legend of Spain," and the Sibelius symphonic fantasy, "Pohjola's Daughter."

The assisting group last night was the Chicago Symphonic choir, Walter Aschenbrenner, director. It offered sacred and secular, folk and art, ancient and modern songs. In general the performance was characterized by precision of style and purity of tone.

Miss Mary Alice (Peggy) Gratiot Making Debut New Year's Day

BY JUDITH CASS.

AND still they come, the engraved white cards that bid one come to a party to meet a young woman who is making her bow into adult society. The invitations to Miss Peggy Gratiot's debut tea on New Year's day carry the names of the bud [Mary Alice is her real name, but no one but her grandmother calls her that], her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Arthur Gratiot, and her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Alfred Thomson Martin. They will receive from 4 until 7 o'clock at the Gratiot home, 1100 Pelham road, Winnetka.

Miss Gratiot arrives at home from Vassar college next Thursday, but her brother, Peter, does not return from M. I. T. until the day before Christmas. Following the tea on Jan. 1 Mrs. John Meigs Butler and her debutante, Betty, will give a buffet supper and hockey party for Miss Gratiot and her assistants. The supper will be at the Butler home in Winnetka.

Miss Butler, who made her formal bow to society at a tea in the early autumn, comes back from Smith college on Dec. 21.

Eleanore Zeiss Makes Her Debut Day After Christmas.

The day after Christmas has been selected as the date for Miss Eleanore Zeiss' debut tea. It will be given at the Dearborn parkway house of the bud's grandmother, Mrs. Charles S. Williamson, which Miss Zeiss' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Zeiss of Winnetka, are occupying this winter. Mrs. Williamson has been living in Pasadena for several years and it was hoped that she would be here for her granddaughter's debut, but it is doubtful if she will come east this winter. Miss Zeiss, a sophomore at Vassar, comes to Chicago for the holiday season next Wednesday.

Because a debut breakfast dovetails more satisfactorily than a luncheon with the plans of her fellow debutantes, Miss Tannisse Twyman and her parents, the Robert Twymans, have decided on this form of party for Monday, Dec. 30. The breakfast will be given at noon in the Arts club, and Miss Angeline Johnson, Miss Jeanne Stenson, Miss Frances Amberg, and Miss Muriel MacChesney will assist the debutante.

From the moment she arrives at home from Pine Manor on Dec. 19 Miss Twyman will share in the debutante whirl. Her aunt, Miss Evelyn Thomas, will give a dinner party for her at the Electric club on Dec. 28, with the Princeton Triangle show as a climax. Mrs. Arthur Jones of Glencoe, too, will entertain for her niece. Her party, with tobogganing to follow dinner at the Skokie Country club, will be given shortly after the first of the year.

Postdebutantes and Miss Twyman's classmates from Chicago Latin school and Pine Manor, as well as some of Mrs. Twyman's friends, will be included in the debut breakfast on the 30th.

Dr. Brown Giving Dinner for Wilson-Sheldon Bridal Party.

Dr. R. Gordon Brown, who will be best man Saturday at the home wedding of Miss Elizabeth Ann Sheldon and Arnold Jordan Wilson Jr., will arrive from Philadelphia in time to entertain the bridal party at dinner tomorrow night in the home of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Brown of Winnetka.

Last of the prenuptial parties will be the luncheon which the senior Wilsons of La Salle and New York will give Saturday at the Indian Hill Country club.

Out of town guests who will attend the 8:30 o'clock ceremony Saturday in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Sheldon of Glencoe, include her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Schadosky of La Porte, Ind.; the groom's grandmothers, Mrs. R. V. De Groff and Mrs. George Alexander Wilson; Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Fitch of La Salle, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander McWilliams of Dwight, James R. Ware and John Blomstrom of Detroit, and Miss Flora Sauer of Miami, Fla.

Bride and Bride-to-Be Will Be Party Guests.

Mrs. Grover Winston and her daughter, Miss Diana Winston, are giving a cocktail party on Friday, Dec. 20, for a bride-to-be, Miss Denise Root, and a recent bride, Mrs. Herbert Paulson, and her husband, who is associated with the University of Chicago. Miss Root's engagement to Ernest W. Eversz was announced recently. The party will be in the Winstons' apartment at the Seneca hotel.

The J. Beach Clows are giving a cocktail party at the Racquet club this evening for the directors of the North Side Boys' club, and their wives, preceding the annual dinner at the club. Mr. Clow is president of the board. After dinner the boys of the club, which is located at 621 West Elm street, will give a program.

There will be dozens of her contemporaries in the Continental room of the Stevens hotel tonight to see Evelyn Lawrence make her debut as a dancer with Paul Shahin. Miss Lawrence's mother, Mrs. Samuel D. Rowe, and Mr. Rowe, also will be there and so will the Harold Pynchons and the Perry Kenlys, among others. Miss Lawrence is going to limit her dancing to Thursday nights at the Continental room and to charity appearances, for the time being. On Saturday night she and Mr. Shahin will dance at the Book ball the Women's Faculty club of Northwestern university medical school is giving at the Knickerbocker hotel.

Miss Louisa Burrows Departs Today for Arizona.

There will be no snow and ice where Miss Louisa Burrows is going to spend Christmas, for she departs today to spend the holidays on the desert near Chandler, Ariz., at the home of Miss Helen Brinton. Miss Burrows will go on to California for a visit or two before returning to Chicago in mid-January. Miss Burrows' sister, Mrs. John C. Pitcher, and Mr. Pitcher are planning a southern trip for later in the winter.

Marquise d'Ivanrey will not be coming to Chicago for Christmas, as her family and friends were hoping she would. She is going to Palm Beach. According to present plans, it will be several months before the former Italia Blair comes to Chicago again.

Mrs. Robert J. Thorne arrived at home yesterday from Lantana, Fla., where she visited her son-in-law and daughter, the Charles L. Peets, in their home near Palm Beach.

A second son was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Peale Bent on Monday night at St. Luke's hospital. Mrs. Bent is the former Mary Reed, daughter of Mrs. Kersey Coates Reed and granddaughter of Mrs. John G. Shedd. The Peales' older child is John P. Jr.

Neil Burnham Williams was born yesterday morning in the Evanston hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Neil Williams. He is their first child and also the first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Burnham. Mrs. Williams was Miss Mardi Burnham.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Charles McCabe of Wilmette announce the birth of a son, George, on Dec. 6 at St. Luke's hospital. Mrs. McCabe was Miss Helen Rogan.

Long Ago Days Are Recalled by Scarf Revival

BY REA SEEGER.

Scarfs have been misused so long that only in the memory of the oldest inhabitant were the lovely things treasured for what they were made for . . . softening flattery around the neck and shoulderlines. This holiday season, however, will be remembered for the revival of scarfs and ascots that could never be desecrated by the vandal fingers that unimaginatively tie anything in the shape of cloth round the head. Even the hardened head winder will pause before starting the winding.

One romantic scarf is of pale pink chiffon, printed with a pair of what look like cobweb thin, black lace squares against the pink. The effect is particularly decorative, and how your pet aunt or granny will enjoy the soft folds round her shoulders.

The thin black lace squares and triangles are back again, the dancing dresses of this year's vintage, ideal backgrounds for these seductive blacks. The printed chiffon squares come in delectable color combines, shell pink with scarlet, pale blue with jade green, mauve with gold, and so on. The printed designs are fragile and flattering. Bold, gawdy contrasts are reserved for the thin challis and woolen squares.

If you're looking for new two-toned velvet ascots to tuck in the collar of a dark winter coat, see the red and green combines, fire red on one side, Christmas green on the other. Then there is a brown and gold affair, and similar combines that are ideal gift buys.

Striped angora scarfs are new, the colors are knockouts. The stripes run horizontally and the scarf itself is about 12 inches wide and twice as long.

Metallic ribbon scarfs of the same style also come in clever combinations of colors and widths of stripes. These are perfect accents for dress parade jackets in dark shades. Thick grosgrain ribbon scarfs and ascots are bright and gay, with floral patterns or checks, huge plaids, and eye blinding stripes with unusual plain monotones in moires like magenta and tangerine.

BY CECIL SMITH.

The conducting of Fritz Reiner was again the eighth wonder of the world in last evening's second and final performance of "Der Rosenkavalier." Now that Arturo Toscanini no longer concerns himself with opera, it is possible to make a strong case for Mr. Reiner as the finest operatic conductor in this hemisphere.

How the orchestral score glowed and sparkled! How miraculously the singers were supported and followed, to the last nuance, without any loss of unity and coherence in the score as a whole! How the waltzes bounced and lilted, and how graciously the lyric passages were given that exquisite warmth which stops just on the right side of sentimentality!

With this assistance in the pit, so much more wonderful than any singer ordinarily dares dream of, Risé Stevens made her deferred debut as Octavian, and established herself as the best of the six protagonists of the part Chicago has seen in its 15 years of "Rosenkavalier" experience. Her mezzo-soprano voice is as smooth as cream, and expertly controled, and she sings the music with complete mastery and understanding.

Miss Stevens is the only Octavian we have seen who really looks like a boy. She is wise enough not to overdo the job of imitating masculine crudities of stance and movement, yet she never forgets and lapses into inadvertent feminine gestures or quirks. Her comedy masquerade scene with Emanuel List in the inn, in the third act, was a masterpiece of vocal and physical caricature.

Miss Bokor made a winsome and appealing Sophie. [At the previous performance she had sung Octavian at the last moment.] She likewise had a good grasp of the music, tho it would be less than candid to pretend that the glorious presentation scene does not require a voice of greater sensuous charm.

All the individual performances were excellent, with Maria Hussa truly regal in her bearing as the princess, and most affecting in her singing, and with the accomplished Emanuel List in much mellower and riper mood than 10 days ago.

My unbridled prolixity yesterday morning forced the omission of a few remarks upon Tuesday's "Salome." I intended to indicate that Frederick Jagel's Herod was one of his best pieces of vocal characterization, that Carl Alwin conducted with exemplary knowledge of the score, that Fred Destal presented a believable Jokanaan, and that the five gentlemen who impersonated the quarrelsome Jews were very good indeed.

WOMAN'S AND MISS' LINGERIE.

Every woman likes feminine, dainty lingerie, especially house coats, negligees, and nightgowns. Today's two patterns are designed with just the flattery women prefer. Princess lines prevail in the house coat, which also may be a house frock, if the skirt and sleeves are shortened. The nightie has long sleeves with snug cuffs, a pointed-up waistline, and slim lines thruout.

Style No. 3286 is designed for sizes 12, 14, and 16, and 36, 38, and 40 inch bust measurements. Size 16 requires 3½ yards of 54 inch material for full length housecoat.

Style No. 2643 is designed for sizes 14 and 16, and 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44 inch bust measurements. Size 36 requires 4½ yards of 39 inch material, with 1½ yards of ruffling.

Each pattern costs 10 cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred — wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Dies Committee Support Pledged by Woman's Club

The Chicago Woman's club yesterday completed arrangements to approach every Illinois senator and representative in behalf of the Dies committee investigating un-American activities. Members residing in the 11 Chicago area districts pledged themselves to call upon or write their respective representatives. Mrs. John T. Mason of Aurora, was empowered to enlist women workers in the other Illinois districts. The action came following a suggestion made by Mrs. John L. Whitehurst of Baltimore, Md., to the club on a visit the previous day.

Stock, His Band and Kreisler Have Great Day

BY MARCIA WINN.

Once in 10 years the Chicago Symphony orchestra goes off the path of orchestral orthodoxy and just has a fine old time of it at rehearsal. It did yesterday.

Fritz Kreisler had a fine old time of it, too. He stood before the orchestra in striped shirt sleeves, perspiration running down his neck and a wide smile relieving his usually grave features, his leonine gray head shaking as he worked busily, magnificently, away on his 1711 Stradivarius. Once he stopped, and all stopped, as he suggested that one melodic phrase be played on the harpsichord instead of the piano. Then he sawed away again, as did all.

The few auditors in empty Orchestra hall sat in quiet, rapt awe. That which was happening, they said, happens rarely in the life of orchestra or layman, for the orchestra and Kreisler were playing the great violinist's orchestration of Vieutemps' concerto No. 4 in D minor.

They will not play it today or tomorrow, when Kreisler is guest artist at the symphony's Thursday-Friday concerts. Nor had it ever before been played in final form, for Kreisler finished it in the late summer when toiling, he said, to free his mind of the European turmoil. But the Chicago orchestra leader had heard OF it and, in tribute to Kreisler, played it with him during what would have been a routine rehearsal.

That the orchestra liked it was indicated by the men's spontaneous fanfare at its conclusion. That Dr. Frederick Stock liked it was indicated by the approving nods of his white head as he sat in the pit while Hans Lange conducted. That Kreisler, who had been playing without a score, liked it was indicated by his gay flourishes as he prepared to strap his Stradivarius into its case.

"Maybe once in ten years we would do something like this," Joseph Faerber, a first violinist, confided proudly. "It's a special favor to Dr. Kreisler. He's very easy to play with," he added. "Very patient."

"And the orchestra!" began Kreisler. "It's wonderful how they read it. They never saw a note of it until this morning. Mr. Lange never saw a note. . . It's most unusual.

"I don't know how the golden jubilee [The symphony is celebrating its 50th anniversary this year; Kreisler, now 65, is in his 58th concert year.] is going to make the orchestra better," he added in splendid reflection. "I don't see how it could."

The Odor of Violets

By Baynard Kendrick

[Copyright: 1940: By Baynard Kendrick.]

SYNOPSIS.

Leaving their house guest, Cheli Scott, Norma Tredwill goes to the city to break up the romance between her libertine ex-husband, Paul Gerente, and her stepdaughter, Barbara. She sees Barbara leaving Paul's apartment—and discovers Paul murdered. Duncan Maclain, a blind detective, receives a visitor who claims to be Paul Gerente—with orders in code from the naval intelligence. They are instructions in case New York is plunged into darkness by war, giving the five vital locations where sabotage might occur. Maclain refuses to divulge them to his visitor. Maclain surprises Cameron, who lives below Paul, in the apartment with the dead man. Cameron confesses to the murder, claiming a girl, Hilda Lestrade, witnessed it. Maclain doubts his story. Norma longs to ask advice of Bunny Carter, president of the aircraft works where her stepson, Gilbert, is a designing engineer, but she does not dare for fear of implicating Barbara in the murder. Barbara disappears. Norma is injured by a falling wardrobe in Gilbert's workroom. Col. Gray, head of the New York defense plans, commissions Maclain and his partner, Spud, to investigate spy activities in connection with the murder and the bombing sight Gilbert Tredwill has designed. Maclain tricks Hilda Lestrade into accusing Cameron of murder. With his dogs, Maclain goes to the Tredwill home, ostensibly to solve Barbara's disappearance. He investigates Norma's accident and discovers the plans for the bombing sight have been traced.

INSTALMENT XXII.

THE GALOSHES.

Pierce went out and softly closed the door. Norma settled herself more comfortably and stared at the patterned wall paper close to the ceiling. There was no point to involving herself and Babs in Paul's murder. Some man had already confessed. Babs was bound to learn about it shortly and reappear with some plausible explanation as to why she went away.

It was better to talk with Capt. Maclain immediately and avoid any suspicion of reticence. She had managed, so far, to keep her trip to New York a secret. It was true Thad had learned from Stacy about Babs' appointment for dinner. But Norma had no intention of saying more; of breaking down the last doubt which Thad could cling to—a comforting doubt that Barbara had kept her date with Paul. If it was possible to fool the police and her husband's family, Norma reflected, she certainly had nothing to fear from this blind man, Capt. Maclain.

Her voice was determined and free of worry when she called "Come in!" to his knock. The dog came first, a beautiful German shepherd with lolling tongue. The captain followed and paused just inside the door.

"Mrs. Tredwill?"

"Yes." Norma stopped, touched with self-consciousness, wondering if she should direct him to a chair. The dog saved her the embarrassment by guiding Maclain directly to one near the bedside.

"I'm Duncan Maclain." He touched the chair with a movement almost too swift to follow, found it free of encumbrances, and sat down. "And this is Schnucke." The German shepherd acknowledged mention with a friendly wag of her tail.

Norma was silent, lost in the fascination of watching the captain smile. Somehow she had formed an idea that blind men moved clumsily, and were generally shoddy. Duncan Maclain, quick and at ease, fitted the picture not at all.

His evening clothes were faultless. The neatness of his crisp black hair, and the insouciant touch of his white tie attested to his chauffeur's additional skill as a valet.

Nothing overshadowed his smile. It brought his face to life with a striking animation which called for response. Caught by its charm, Norma realized that most people wore masks thru life. Maclain's features spoke, showing character and pleasure, thought and ability, warming her with their pleasant glow.

"You wanted to talk with me, I believe," Norma began. "I'll be glad to tell you all I can."

"That's awfully kind of you. I'm up here trying to help Mr. Tredwill locate his daughter. I'm wondering if her disappearance had any bearing on what happened to you."

"To me?" she parried. Her trip to New York was uppermost in her thoughts. How much did this man know?

One of Maclain's long fingers reached down to touch the dog beside him. Norma watched it, wondering if he'd noticed perturbation in her tone.

"Last night," he said, "when that wardrobe was pushed on you."

"Pushed on me?" She raised a hand to her forehead. "I've been puzzled about that all day. At first I thought it just fell."

"It couldn't have," he assured her gravely. "Some one was hiding behind it and took the only chance of escaping discovery. Who did you think was there?"

She was silent for a while, finding the unfathomable blankness of his eyes disconcerting. The longer she kept him on her adventure in the workshop, the longer he'd postpone questions about what happened during the day.

"I thought it was one of the maids," she said at last. "Something happened when I came in from the Carters."

"Tell me about it, please. There are many things I need to know."

He sat unmoving while she related the incident of her glove in the downstairs hall. It was only necessary to remember that she had been at Bunny's—not in New York. There was nothing implicating after she got home. Her story flowed easily.

"You say you were playing bridge with the Carters?" he inquired casually when she was finished.

"Yes," Norma began, twisting at the edge of the spread. "I didn't get home until very late. They wanted me to spend the night on account of the storm, but Cheli was here alone."

Maclain got up abruptly and Schnucke stood up beside him. Under her guidance he crossed to the windows. The draperies were drawn, but the Captain found them and pushed them aside. With his back to Norma he had the appearance of a man with sight staring out into a dark world covered with snow.

"You mentioned a package. I suppose that was a Christmas present from the Carters to you."

"Yes," said Norma. "I think that's what Bella wanted to peek at down in the hall."

"This was after two?"

"It was very late. It must have been well after two."

"Were you asleep when Stacy telephoned?"

"No, I couldn't sleep."

"Why? You must have been upset about something to lie awake after such a long evening."

"Too much bridge, I guess." It was like answering some impersonal machine that couldn't even see her smile.

"Stacy telephoned about half part four?"

"Maybe later." Norma made an effort to sound thoughtful and sincere. "I can't be sure."

"Then Bella might have dropped your glove any time between two and half past four."

"Yes," said Norma. "I suppose so."

"That would give her plenty of time to open the package and look in it," said Maclain. "Did she?"

Norma pressed her fingers hard above her eyes. Did the girl look in the package? What had that to do with it? He never followed a single line. What was he getting at now? She said:

"Really, I don't know."

"You said you missed the glove when you picked up the package to bring it upstairs. I can tell in a moment, by feeling the wrappings, if it's been opened before. His friendly voice was lowered when he added, "If the package is here."

"I put it away." That sounded frightfully weak to her. She said more firmly, "It doesn't make any difference, does it, Capt. Maclain?"

"No." The captain turned and rested himself against the edge of the windowsill. "Why, after leaving your gloves and package downstairs for two hours and a half, did you decide to bring them up when you answered Stacy's call?"

Norma put a hand to her throat, feeling it would help her to answer steadily. "I saw that the glove was gone."

"But you said that you didn't see that until you picked up the package. Why were you bringing that package upstairs, Mrs. Tredwill, after you answered the telephone?"

"Does it make any difference?" Norma began to cry.

"None," said Maclain. "Young Stacy is a most observant boy. The description he gave me of his vanished sister included a pair of galoshes that she wore into New York yesterday. These galoshes are in her closet now. How did they get there, Mrs. Tredwill? The police will certainly want to know, and lying will weigh heavily on your conscience if that girl should die."

Where hardness would have only stiffened her resistance, she broke completely under his sympathetic tone. The truth came sobbingly, but the welcome relief of telling it left her apathetically calm.

"You say your husband saw that notice in the paper yesterday morning?" he asked her when she was thru.

"I think so. The paper was open to the column when I picked it up downstairs."

"That's strange," said Maclain. "I thought he learned about that notice from me. I think I'll go upstairs, Mrs. Tredwill, and talk with that servant girl."

Looking at Hollywood by John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., Dec. 11.—I hear Metro has bought Jerome Kern's song, "The Last Time I Saw Paris," for $10,000—which is a lot for one tune—and will film a superspecial around the title. . . . A local publicity man turned up bearing multiple injuries today and said he had fallen down a flight of stairs—a very long flight. And Ingrid Bergman's shiner may delay the start of Metro's "Rage in Heaven." Miss B. came by her hurt innocently enough. She was swinging her child, and the swing swang when she wasn't looking and badly cut her under the eye. It spoiled her for making some poster shots for Columbia's "Legacy" which is shortly to be released. . . . Cary Grant yesterday denied he was going to marry Barbara Hutton. . . . Priscilla Lane, who got thru a severe early winter in New York, was bedded by flu four days after returning to this so-called healthful climate. . . . The Jane Wyman-Ronald Reagan child, due in mid-January, will have a layette designed by Orry-Kelly. First baby job the Warner fashion king ever did. Might make a picture layout for somebody.

* * *

Ah, pity, pity, Constance Worth. Australian girl, ex-wife of George Brent. Real name Joy Howarth. When she came here four years ago she made a picture at R.-K.-O. and the studio gave her the Constance Worth tag because in the same film was an actor named Vincent Hayworth. Studio thought the public might be confused. [Editor's note: This may be so, but studios get confused quicker than the public.] Then she went to Columbia, tried to use her name but was foiled again because Rita Hayworth was in the same picture. [Another editor's note: Hayworth's real name is Cansino.] Now she's back at Columbia again to do "The Return of Boston Blackie" and they still won't let her call herself Joy Howarth.

* * *

Bill Tilden, who hasn't made a movie for 11 years, has started a how-to-do-it short at Warners. So many writers and actors have been dropping by the studio courts to see him work that the Tilden production has been shifted to the Ambassador hotel's tournament layout. . . . Betty Davis, who lived in more than 80 rented homes before buying two recently—one here and one in Vermont—will have her first family reunion at Christmas. Guests will be her sister, brother-in-law, and niece, her mother and a cousin, John Favor, who's in the movies. That's all the family she has—and that's an eagle in Hollywood. . . . They've got a new name for John Garfield, who plays a befuddled guy in "The Sea Wolf." On the set they're calling him the man who came to suffer. . . . Jonn Huston quotes his noted father, Walter, as saying he's so glad to get back to Hollywood that he's going to stay here three years and won't do any Broadway plays in that time. Walter is currently working in "The Outlaw."

Paulette Goddard has been making wardrobes and makeup tests for her rôle in Jimmy Roosevelt's "Pot o' Gold." Jimmy Stewart finishes at Metro in "Ziegfeld Girl" this week and goes to the R.-K.-O.-Pathe lot Monday to begin his chore with Miss Goddard. . . . Frank Lloyd would like to have Robert Preston for the male lead in "The Lady from Cheyenne," opposite Loretta Young. . . . Wonder why Columbia switched the title of "June Mad" to "Her First Beau." . . . Judy Canova's next will be "Sis Hopkins," and Republic is searching for a print of the Mabel Normand original to show at a Sis Hopkins party.

Certain holiday recipes are so much in demand at this time of year that I'm going to devote this column to a few of the most popular, as indicated by this department's mail requests. Most of the recipes have appeared in these columns in other years.

Jubilee Fruit Cake.

[2 loaves.]

2 cups shortening
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup white sugar
4 eggs
2 cups unsweetened applesauce
4 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons soda
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup seeded raisins
1 cup dates, cut coarse
1 cup Brazil nuts, cut coarse
2 teaspoons each, cinnamon, nutmeg, allspice
1 cup small gumdrops.

Cream shortening and sugar thoroly, beat in unbeaten eggs, and add applesauce. Add sifted flour, salt and soda, fruit, nuts, spices and gumdrops. Stir to mix. Bake in greased pans from 45 to 50 minutes, in a 350 degree oven.

Cranberry Freeze.

[Serves six.]

2 cups cranberries
¾ cup water
1 cup sugar
½ orange, grated rind and juice
½ pint whipping cream.

Cook cranberries and water in covered saucepan until berries are soft. Press thru a sieve and add sugar. Cook 10 minutes longer, adding grated orange rind during last 2 minutes. Add orange juice and cool. Whip cream and fold into cranberry mixture. Freeze until firm in refrigerator tray, at coldest temperature.

Yankee Plum Pudding.

1 cup ground beef suet
1 cup molasses
3 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
1 cup raisins
1 cup nuts.

Work suet with the hands until creamy. Add molasses. Sift dry ingredients together and add alternately with milk. Dredge raisins and nuts with part of the flour and add. Fill greased molds two-thirds full and cover tightly. Steam for 3 hours and serve hot with hard sauce or a fruity pudding sauce.

Turkish Delight Candy.

[100 jelly cubes.]

2 cups sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup boiling water
2 tablespoons plain gelatin
½ cup cold water
¼ teaspoon peppermint extract
½ teaspoon cinnamon extract
Red and green coloring.

Heat sugar, salt, and boiling water to boiling point. Pour cold water in a bowl and sprinkle gelatin on top. Let soak 5 minutes. Add to hot sirup and stir until dissolved. Boil very slowly for 15 minutes, remove from heat, and divide in two portions. Tint one red, and add cinnamon extract. Tint the other part green and flavor with peppermint. Rinse two pans in cold water and pour in candy to a depth of ¾ inch. Keep in a cool place, not the refrigerator, for at least 12 hours. With a wet, sharp knife, loosen candy around the edges of the pans and trun out on a board lightly covered with confectioners' sugar. Cut into cubes and roll in confectioners' sugar.

Numerology

By Evelyn Holmes

Dec. 12, 1940.

Universal day—Don't take too much for granted today. It will pay to move with caution.

Birthdays—Edward G. Robinson is being wished a Happy Birthday today. He ought to have a bigger and better year in 1941, gaining more publicity and enjoying his rôles more with greater opportunity to portray the type of characters he likes. A three-year should prove a little more active and considerably gayer after the more retiring two-year. If your birthday is today, then you can smile and get ready for more social activity and aim for greater expression of your personality.

Would you like to know what kind of a year 1941 will be for you? Send for your personal yearly, monthly, and daily guide.

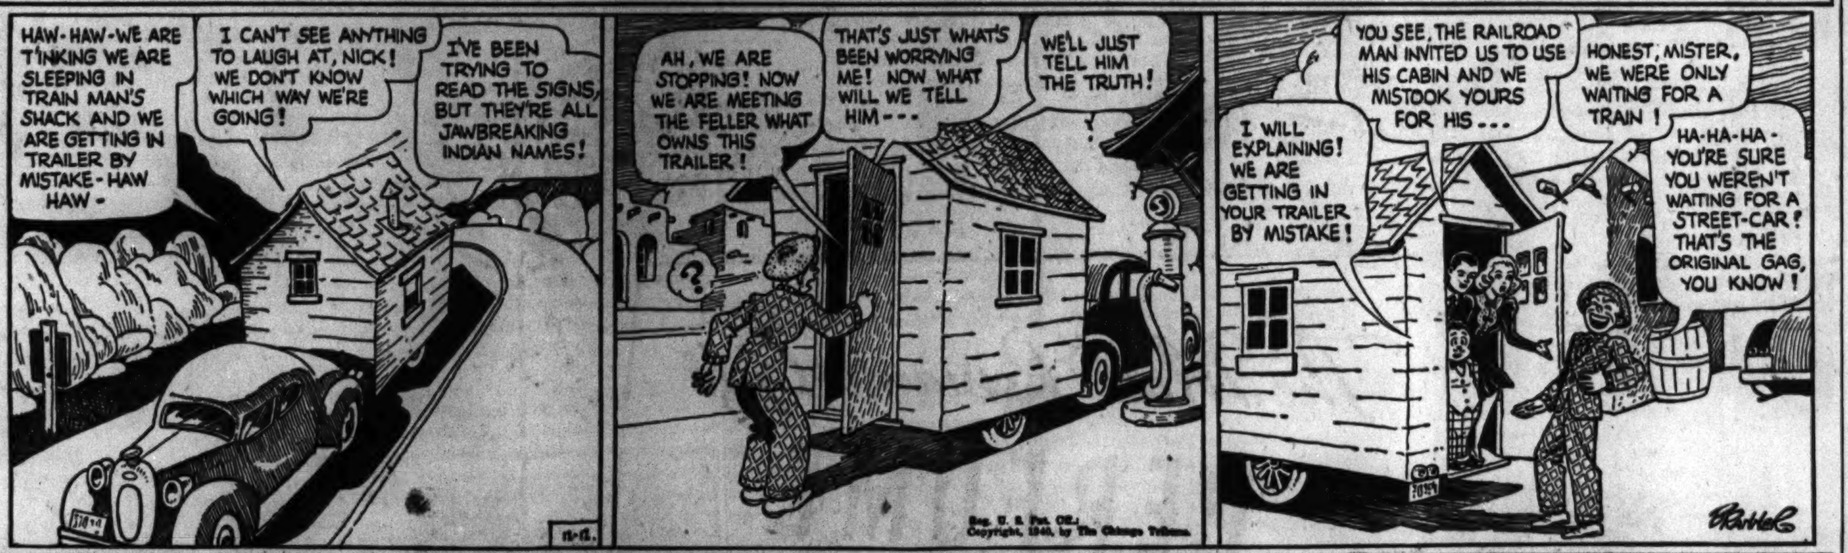
WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: That Ain't th' Way I Heered It



HAW-HAW-WE ARE T'INKING WE ARE SLEEPING IN TRAIN MAN'S SHACK AND WE ARE GETTING IN TRAILER BY MISTAKE-HAW HAW-
I CAN'T SEE ANYTHING TO LAUGH AT, NICK! WE DON'T KNOW WHICH WAY WE'RE GOING!
I'VE BEEN TRYING TO READ THE SIGNS, BUT THEY'RE ALL JAWBREAKING INDIAN NAMES!
AH, WE ARE STOPPING! NOW WE ARE MEETING THE FELLER WHAT OWNS THIS TRAILER!
THAT'S JUST WHAT'S BEEN WORRYING ME! NOW WHAT WILL WE TELL HIM---
WE'LL JUST TELL HIM THE TRUTH!
I WILL EXPLAINING! WE ARE GETTING IN YOUR TRAILER BY MISTAKE!
YOU SEE, THE RAILROAD MAN INVITED US TO USE HIS CABIN AND WE MISTOOK YOURS FOR HIS...
HONEST, MISTER, WE WERE ONLY WAITING FOR A TRAIN!
HA-HA-HA- YOU'RE SURE YOU WEREN'T WAITING FOR A STREET-CAR? THAT'S THE ORIGINAL GAG, YOU KNOW!

Friends Keep Soon-to-Weds Busy Partying

With Dec. 28, the date of their marriage, only a little more than two weeks away, Miss Virginia Winston's and Herbert C. De Young's calendars are being filled with parties. Miss Winston, daughter of the James H. Winstons of Evanston, and Mr. De Young will be married at a small wedding in the chapel of St. James Episcopal church, to be followed by a large reception at the Woman's Athletic club.

Altho many of the parties which will be given for the young couple will be surprises, three are definite. On Dec. 22 Fred C. Hack Jr., who will usher at the wedding, will give a tea at his parents' home in Evanston.

George W. Dixon Jr., who also will usher, and Mrs. Dixon are planning a party for the couple on Dec. 23 at their home in North Dearborn street.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers Follansbee are sending out invitations for a dinner party at their Evanston home for the night of Dec. 27. Next day Mrs. Follansbee will be matron of honor for Miss Winston.

Yesterday was literally a red letter day for Miss Winston, for the Cercle des Jeunes of the Alliance Française showered her with red and white gifts for her kitchen. The Chicago Junior league, of which Miss Winston is president, added their gay red and white pots and pans and kitchen towels to those of the Cercle.

Even the tea table, presided over by Mrs. Winfield Scott Brainerd and Mrs. Giuseppe Garibaldi, was decorated in red and white, and Mrs. Edward Mahon, who gave a monolog entitled "What Kind of a Scene Shall I Make?" wore a white gown and carried a splashy red chiffon handkerchief.

Among those who attended the shower were Miss Winston's mother, her new sister-in-law, Mrs. Albert Winston [Elizabeth Buchen]; Mrs. Ralph James, Mrs. Walter S. Bracken, Mrs. George Craig, Miss Emily Larned, and Mrs. Ralph Winston.

The Christmas bazar of the American Daughters of Sweden will be opened today in the West room of Hotel Sherman. Mrs. Hedwig Melinder is president of the group.

The Housewife

Let the man who's fussy about his ties press them himself. It's not so hard as it sounds if you give him one of the new tie-pressers that are shaped to fit a cravat and that slip into it, pressing out the wrinkles in no time. These pressers are flat, are made of metal and are heated by electricity. They are convenient gadgets to have when traveling, or for home use. And they cost very little.

'Stop Hitler' Is Futile Cry Says Church Leader

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Atlantic City, N. J., Dec. 11.—The asserted futility of the "Stop Hitler" slogan as a remedy for the present world situation was the base of the presidential address of Dr. George A. Buttrick of New York, delivered tonight before the biennial convention of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

Dr. Buttrick condemned trends toward evasion of the causes of the present conflict and the substitution of name calling as a solution of the international situation.

"How many people are content to simplify issues that are far from simple," Dr. Buttrick said. "'Stop Hitler!' We stopped him under another name 20 years ago. Here is one of the appalling dilemmas of our time: Germany, like our own land, yearns for peace; but by trying to stop Hitler, and in some way we must, we united Germany in his support."

Earlier today the federal council and other agencies in joint sessions took up the plight of conscientious objectors to military service. Protection of the individual conscience and not opposition to the draft was cited in a seminar as the basis of action by Dr. Charles F. Boss Jr. of Chicago, head of the Methodist commission for world peace.

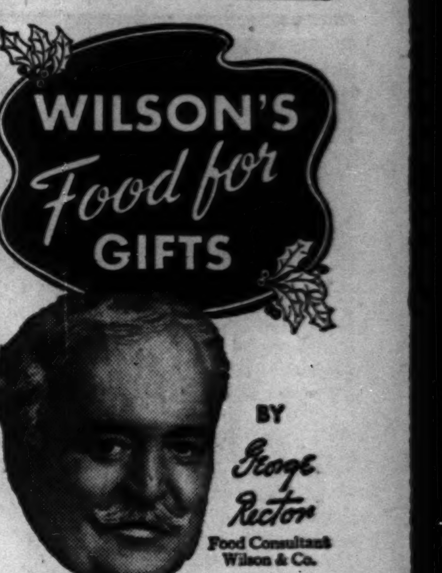
"PYGMALION"
By GEORGE BERNARD SHAW



If the very waistline of Santa himself doesn't suggest "food for gifts," then I'm not George Rector. So why not finish off a whopping part of your shopping list with one visit to your market? You'll find that whether you're buying for rich or poor, man or woman, Wilson's meat products will delight them and reflect radiance on the giver.

P. S.—A stock of these same Wilson's foods in your home will make it an easier and merrier Christmas for you.

Tender Made Ham
Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

When you give a Wilson's Tender Made Ham you're giving a fork-tender, ready-to-eat delicacy that's the finest of its kind. You can buy this choice ham in Christmasy wrappings, bone in; or, boneless, in tins (whole, half, or family-size) with all the rich juices sealed in.

Easy Decorating Trick

To give that personal touch to your Christmas Hams, decorate them with "holly leaves," cut from citron sliced thin. Trace leaf veins with paring knife. Use red cinnamon candies for holly berries. Cover ham with a glaze made of syrup, honey or melted jelly. Fasten "holly leaves" on ham with toothpicks. Heat ham in moderate oven to "firm" the glaze.

LANDIS BALKS MAC PHAIL ON DEAL FOR ROOKIE

LOYOLA QUINTET WINS, 72 TO 42; A RECORD SCORE

And Arkansas State Is Victim Again.

(Picture on page 31.)

Loyola university set a new scoring record for Rambler basketball last night, defeating Arkansas State, 72 to 42, in Loyola gymnasium. The score bettered the high mark of 67 points made two years ago against the same school.

Despite Loyola's total, it was Wayne Parker, Arkansas State's 6 foot 3 inch sophomore center, who took scoring honors with 25 points. Mickey Rottner, Loyola's ace, scored on nine baskets to run his season's total to 52 points in three games. Art Double, sophomore forward, led the Ramblers with 20 points.

The game was close for the first 10 minutes of play until Parker sank his fourth basket to tie the count at 12 apiece. Then Rottner and Vinny Graham accounted for 10 Loyola points before Parker scored again. The half count was 38 to 18 in favor of Loyola. Lineups:

PURDUE WINS, 50-19

Lafayette, Ind., Dec. 11 [Special].—Purdue's defending Big Ten champions trounced the Wayne university quintet here tonight, 50 to 19. It was the third straight victory for Purdue, and the first defeat in three starts for the Detroit team.

Coach Ward Lambert kept shifting combinations so often that Wayne was as bewildered trying to keep track of substitutions as it was by Purdue's harrying pressure defense that kept the visitors from getting their set offense organized.

A makeshift quintet, with four reserves and Don Blanken, started the game and held a 9 to 1 lead midway of the first half. The other Boilermaker veterans then joined Blanken and, sparked by Frosty Sprowl, jumped the margin to 24 to 5 at the half.

Sprowl Gets 14 Points.

In the second half Purdue led, 41 to 13, with nine minutes left, when Lambert cleaned the bench. Purdue used 18 players.

Sprowl led the Boilermaker scoring with five field goals and four free throws for a total of 14 points. He was followed by Capt. Bob Igney with five field goals for a total of 10. Lineups:

The World's Champions Celebrate

A couple of guys named Joe also get together at the dinner table. At the left is Joe Mihal, another of the team's giant tacklers, talking things over with Joe Maniaci, whose powerhouse running from full back helps make the Bears famed T formation click successfully.

Danny Fortmann (left), an all-league guard, has no trouble disposing of his victory dinner, and neither does his teammate, Ray McLean, one of the team's younger half backs.

HALAS ENGINEERS CARDINALS' DEAL FOR KIMBROUGH

Acts to Aid Rival While Other Owners Talk.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

George Halas today is the most discussed man in football. Praise for the astounding team he has gathered under the banner of the Chicago Bears is being run side by side in the press thruout the country with comment on his knack for barter and manipulation in the National league's annual draft.

This comment is not exactly favorable to the energetic ex-ensign who has devoted a career to building professional football. Some owners and experts profess to see a menace to the game's future in the studied, astute maneuvers by which Halas has been able to corner the draft.

In Washington Tuesday there were those who slipped out of the draft meeting chuckling over the twist fate gave to the coin which determined whether the Cardinals or Pittsburgh were to have second choice in the draft. Halas owned Pittsburgh's choice. The Cardinals won the toss and took John Kimbrough of Texas A. & M., who was expected to be Halas' first choice.

Halas Helped Cardinals.

But now it is known it was no mere quirk of fate that gave Kimbrough to the Cardinals. It was George Halas.

Agreeing with some of the arguments presented in the prolonged discussion over what to do with Halas, the Bear owner and coach decided to make some concessions to the league for the good of the game. Without announcing his intentions, Halas sought out Jimmy Conzelman and asked whether the Cardinals were interested in the line smashing cadet whom Halas once described as the nearest thing to Bronko Nagurski he had ever seen.

Conzelman said they were. "If you want him, take him," said Halas. "I'll take somebody else." He then instructed Pittsburgh to take Norman Standlee, the Stanford full back, as its first choice, instead of Kimbrough. Under the circumstances the flip of the coin merely decided whether the Cardinals would have to wait until Pittsburgh drafted Standlee or could announce the selection of Kimbrough immediately after Philadelphia had taken Tom Harmon for the Bears.

Lambeau Boosts Halas.

It was apparent thruout the two day meeting that Halas' chief objective was to establish once and for all that he and he alone was going to run the Bears' business. Turning Kimbrough over to the Cardinals without telling the other owners was one of his methods of putting the dissenters in their places. Not all owners attacked him, tho, and some of his backers are among those who must have the most traffic with the Bear juggernaut, by reason of being western division franchise holders.

"I take my hat off to him," said Curley Lambeau of the Green Bay Packers. "Naturally I don't want the Bears to get anything but a little weaker. We have to meet them twice every fall. But Halas outsmarted us all, he had a legal right to all the men he could get and he was doing exactly what I would have done if I were smart."

Bears Get Checks.

Halas returned from the meeting yesterday, arriving in time to take his team to lunch. At the Congress hotel he distributed the playoff checks, $873.99 per share, and told the champions to be ready to leave for California early next week.

Sid Luckman, Joe Stydahar, and Harry Clark hurried off to trains to visit relatives in the east for a few days. Clyde Turner went to Texas, where he'll put on cowboy boots, get out his pinto, and go tell the neighbors just how it was possible to make 73 points in one afternoon in a championship game. Other players also will go home for several days.

ONE MORE GAME OF FOOTBALL FOR HARMON, HE SAYS

Draft? Only the Army or Open Door Kind.

Hummelstown, Pa., Dec. 11 [Special].—Tommy Harmon, University of Michigan football star, who will be graduated next spring and who was claimed by the Chicago Bears in the National league's annual draft, tonight indicated that he is going to stay out of the professional game.

Harmon, who has declared all along that he has his eye on a career in radio, told a high school football team at a banquet that "only the United States government or an open door will get me in a draft.

One Game More to Play.

"Except for one game in which I expect to play," he added, "my hard work in preparing for football is over. But now I'm working just as hard to prepare myself for the game of life."

His reference might have been to the East-West game for charity to be played in San Francisco on New Year's day.

Harmon earlier in the day conferred in New York with Donald Flamm, president of radio station WMCA, and Douglas Hertz, head of the New York Yankees of the American Football league.

Both Harmon and Flamm said their conference was not about a job with WMCA, but was a long "informative discussion" in which Tommy sought—and received—advice.

Radio Comes First.

Afterward Harmon, who had asked his name be withdrawn from the National league draft list, said he hadn't made up his mind about the pro game.

"I'm committed to no one yet," he explained, "and I won't make any decision about my commercial career until after I graduate. However, I haven't altogether given up on pro football. I will say, tho, that I will play professional ball only if what I want in radio doesn't work out."

YANKS SIGN KIMBROUGH?

New York, Dec. 11 (AP).—Douglas G. Hertz, president of the New York Yankees of the American Football league, announced tonight that John Kimbrough, Texas A. & M. full back, had agreed by telephone to play with the Yankees next season.

Hertz said Kimbrough would arrive here by plane tomorrow night to complete the deal.

Kimbrough was drafted by the Chicago Cardinals of the National league at yesterday's meeting in Washington, D. C.

JACK DENIES JOHN AGREED.

College Station, Tex., Dec. 11 (AP).—Jack Kimbrough, brother and roommate of John Kimbrough, Texas A. & M. full back, tonight denied that John had agreed to play with the New York Yankees of the American Professional Football league next season.

John was unavailable, but brother Jack said he had listened in on the conversation between the Aggie star and Yankee officials.

"John may make a trip to New York to see the city," Jack said, "but there were no strings attached and John did not agree to sign a contract."

EVASHEVSKI WON'T PLAY.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 11 [Special].—Forest Evashevski, captain and blocking quarter back of the University of Michigan football team, today said he will not play professional football if he can make proper business connections after graduation next spring.

Evashevski, 198 pound husky who was rated the best blocking back in the Western conference, was obtained by the Washington Redskins in the National Football league draft yesterday. The Redskins haven't made him an offer yet, Evashevski said.

He was hampered by a shoulder injury the last two seasons, which is one of the reasons why Evashevski is cool to pro football.

Paul Dean Loses Tonsils in Operation at Dallas

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 11 (AP).—Paul Dean, New York Giants' pitcher, underwent a tonsilectomy yesterday. Paul said he was bothered last season with a sore throat and that a swelling of his knees was attributed to infected tonsils.

RULES DODGERS CAN'T PURCHASE DRAFTED STAR

Phils Lose Chance for $7,500 Profit.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis last night wasted no words in thwarting the efforts of National league club officials to circumvent the law or spirit of the player draft. After questioning four club officials in his "court room" for exactly three hours anent the specific case of Pitcher Rube Melton, formerly of the Columbus American association club, the commissioner issued the following statement:

"The Philadelphia-Brooklyn agreement covering the assignment of Ruben Melton is disapproved."

The commissioner did not amplify the ruling. However, the baseball witnesses had a well clarified idea of the futility of trying to sidestep the intent of baseball law involving the barter and sale of baseball chattels.

MacPhail Has an Idea.

Gerry Nugent, president of the Phillies, selected Pitcher Melton as second choice in the draft, held the day before the 1940 world series. As president of the eighth place club in the National league, Nugent was entitled to second pick in the 1940 draft, first pick going to the Athletics, who finished eighth in the American league.

The Dodgers, most energetic of all major league clubs in rebuilding for 1941, had 14th choice, having finished second in the National league. It was a matter of common knowledge that the 14th pick would harvest a slim crop. So Larry MacPhail, president of the Brooklyns, had a big, if not ingenious idea. He talked to Nugent, who admittedly was short of paper money at the time [for this was prior to Nugent's sale to this same MacPhail of Pitcher Kirby Higbe for $100,000].

Offers a Quick $7,500 Profit.

According to evidence gleaned by Landis' operatives, MacPhail told Nugent that if he would claim a certain player, the draft price being $7,500, Nugent could make $7,500 without ever having the player measured for a Philly uniform. In other words, MacPhail agreed to pay $15,000 for a player who had just cost $7,500, according to the story. Rapid turnover indeed.

But, went on the little flesh mart saga, Nugent did not pick the player designated by MacPhail. He did pick Melton, and MacPhail, according to developments confirmed by the brief ruling yesterday, also coveted Melton.

In due course, Nugent recorded his desire to sell Melton to the Dodgers. It was this agreement that Landis quashed after yesterday's rather stormy inquisitorial session.

Cubs Are Cleared.

Other principals at the hearing besides MacPhail and Nugent were Clarence Rowland, former head player-purchaser for the Cubs and still the Cubs' charm expert, and Manager Doc Prothro of the Phillies. Clarence got into the picture because he had sought to purchase Melton from the Cardinals, owners of the Columbus club, before the draft. Prothro said, in effect, that he was waiting for a street car while all the maneuvering was going on.

Warren Giles, business manager of the Cincinnati Reds, who had been invited to the session, did not attend. Giles explained he never had any interest in the purchase or draft of Melton at any time.

A Raised Voice Is Heard.

The hearing was private except at such times as raised voices penetrated the oak panels of the "courtroom." One such voice was set down as saying, "You are a suspicious man who thinks every one is a crook. You are not interested in anything except pointing the finger of suspicion at every one in the game."

It was said that this little bon mot was not directed at Commissioner Landis, but at a member of his official staff. It was said the comment was not a part of the Melton case, but had to do with salary claims made by Outfielder Jimmy Ripple, briefly with Brooklyn but later acquired by the Cincinnati Reds via Montreal.

The Landis hearing polished off ten days of baseball meetings and many nights of swap talk, most of it

What They Did

FOLLOWING are developments during yesterday's closing sessions of the major league meetings in the Palmer House:

Commissioner K. M. Landis blocked Phillies' proposed sale of Rookie Pitcher Rube Melton to the Dodgers.

Landis reëlected to new four year term, extending to 1946.

Night baseball games limited to seven in each major league park, Landis casting deciding vote.

WOMAN ROLLS 11 STRIKES IN ROW FOR A 298 GAME

Pabsts Get 1,103 Total for Another Record.

Two national records were broken and an all-time Chicago record was bettered last night when Sarah Hannblom, a member of the Pabst Blue Ribbon women's team, bowled 298 and her team piled up a 1,103 total in the final of a three game series with the Metz Bowlrite Shoes in the Congress Women's Major league. The Pabsts won two of the three games.

Mrs. Hannblom rolled 11 strikes, but left the 1-2 pins on her try for a perfect game. The 298 gave her the highest game—by two pins—reported for women's competition this season to the American Bowling congress and the highest game on record in a Chicago women's league.

Four of her teammates also bettered 200 in that game, bringing up the 1,103 total, which is 31 pins higher than the previous high submitted to the A. B. C. by a women's team this year.

The Pabsts' 2,907 series also was third high in the nation. All of the bowlers on both teams rolled honor roll scores—better than 500—with Mrs. Hannblom's 642 leading. The Pabsts score:

CLASSIC LEAGUE SCORES

The Monarch Beers regained a tie with the Pabsts in the Classic Bowling league by winning the odd game of a three game series with the Pabsts at Chicago recreation last night. Dick Winsberg led the Monarchs with a 671 total, high for the league. The Blatz Beers won two from Koenig Brau, Ruppert Knickerbockers scored twice over the Ambrosias, and the Michelobs defeated Schlitz twice. Scores:

CRANE DEFEATS KELLY, 4 TO 3, FOR SOCCER CROWN

Crane Tech won its fourth Chicago public high school soccer championship yesterday by defeating Kelly, 4 to 3, in Sparta stadium. Crane led at the half, 2 to 1.

Three penalty kicks were awarded by Referee Vic Neate in the opening period and goals resulted from all of them. Charles Petruzalek, center forward, put Kelly ahead, 1 to 0, in the first two minutes of play. Phil Greenspan, outside right, tied the score five minutes later for Crane, and then put his team in the lead near the end of the half with another perfect penalty shot.

Joseph Morgenstern tallied from 10 yards out with five minutes remaining to score two points and send Crane ahead, 4 to 1. With one-half minute to go, Ray Wilcop rammed in a thirty yard drive for Kelly.

Crane will meet Oak Park Saturday at 11 a. m. in the Oak Park stadium for the county championship.

Reds Called Sport's Best Team of 1940

New York, Dec. 11 (AP).—The Cincinnati Reds, successors to the Yankees as baseball's world champions, inherited another former Yankee property today when they were voted the outstanding team of the year.

Twenty-six out of 62 sports editors participating in the 10th annual Associated Press poll put the Reds at the head of their list for winning their second straight National league pennant and then whipping the Detroit Tigers in the world series. In all, the Reds got 121 points, which are figured on a basis of three for a first place vote, two for second, and one for third.

Yankees Entirely Out.

The Yankees, after leading for four straight years, failed to get a point.

It was the ninth time that the world series winner topped the poll. In the first year, 1931, the experts selected Southern California's high scoring football machine for the honor.

Three of this season's leading elevens occupied the places directly below the Reds. Minnesota's Western conference champions, with 67 points and eight first place votes, were runners-up; Stanford, which in one year moved from the cellar to the title in the Pacific coast conference, placed third with 36 and eight, and the Texas Aggies were fourth with 34 and seven.

Other sports represented were rowing, pro football, pro and amateur hockey, pro and amateur basketball, golf, track, bobsledding, and polo.

Husker Oarsmen Cited.

The only ones to rate more than three points were the University of Washington oarsmen, who won the annual four mile race at Poughkeepsie; the Chicago Bears, startling 73 to 0 winners over the Washington Redskins in the pro football playoff; the New York Rangers, who came thru to victory in the National Hockey's league Stanley cup series, and the Indiana university basketball team which won the N. C. A. A. title.

Football, with nine college and pro teams, had the best representation. The Tigers, tho beaten by the Reds in the world series, were given sixth place for their surprising victory in the American league pennant race. The St. Louis Browns, who finished sixth in the American league, got one point for this showing.

futile. The White Sox failed to make a deal here or at the minor league meeting at Atlanta. The Cubs had to be content with the one that brought them Shortstop Billy Myers from the Reds in exchange for Outfielder Jim Gleeson and Shortstop Bobby Mattick.

While MacPhail was one of the first witnesses summoned to the stand yesterday, the Dodgers' recent $350,000 preparation drive for a pennant team did not bog down.

At the moment MacPhail was on Landis' carpet there were reports the Dodgers had obtained Pitcher Monte Pearson on waivers from the Yankees.

Wins Four World Series Games.

Pearson has been a member of the Yankees for five years, going to the New York outfit with Steve Sundra in a trade for Johnny Allen in December, 1935. Before that swap he was with Cleveland three years. Monte pitched a no-hit game against Cleveland Aug. 27, 1938. He won one game in each of the four years he played in the world series with the Yankees.

In other actions yesterday, the majors reëlected Commissioner Landis for a four year term, voted down another spring all-star game, and limited night baseball to seven home games in a long, argumentative session.

Landis cast the deciding vote in the stormy debate over restricting night baseball after the club owners had argued for more than an hour on the National league's proposal to extend its seven game rule to also govern the American league.

Last year the St. Louis Browns had been given permission to play 14 games, and the Philadelphia Athletics eight. In its own session Tuesday, the American league lined up against a seven game limit, and the argument carried over into yesterday's joint meeting.

After the lengthy discussion, the club owners voted in league units, for and against, and Landis voted with the National league. The club owners were not polled.

Not a Representative Game.

The reason given for discontinuing a spring training all-star game such as was held for war relief in Tampa, Fla., last spring, was that all clubs could not be represented. Another proposal, to contribute baseball equipment to army training camps, was held in abeyance until a conference could be held with army officials.

The leagues voted to have two clubs meet in an annual exhibition at Cooperstown, N. Y., for the benefit of baseball's hall of fame, and tentatively arranged a contest between the world champion Cincinnati Reds and Cleveland Indians for next June 13.

The reëlection of Landis a year in advance of the expiration of his term had been a foregone conclusion and was unanimous. The new term will run to Jan. 12, 1946, with an annual salary of $65,000. Landis accepted.

The leagues voted to place any player accepted into the army on a special national defense service list, which will not count against the player limits of the clubs. The same rule will govern the minors.

A disability list also was created, permitting the removing of two injured players from the active roster. The present rule, allowing Sunday double headers after the first three weeks, except two in St. Louis, was continued, and another appropriation of $20,000 was voted for the American Legion Junior baseball program.

Prep Swimmers Meet Today in Junior Division

Preliminaries in the junior division of the 26th annual Chicago Public High school league swim meet will be held this afternoon in the University of Chicago. Twenty-five schools, headed by Lane Tech, defending champion, will compete.

The finals in both the junior and senior divisions will be held tomorrow night in the Chicago pool. Lane Tech also is defending champion in the senior division.

LINE UP BOMBS, GUNS AGAINST ROOSTING CROWS

10,000 Seen in Northern Illinois Rookery.

BY BOB BECKER.

Altho northern Illinois doesn't have the large winter crow population that now may be found in the central and southern part of the state, we have located a rookery in northern Illinois with more than 10,000 birds in it, so sportsmen who want to do a little crow hunting [over decoys] later this winter should be able to get plenty of sport from this big crow gathering. And there are other rookeries in the northern part of the state on which we now are getting further information.

We noticed the start of this big winter gathering of crows several months ago when we were hunting. Since that time we have wondered if the rookery might have increased enough to make it possible for the department of conservation's predator control division to bomb it effectively.

The Crows Come to Roost.

Frank N. Davis of Havana, Ill., who is in charge of this work, says he needs at least 4,000 crows on a rookery to do an efficient job of bombing at night. Yesterday Davis met us in northern Illinois to check the rookery, which is just about three-quarters of a mile from where it was several weeks ago.

We watched the afternoon gathering of crows for four hours. They came from every direction with the flight especially heavy after 3:45 p. m. At times we counted the birds in the air as they passed us on their way into their roost. Davis made his count, too. We found that after 4 o'clock there were periods when the crows went past us at the rate of 256 per minute—a continuous flight of big, black birds which next spring may be counted on to eat many an egg from pheasant, quail, and song-bird nests. At 5 o'clock Davis remarked that the rookery undoubtedly held more than 10,000 crows.

50,000 in Downstate Rookeries.

This is one of the largest roosts Davis has seen in the northern part of the state which has small winter crow groups as compared to the down-state rookeries, some of which have 50,000 birds. The division of predator control is considering plans to bomb this northern Illinois roost later in the month. [Right now the moon is too bright for successful bomb attacks against the rookery.]

If sportsmen in northern and central Illinois know of crow rookeries in their counties this department would like to have information about them. The larger ones may be bombed, and around the smaller ones it will be possible to get some good winter crow hunting.

HAWKS TO MEET AMERICANS IN GARDEN TONIGHT

March, Gottselig Miss Two Game Trip.

Manager Paul Thompson took 15 Blackhawks east yesterday for two games, the first in Madison Square Garden against the New York Americans tonight and the second in Toronto against the Maple Leafs, National Hockey league leaders, Saturday.

After Saturday's contest the Hawks and Leafs will entrain for Chicago to meet in the Chicago Stadium Sunday night.

The Americans and Hawks have met twice this season. The New Yorkers won the first game, 1 to 0, and the other game ended in a 2 to 2 tie.

Hawks, Leafs Even.

The Leafs and Hawks are all even in two contests. The Hawks blanked their Canadian foes, 1 to 0, in Toronto and the Leafs came right back to defeat the Hawks in the Stadium, 4 to 2.

The Blackhawks' absentees on the current trip are Mush March and Johnny Gottselig. March, who worked out with the Hawks both Monday and Tuesday, was on skates again yesterday just prior to their departure and complained of a slight soreness in his right leg, which was injured in the Red Wings' game at Detroit, Friday, Nov. 29. Following advice of the club's physician, Manager Thompson decided not to use March until next Sunday. Gottselig will also play against the Maple Leafs.

Seek Exit from Cellar.

Despite their position at the bottom of the league leader, the Americans are at their best when they battle the Hawks. Tonight they'll have a chance to climb out of their lowly position as the Canadiens, who are in sixth place only a half game ahead, are at Toronto playing the Maple Leafs. The Leafs have lost only two games this season of six played on their home ice. In their home games they have scored 17 times.

TEACHERS' FIVE WINS, 37-22, FOR FOURTH VICTORY

The Chicago Teachers college basketball team won its fourth victory of the season yesterday by whipping American College of Physical Education, 37 to 22, on the Teachers court. The Teachers led, 14 to 9, at the half.

Capt. Joe King, guard and Sy Mazur, sophomore center, paced the Teachers' attack with 11 points each on five baskets and a free throw. The Teachers play the invading Arkansas State team tomorrow.

BRUINS SUMMON CENTER AND WING FROM FARM CLUB

Boston, Mass., Dec. 11 (AP).—Left Wing Gordon Bruce and Center Terry Reardon of the Hershey club of the American Hockey league, were ordered to report to the Boston Bruins of the National Hockey league tonight. Hershey is a Bruin farm team.

The Bruins have become dissatisfied with the play of their third forward line and it is likely that Mel Hill, Bill Hollett, or Herb Cain, now incapacitated with a fractured nose, will be sent to Hershey.

NOMINATE 179 FOR ARLINGTON STAKE; RECORD

176 Are Named to Run in American Derby.

A record number of 2 year old nominations to the Arlington Classic and the second greatest number since 1884 in the history of the American Derby have been made for the 1941 renewals of these two turf fixtures.

Original entry lists, now closed and announced yesterday, show that the thirteenth running of the Classic at Arlington Park has drawn 179 two year olds. The American Derby has drawn 176 nominees, a new high for the modern running of this race and the second greatest number since its inception in 1884. The record number of 2 year old nominations for the American Derby was set in 1902 when 331 were named.

Each Is $40,000 Race.

The Classic and the American Derby each has an added value of $40,000 and is at a mile and a quarter. These two 3 year old stakes will be run within three weeks of each other next July and August, the exact dates to be announced later. Their combined gross is expected to be $140,000.

Virtually every important stable in the country is represented. Both stakes attracted the best of the 1940 2 year old crop. The list includes 23 stake winners which accounted for most of the nation's important juvenile stakes.

Total of 190 Nominated.

Altogether 190 of the best 2 year olds, as demonstrated by performance and promise, are nominated; 165 for both stakes, 14 additional for the Classic but not the Derby, 11 for the Derby but not the Classic.

Heading the list are the colts Whirlaway and Our Boots; the champion filly, Level Best, and the runner-up in that division, Misty Isle. Alfred Vanderbilt led the number of entries, with seven including New World and Khoshbood, imported colt by the 1936 Epsom Derby winner, Mahmoud. The latter is the son of the 1930 Epsom winner, Blenheim II., whose first American crop includes Whirlaway.

Martin Takes Brown's Place in Windup Bout

Selman Martin, Chicago heavyweight, yesterday was substituted for Clarence Brown in a 10 round bout against Lem Franklin of Cleveland in Marigold Gardens Monday. Brown is said to have repudiated an agreement to go thru with the contest because of his duties as a sparmate for Joe Louis in Boston. Louis defends his heavyweight championship against Al McCoy in the Boston Garden Monday.

◆

Buddy Baer stopped off in Chicago yesterday en route from Boston to Oakland, Cal., where he faces Harold Blackshear of Monterey next Tuesday. Ancil Hoffman, manager of Buddy and his brother Max, said Mike Jacobs has offered Bud a title bout with Champion Louis in Kansas City.

He agreed to have the younger Baer meet Louis, but only if the encounter is held in Chicago or Los Angeles. The fact that the California boxing commission has gone on record as being against a proposed rematch between Louis and Arturo Godoy strengthens Bud's chances of being chosen as the champion's foe there next April, Hoffman said. The little manager also revealed that Max has been promised a match with Billy Conn in New York next May.

MOULTON URGES TAX BOOSTS TO AVOID INFLATION

Bricker Raps Levy on State Bonds.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Dr. Harold G. Moulton.

Hollywood, Fla., Dec. 11.—Dr. Harold G. Moulton, president of the Brookings Institution, today told the Investment Bankers association that the fiscal and tax policies now being shaped by the federal government will determine whether the country avoids inflation under the big defense spending.

In another speech, Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio said that removal of existing tax exemptions on securities of states and municipalities would contribute further to the breakdown of local government in the United States.

If the defense program is used as a cloak for a continuation of "pump priming" spending, the chances that inflation will be avoided will be greatly lessened, Moulton asserted.

Urges Curtailed Budget.

It is essential now, he declared, that the government drastically curtail its non-military expenditures and gear the tax system to bring in a substantial amount of additional revenue.

With the national income rising, he said, it should be possible to increase the tax revenues of the federal government to about 10 billions annually, compared with the average of 5½ billions in recent years. Over the three fiscal years 1941-'43, he estimated, an addition of 10 to 12 billions could be made to government income.

If government revenues are increased by this amount and non-defense outlays reduced, Moulton said, it should be possible to raise about half, and perhaps more, of the estimated 20 billions that will be spent for defense purposes.

Outlook Still Is Bad.

"In any case," he added, "the prospect is far from favorable. At best, the stimulating effects of the defense program will generate a sufficient increase in national income to enable us to prevent the national debt from increasing more rapidly than in recent years. And this outcome is contingent on a clear understanding of the realities of the situation, backed by a resolute determination to keep the nation's finances on a sound foundation."

It is imperative, he declared, that the government "confine its military spending to clearly established needs and not permit the excitement of the moment to increase the total beyond that point."

The country cannot afford, Moulton said, to avoid increased taxes on the mass of the people in order to prevent curtailment of consumer purchasing power.

State Prestige Impaired.

Gov. Bricker.

Gov. Bricker said that the federal government, under present taxing methods, has cut deeply into revenue sources of the states and other political subdivisions. As a result the political and financial prestige of the local governments has been impaired and would be further weakened if exemptions are lifted, he said.

The treasury's step in issuing the first wholly taxable securities this week is expected to renew the drive to remove tax exemptions from securities of all governmental units. Legislation for this purpose, defeated in the senate at the last session of congress, will be presented again at the next session.

Bricker referred to another proposal that has been made that the federal government handle all tax collections, handing back part to the states and thus avoid overlapping taxation of federal and state governments.

Basis of Sovereignty.

"That would be the last step," Bricker asserted, "in the destruction of state sovereignty, the basis of which is the power to levy and collect taxes. The federal government has already gone so far as to impair this power that it would take little more to completely destroy it."

Bricker said further that the welfare funds that are now collected by the federal government and turned back to the states should be remitted without restrictions of any kind.

At present, he said, federal agencies are dictating how the states shall handle such funds. As a result, he asserted, political considerations have been an influential factor in such spending.

American Airlines Carries Its 3 Millionth Passenger

American Airlines, Inc., carried its 3,000,000th passenger Tuesday, Charles A. Rheinstrom, vice president, announced yesterday. He said American was the first air transport company to carry that many passengers. The line carried its first passenger on April 1, 1927, the one millionth on Feb. 16, 1937, and its two millionth on Sept. 26, 1939.

Milwaukee Rd. Adds Another Streamliner

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

H. A. Scandrett.

Two milestones in railroad progress were celebrated yesterday by Chicago railroads. One was the placing in service of Chicago's newest streamliner, the Milwaukee road's Midwest Hiawatha, which will give Chicago high speed connection with Omaha and Sioux City, Ia., and Sioux Falls, S. D. The other was the celebration by the Santa Fe of more than 10 million miles of streamlined operation, of which 6,880,658 miles was Diesel-electric service.

Just before the Midwest Hiawatha left the Union station at 12:45 p. m. on its first trip, President H. A. Scandrett told what high speed streamlined train service has meant to the Milwaukee road in dollars and cents.

Take In 9 Million Income.

In five years and five months from June 1, 1935, to Oct. 31, 1940, the Milwaukee road's Hiawatha trains have carried 1,895,815 passengers and brought the road $9,295,166 in gross revenues, excluding dining car and buffet car returns, Scandrett said. After deducting out of pocket operating costs the road's streamliners have shown a profit of $5,665,903 for the period.

Scandrett explained that the "profit," of course, does not take into account the trains' proportionate share of track maintenance and similar costs which is difficult to ascertain.

The Midwest Hiawatha will run the 448 miles between Chicago and Omaha in 480 minutes. It will make connections by bus and local train with important Iowa cities a few miles off its route. The train will split at Manila, Ia., one section going to Omaha and the other to Sioux City and Sioux Falls, arriving at Omaha at 8:45 p. m. and at Sioux Falls at 11:55 p. m.

Runs 10½ Million Miles.

Fred G. Gurley, vice president of the Santa Fe, said that since the Super Chief made its first run pulled by a Diesel-electric locomotive on May 12, 1936, the road's fleet of sixteen streamliners have traveled a total of 10,423,399 miles.

The road now operates 59 Diesel-electric units, producing a total of 72,300 horsepower. It further has on order four additional passenger Diesel electrics, eight freight units, and three switching units, which will bring the total to 74 Diesel power units, representing a total of 92,800 horsepower.

EXPORT CONTROL CUTS SCRAP SHIPMENTS IN NOVEMBER 94 PER CENT

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11 (AP).—The government disclosed today that licenses for exports of iron and steel scrap, a substantial portion of which formerly went to Japan, had decreased 94 per cent from October to November under the export control plan.

Export controls were applied Oct. 16 to iron and steel scrap. It was announced that shipments after that date would be licensed only to Great Britain and countries in the western hemisphere.

Col. Russell L. Maxwell, administrator of export control, said in a statement:

"The success of these controls is clearly indicated by contrasting 59,070 short tons, the November figure for export licenses granted of iron and steel scrap, with the October figure of 1,195,301 short tons, a reduction of 94 per cent."

FIRST DOMESTIC PRODUCTION OF TOLUENE STARTS

New York, Dec. 11 [Special].—The Shell Oil Company, Inc., a subsidiary of the Shell Union Oil corporation, announced today that the first barrel of toluene from this country's first petroleum toluene refinery has been produced. Toluene, formerly produced from coal, is the basic ingredient of tri-nitro toluene, popularly known as T. N. T.

Construction of this plant at Houston, Tex., was begun four months ago and originally was scheduled to start production around Jan. 15.

In addition to wartime requirements, the company said, a growing list of peacetime uses for toluene is being found. The greatest industrial demand for the product at present is in the paint and lacquer industry, where it is used as a thinner.

TREASURY BOOKS ON TAXABLE NOTE OFFERING CLOSED

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11 (AP).—Secretary Henry Morgenthau Jr. announced that the treasury was closing its books on its new $500,000,000 fully taxable defense notes at midnight tonight.

Officials did not know yet how much of the five year notes bearing ¾ of 1 per cent interest had been subscribed. It was the first government issue subjected to all federal taxes.

Closing the books tonight, officials explained, meant that only subscriptions filed or mailed before midnight would be considered. The notes went on sale this morning and closing the books the same night was in accordance with usual treasury practice.

INDUSTRY ASKS U. S. TO CLARIFY DEFENSE AIMS

Prentis Raps Lack of Co-Ordination.

New York, Dec. 11 [Special].—Wholehearted support of the national defense program was pledged here today at the opening of the congress of American industry, representing 8,000 organizations which employ 2,000,000 workers.

John W. Hanes, former undersecretary of the treasury, asserted that "no sacrifice is too great" in financing national defense, after H. W. Prentis Jr., president of the National Association of Manufacturers, had sounded the congress keynote.

Prentis coupled his pledge of support with a plea for better government organization of its defense effort.

Advises Clear Program.

"There is lacking a clear definition of our defense objectives," he said. "What do we intend to protect? To what extent is the government proposing ultimately to reach out beyond those physical areas in which our national interests are directly at stake?"

Industry "is deeply concerned about the lack of coördination, delegated authority, and long range planning, essential to defense and urgently needed to guard against the inevitable aftermath of the armament boom," Prentis declared.

"The prime necessity is centralization of authority to expedite the determination by the responsible military and naval agencies of their defense needs. Thereafter, full responsibility for the production of needed equipment and material should be lodged in the defense commission."

Curb Ordinary Spending.

Warning that financial burdens would be enormous, he said that all ordinary government expenses should be curbed sound provisions made for new revenue for defense, and "every feasible step taken to encourage the use of private capital in defense industries."

Hanes declared the nation "must assume this defense burden whether it results eventually in lowering our national standard of living by one-fourth, one-third or one-half. No sacrifice will be too great. Some may think that a debt of 70 billions could be carried safely by the federal government. I do not think it would be wise."

He urged beginning to pay the bill now, raising enough in taxes to pay three-fourths of the cost of the defense program. He advocated broadening the income tax base with increased rates in the lower and middle brackets; taxing income from all future government bonds; revising the excess profits tax to make it "more equitable" and to increase revenue, and increasing the estate and gift taxes in the lower brackets.

PEPSI-COLA CO. VOTES $8; DROPS MERGER PLANS

New York, Dec. 11 (AP).—The Pepsi-Cola company today declared a dividend of $8 a share on the capital stock and announced that plans to merge with Loft, Inc., which owns about 80 per cent of its stock, had been abandoned for the time.

Walter S. Mack Jr., president, said the bureau of internal revenue had declined to approve proposals to merge Loft, Inc., into Pepsi-Cola as a "tax free" organization.

Sloan Details G. M.'s Part in Defense Plans

General Motors' part in the national defense program was given in detail yesterday by Alfred P. Sloan Jr., chairman of the corporation, in an announcement sent to stockholders. He said the corporation had received defense orders totaling $400,000,000.

General Motors has invested approximately $100,000,000 in plant facilities and working capital requirements in addition to those being provided by the government, Sloan said, to take care of its part in defense.

Plan Further Production.

In addition to orders actually placed, plans and studies for further defense material production are in progress in many divisions of the corporation, Sloan said. The company is making its facilities available for the mass production of parts for airplanes, he said.

Sloan's tabulation showed that Allison airplane engines account for two-fifths of the G. M. defense orders. Altho the plant, equipment and machinery for the production of Allison engines "are as yet far from complete, production has been going ahead in spite of difficulties encountered while the plant is being expanded and rearranged," the executive asserted.

350 Engines Each Month.

"Current production schedules are at the rate of 350 engines a month. All of the machinery required is expected to be available by September, 1941, and the plant should be in full capacity operation in a year from now. It is expected that capacity will be about 1,000 engines a month at that time."

The tabulation of General Motors defense orders follows:

Allison engines	$164,800,000
Machine guns	61,400,000
Diesel engines	46,400,000
*Miscellaneous	35,000,000
Trucks	20,000,000
Shells	9,500,000
Airplane equipment	7,000,000
Canada	60,300,000

*Fire control equipment, tank gun mounts, etc.

Set Jan. 7 Deadline to File Defense Amortization Plea

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11 [Special].—The National Defense Advisory commission today announced that Jan. 7 has been established as the ultimate time within which manufacturers may file applications for certificates permitting special amortization deductions from taxes for facilities built to handle defense contracts.

Dividends Are Voted by Five Chicago Banks

Two extras, an increased, an initial, and a special dividend were declared yesterday by five Chicago banking and financial institutions.

Directors of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank voted an extra dividend of $2 together with the regular quarterly disbursement of $2.50.

Chicago Title and Trust company lifted its dividend to $1.75 a share on the capital stock from the $1.50 paid in previous quarters. The board of directors authorized also a year-end bonus to employés of one third of one month's regular salary.

Votes $5 Initial Payment.

An initial dividend of $5 a share was ordered by directors of the Madison-Crawford National Bank, payable Jan. 25, the fifth anniversary of the institution. The board authorized also the transfer of $50,000 from undivided profits to surplus, making the surplus account equal to capital account, $200,000.

Directors of the Terminal National Bank of Chicago voted an extra dividend of 50 cents in addition to the regular semiannual payment of the same amount. Gaylord S. Morse, president, stated that the bank has had a satisfactory year from an earnings standpoint and that the prospects for 1941 are encouraging.

District National to Pay $2.

A special dividend of $1 was declared by the District National Bank of Chicago directors, who transferred in addition $5,000 to surplus, making a surplus account of $40,000. A 2 per cent stock dividend was paid earlier in the year.

CHICAGO METAL FIRM ENLARGES ITS WAREHOUSE

Defense program activities in the Chicago area have made necessary a half million dollar addition to the Central Steel and Wire company's $500,000 plant at 3000 West 51st street, in the Kenwood Manufacturing district. Work has just been started on a 200x600 foot warehouse unit and a one story office building, designed by Alfred S. Alschuler and R. N. Friedman. Completion is scheduled for next March 15.

The 120,000 square feet being added to the present warehouse will give the company one of Chicago's largest rooms, containing 300,000 square feet. It will be 500x600 feet.

There will be room for 20 railroad cars and loading accommodation for 50 motor trucks at one time inside the big warehouse.

The building to a great extent will be naturally lighted. Windows are more than 20 feet in height and the center portion has monitor skylights.

Steel will be hauled by huge cranes capable of carrying up to 40,000 pounds each.

The office unit will be fully air conditioned, illuminated with indirect fluorescent lights, and will have acoustically treated ceilings.

30,000 Hammermill Paper Common Shares Offered

An offering of 30,000 shares of Hammermill Paper company common stock was made at the close of the market yesterday by A. G. Becker & Co., and Merrill Lynch, E. A. Pierce & Cassatt, at a price of 25%. The stock was obtained from the estate of the company's late president, B. R. Behrend, and from his widow, and therefore does not represent new financing.

N. Y. EXCHANGE TRADING BAN TO STAY, SEC TOLD

Retain Restrictions in Other Cities.

Robert P. Boylan denies request to lift exchange ban.

New York, Dec. 11 (AP).—The New York Stock exchange today informed the Securities and Exchange commission it would not accede to the SEC request that it rescind its "multiple trading" ban. The exchange's attitude was outlined in a letter which the governors ordered sent to Sumner Pike, member of the SEC.

Opposition of the SEC followed protests by other stock exchanges that their business would be curtailed by enforcement of the ban.

Multiple trading, in the exchange definition, concerns the activities of its own members who are also members of exchanges in other cities. The exchange seeks to prevent these members from acting in their local exchanges as specialists and dealers in securities which have their primary markets in New York.

Customers Not Involved.

It does not affect the members' operations as brokers in the execution of customers' orders.

The exchange's letter to Pike, signed by Robert P. Boylan, vice chairman of the board of governors, reviewed the multiple trading controversy with the commission dating several months, and said:

"Our objections have been addressed to a practice by which a limited number of our own members, in acting as dealers on other exchanges in securities listed on this exchange, have unwarrantedly utilized their New York memberships in such a way as to transfer the market of the

The Greatest Retail Market in the World

IN the half dozen blocks from Randolph to Van Buren on State Street more retail clothing, dry goods and department store business is transacted than in any similar area in the world. State Street merchants estimate that over $200,000,000 worth of goods are sold over their counters each year.

This includes the paper of pins, the ten-cent bar of soap, as well as the $5000 fur coat. An average of a quarter of a million individual sales are made within these few blocks each day.

The huge business institutions on State Street are the marvel of every visitor to Chicago, although we who live here scarcely give them a thought. There is nothing like it in the world. Every Chicagoan has reason to be proud of this achievement.

Chicago, the Wonder City—The commercial progress of Chicago is one of the marvels of the century. In common with other financial institutions, the growth of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank is largely dependent on the growth of Chicago. And the growth of Chicago rests on the faith and vision of its citizens. In a series of advertisements, of which this is the Third, we are trying to set forth a few of the achievements of this great city. Chicago will continue to contribute to the benefit of its citizens in proportion to their faith in its future.

WAR INDUSTRY SHARES RISE IN ACTIVE BUYING

Year-End Dividend Flow Aids Other Groups.

New York, Dec. 11 (AP).—War industry shares, led by steels, advanced fractions to more than a point today. An early flurry of bidding for United States steel and Bethlehem spread to other groups, but the gains were reduced before the finish.

Demand centered on shares likely to profit most from the defense-stimulated expansion of heavy industries. Year-end dividends were special market influences, as was evident in a jump of more than 2 points in Consolidated Aircraft on announcement of a $2 payment and a boost in Marshall Field on news of a $1 year-end disbursement.

Steels Move Higher.

United States steel ended a point higher at 70¼. Crucible was up a like amount at 44½ and Bethlehem retained a fractional part of its early rise.

Also up fractions to about a point were Douglas Aircraft, du Pont, Phillips Petroleum, Santa Fe, Great Northern preferred, Johns-Manville, Union Carbide, Chrysler, United Aircraft, and American Telephone.

Anaconda, Western Union, General Motors, and American Woolen preferred were among those showing small losses. Union Pacific dropped more than 2 in a thin market.

Chicago Stocks.

Prices on the Chicago Stock exchange moved upward yesterday. Of the 115 issues traded, 56 advanced, 19 declined, and 40 closed unchanged. Turnover jumped to 35,000 shares from 23,000. Transactions in round lots during the extra hour from 2 to 3 o'clock totaled 8,150 shares, largest for any hour of the day.

The volume leading stock of Marshall Field & Co., which declared a year-end dividend yesterday, established a new 1940 peak at 16½, up ½. United States Steel, another of the trading favorites, gained 1⅜ points to 70⅜.

New York Bonds.

New York, Dec. 11 (AP).—Speculative low priced bonds advanced fractions to a point or more today as new evidence came to light of rising profits for many lines of business.

The low yield corporate group and United States government obligations rested at or near Tuesday's finals after the latter had established new record peaks and leveled off slightly under profit taking.

Moving up fractions to a point or more were Illinois Central 4¾s, Erie 5s, North Western 4¾s, Southern Pacific 4½s, New York Dock 4s, General Steel Castings 5½s, Goodrich 4¾s, and Montana Power 3¾s.

The foreign list provided some rather wide changes. Denmark 6s dropped 5¼ to 32¾, and Argentine 4½s gained 2¼ at 69¾.

Bank Stocks.

Chicago Title and Harris Trust shares advanced 2 points yesterday in Chicago bank stock trading. La Salle National declined 3 points and First National was off 2 points.

FUTURES PRICES OF COMMODITIES MOVE UNEVENLY

Wool Tops Decline Again from Recent Highs.

Major commodity futures moved irregularly yesterday. Wool tops, which have been reaching successive 1940 highs, declined for the second day, as did rubber, cocoa, and world sugar. Copper, Santos coffee, domestic sugar, and silk edged forward. Hides were uneven, altho some contracts gained as much as ¼ cent a pound.

Wool tops closed 0.3 to 1.4 cents a pound lower on estimated sales of 500,000 pounds. December deliveries were $1.19 6-10 bid. In the cash market, prices sagged a cent a pound to $1.20½ bid. Hides were 0.25 cent a pound higher to 0.10 cent lower at 12.92 cents bid in December futures.

Domestic production of refined copper jumped to 96,283 tons in November from 83,076 tons in October the Copper institute reported. Refined stocks, however, decreased 6,200 tons to 158,418 on Nov. 30.

COPPER FABRICATOR.

Has the defense program or the war helped Revere Copper and Brass? What is the company's financial position? What is its connection with American Smelting and Refining?—B. R.

Answer: Army orders for ammunition components and other military products, as well as considerable foreign business, have expanded the operations of Revere Copper and Brass, Inc. The company is an important copper fabricator, making copper, brass, bronze, and alloy products used mainly in the construction, automotive and electrical equipment trades.

Net income in the first nine months this year was $1,705,099, equal after preferred dividends to $1.04 a common share. In the corresponding period of 1939, net income was $336,135. Earnings of the company are subject to wide swings, which are general in the industry. The earnings record in recent years follows:

	Net sales.	Net income.	Earned per com. share.
1935		$ 425,555	*$2.46
1936	$37,109,000	2,275,326	1.32
1937	47,538,000	414,759	* 2.20
1938	25,454,000	*2,125,408	* 6.72
1939	41,919,000	1,615,069	.20

*Loss.

Net working capital of $12,442,262 on September 30 was indicated by the company's balance sheet, which listed current assets at $20,307,624 and current liabilities $7,865,362.

Capitalization of the company is composed of $7,500,000 in funded debt [following recent refinancing], 24,587 shares of 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock of $100 par value, 94,118 shares of 5¼ per cent cumulative preferred stock of $100 par value, 207,160 shares of class A $10 par stock, and 563,019 shares of $5 par common stock.

No dividend ever has been paid on the common stock and none on the class A since 1931. Unpaid dividends on the 7 per cent preferred amounted to $50.75 a share and on the 5¼ per cent preferred, $13.12½ a share, after a quarterly payment was made on each stock Nov. 1, the first since 1937.

American Smelting & Refining company directly and thru a subsidiary owns a substantial portion of Revere's capital stock and is represented on the latter's board of directors.

MORRELL & CO.

What dividends have been paid this year by Morrell & Co.?—W. K.

Answer: John Morrell & Co. of Maine paid four dividends of 50 cents each on its common stock this year and an extra payment of 75 cents will be made Dec. 18 to holders of record Dec. 2.

People and Events

John E. Ott has been appointed manager of the Archer plant of the Acme Steel company, Chicago. He succeeds W. C. Childress, who has resigned.

Leon F. Payne has been elected treasurer of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation to succeed Frank C. Harper, who will retire Dec. 16 after 32 years of service.

H. T. Heald, president of the Illinois Institute of Technology, will speak on "A Program for Engineering Defense Training in Chicago," before the Industrial Management society this evening in the Chicago Towers club.

RESTORING TRADE FREEDOM CALLED U. S. OBLIGATION

'Clear All Interference,' R. H. Geist Advises.

Raymond H. Geist.

Restoration of the "fullest freedom" in maintaining America's foreign trade is our "impelling obligation," Raymond H. Geist, chief of the division of commercial affairs in the department of state, declared yesterday in an address before the Export Managers' club of Chicago.

"We must free our commerce from all interference and restore the inalienable rights which are ours to the end that we may trade with all nations in all parts of the world when and where we wish," he said. "The time has come for the United States to restore free trade on the seven seas."

That may take decades or even generations, he declared, but "maintaining our trade thruout the world is nothing less than our right to associate on equal terms with other nations."

Holds Adjustments Vital.

While this position is being reached, Geist said, "not only must each merchant find his rôle in trade limited or expanded according to the general scheme of the national good, but even groups and whole industries must follow suit by adapting their commercial and industrial operations to the one aim which is now paramount, namely, the defense of the nation.

"This defense is concerned not only with the protection of our political integrity but of our position in world trade."

Geist called the unification of the 21 American republics in the maintenance of their economic integrity "the first permanent structure which assures the maintenance of our international trade."

CITES LATIN DIFFICULTIES

Efforts to stimulate increased trade between the United States and South American nations are made difficult because most of the goods the Latin nations have to offer are raw materials which would compete in this market with our own products.

In outlining this view of Latin economy at a Chicago Association of Commerce meeting in the Hotel La Salle yesterday, Dr. James Shelby Thomas, former University of Chicago economist and widely known engineer, listed five reasons why the United States may never establish the desired unity with its neighbors to the south. They are:

1. We have neglected to develop in South America industries whose products may be sent here in exchange for our goods.

Ideas on Values Differ.

2. We have failed to appreciate that Latin Americans have a different sense of social, economic, political, religious, and business values.
3. We foolishly hope to bribe South American politics into swinging "to the right." It is impossible to buy public opinion, at least permanently, he warned.
4. We have failed to stock South American libraries with books and periodicals as the Germans, Italians and Spaniards have done.
5. We have failed to appreciate that transportation facilities in the Latin countries are poor and must be improved if only for military reasons.

GRAIN FUTURES STAY IN NARROW RANGE OF PRICES

Grain prices fluctuated in an aimless manner yesterday. Wheat held within a range of ⅝ to ⅞ cent a bushel and corn about ½ cent.

Closing sales on wheat futures on the Chicago Board of Trade were ⅛ cent lower and corn was unchanged to ⅛ cent lower. December oats gained ½ cent to within ¼ cent of the seasonal high price; rye finished unchanged to ⅛ cent higher, and soy beans were unchanged to ⅜ cent higher.

After the close it was announced that 10,000 bushels of cash wheat had been tendered on December contracts, the first this month.

Condition of the winter wheat crop on Dec. 1 was estimated by five Chicago experts at 85.5 per cent of normal, the highest since 1930. This compared with an all time record low of 55 per cent a year ago and a 10 year average of 79 per cent.

A crop of 595,000,000 bushels of winter wheat is indicated based on the present condition and acreage.

8 FIRMS ORDER EXTRAS; 5 YEAR END DIVIDENDS

Marshall Field Will Pay $1 Additional.

Corporate dividend declarations yesterday included eight extra and five year-end payments.

Directors of Marshall Field & Co. authorized a year-end dividend of $1 a share on the common stock, in addition to a regular quarterly disbursement of 10 cents. The company said that the action was taken pursuant to a policy announced to shareholders earlier in the year that the board would consider a year-end dividend if the volume of business and net profits for 1940 justified.

Other companies which ordered year-end payments were Chicago Flexible Shaft company, $1.50; Pittsburgh Coke and Iron company, 25 cents; Arrow-Hart & Hegeman Electric company, $1.25, and New York and Honduras Rosario Mining company, 90 cents.

Railway Votes $1.50 Extra.

Companies which declared extra dividends included Wheeling & Lake Erie Railway company, $1.50; Permutit company, 25 cents; New Britain Machine company, 75 cents; Merchants Bank of New York, $1; Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland, $1; Coleman Lamp and Stove company, $1.50; American Brake Shoe and Foundry company, 60 cents, and Air Reduction company, 25 cents.

Directors of the Consolidated Aircraft corporation ordered a disbursement of $2 on the common stock, the first since $1 was paid, Dec. 19, 1938. An interim dividend of $8 by Pepsi-Cola company will bring distribution for 1940 to $18, against $15 last year.

Dear Mr. McMahon:

"Many more days of Thanksgiving" was the theme of our half page Tribune Ad on Thanksgiving Day and tonight we are the ones who are giving thanks!

Never before have we been so convinced of the Chicago Tribune's pulling power and its wonderful coverage. For never in fifty four years has the response to this annual event been so tremendous.

From early morning until closing time every one of our four stores was packed to capacity! There was no let-up! Because of this tremendous response and the many requests received we are continuing this event for three more days.

Allow me to congratulate you on these wonderful results. I am more enthusiastic than ever about the Tribune.

Yours very truly,
BENSON & RIXON CO.

"Never before have we been so convinced of the Chicago Tribune's pulling power"*

Reproduced in small size (right) is the half page advertisment placed in the Tribune on November 21 to which Mr. Benson credits the results reported in his letter.

"PACKED—from early morning until closing time"—these words mean business—sustained sales action which piles up volume, speeds turnover and boosts profits.

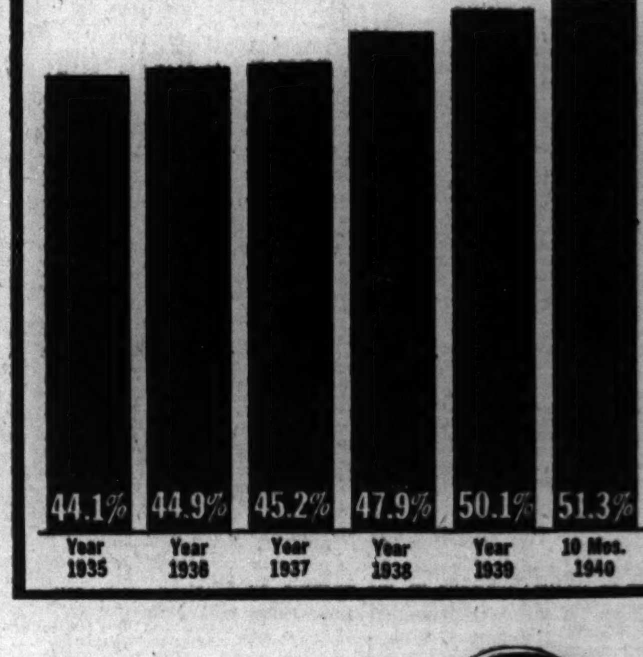
Such is the experience reported by Benson & Rixon in the letter above—additional proof that you can get your full share of Chicago's increased buying by basing your advertising program on the Tribune.

With over 1,000,000 net paid, every day of the week, the Tribune now delivers from 625,000 to 670,000 more total daily circulation than other Chicago daily newspapers. On Sunday it delivers from 240,000 to 790,000 more than other Chicago Sunday newspapers.

Right in Chicago and suburbs, the Tribune delivers 475,000 more daily circulation than other Chicago daily newspapers. On Sunday the Tribune delivers from 370,000 to 460,000 more city and suburban circulation than other Chicago Sunday newspapers.

When you can have more, why take less? Ask a Tribune representative to help you plan a program of advertising which can help you get the increases you want. Tribune rates per 100,000 circulation are among the lowest in America.

Retail advertisers place in the Tribune 51% of their newspaper budgets for men's clothing advertising—more than in all other Chicago newspapers combined.



Total net paid circulation now in excess of 1,000,000 every day of the week

COTTON

Trading in cotton futures yesterday was restricted. At no time were prices above the previous close, with the market gradually weakening on scattered liquidation and hedging pressure and selling attributed to Bombay interests. Closing sales were at the bottom, with losses of .05 to .08 cent a pound on the active deliveries.

With only about 550,000 bales of American cotton exported so far this season, the smallest amount in many years, there is a tendency to make a downward revision in the estimates on the total clearances for the 1940-'41 season. The New York Cotton Exchange service estimates that exports for the crop year may be about 1,125,000 bales. If realized, the total shipments abroad would be the smallest in over 75 years.

Cash cotton closed .05 to .06 cent lower, with New York, 10.31 cents; New Orleans, 9.89 cents, and Houston at 9.80 cents a pound. Futures prices follow:

CHEMISTS SHOW SCIENCE'S AID TO INDUSTRY'S RISE

Exhibit New Products of Research Laboratories.

The quiet revolution in American industry which started in chemical research laboratories came to light yesterday at the national chemical exposition and conference in the Stevens hotel.

The accent of the five day conference is on the commercial development of new products and materials by industrial chemists who have produced raw materials from domestic sources previously untapped—coal, petroleum, soy beans, and other farm products.

The exposition, sponsored by the Chicago section of the American Chemical society, has drawn exhibits from more than 100 manufacturers and from research laboratories. Many of the one thousand commercial chemicals introduced in the last few years are on display. The exhibits are not open to the public.

Chemists Report Today.

The conference phase of the meeting will begin today with reports on the latest developments in industry's applications of chemical discoveries.

The exhibits range from one labeled "Podbielniak centrifugal superfractionator" to fudge and candy bars kept fresh by the use of glycerine, plastics, and other synthetic materials.

The Dow Chemical company displayed its synthetic plastics. One, called styron, is a transparent material made from ethylene and benzene. It can transmit light around curves, making it applicable to scientific instruments and illuminated signs.

Ingredient in Explosives.

Nitro-paraffins developed by the Commercial Solvents corporation were described as useful in the making of adhesives, plastics, resins, cosmetics, pharmaceuticals, and textiles. Some of the nitro-paraffins may be used to obtain powerful explosives.

Corn is finding its way into lithograph inks, as demonstrated by the Corn Products Refining company. Research chemists have produced a pigment carrier made from corn protein. Known as "mazene" this chemical makes an ink used in printing labels and food wrappers.

The exhibit directed by Dr. C. Robert Moulton, formerly of the Museum of Science and Industry, includes a display by the Illinois Geological survey of the state's mineral resources.

The numerous synthetic materials which can be obtained from coal and petroleum are shown in exhibits by the Koppers company and the National Carbon company.

Koppers Co. Subsidiary Votes to Be Absorbed

Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 11 (AP).—Stockholders of the Wood Preserving corporation, a Koppers company subsidiary, voted today at a special meeting to liquidate the 10 year old corporation engaged in the prefabrication and pressure treatment of timber. The business will be conducted as an operating and sales division of Koppers company after Dec. 31, 1940, without changes in the general management of the Wood Preserving corporation's 21 plants in 17 states.

CHRYSLER SIGNS PACT TO BOOST WAGES OF 60,000

Hudson, Auto Union Reach Accord.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 11 (AP).—Chrysler corporation and the United Automobile Workers [C. I. O.] today signed an agreement which will give 60,000 Chrysler employés increased hourly wages and vacation allowances estimated by union officials to total $6,744,000 a year.

It was the second time in six months that a major automobile manufacturer has agreed to payment of a vacation allowance, in lieu of vacations with pay, for hourly rated employés. Last June a U. A. W.-C I. O. contract with General Motors corporation provided for the equivalent of a week's pay in place of paid vacations.

The Chrysler agreement provides for a flat payment of $40 in the 11 plants now covered by the U. A. W.-C. I. O. contracts, to each hourly rated worker who had at least one year's seniority on Nov. 30, 1940. In addition, it calls for a raise in pay of 2 cents an hour.

Union negotiators estimated hourly wages at $1.06 and said this would be the highest for industrial workers thruout the world.

Representatives of the Hudson Motor Car company and the U. A. W.-C. I. O. tonight signed a contract but disagreed as to whether it provided for a union shop. The company maintained that a clause in the contract did not require new employés to join the union, nor provide penalties for union employés who failed to pay dues. The union interpreted the clause to mean that employés must keep in good standing with the union or lose their jobs.

STOCKHOLDERS OF WALGREEN CO. VOTE PENSIONS

Stockholders of the Walgreen company, drug store chain with headquarters in Chicago, at the annual meeting yesterday approved a pension plan for employés to be known as the Charles R. Walgreen Memorial Pension trust. Directors were reëlected.

William G. Johnston, assistant secretary, was named treasurer of the company by the directors, meeting after the stockholders' session. Other officers were reëlected. Johnston takes the place of Elmer E. Rueckert, who has not been affiliated with the company for almost a year.

Under the plan, the company agrees to pay to the trustees an amount equal to the aggregate contributed by employés up to $500,000 as an initial payment, after which it will match employés' payments so long as common share earnings remain at the basic figure of $1.80 for any fiscal year. The company payments will increase or decrease proportionately with per share earnings.

Chicago Heights Bank Will Pay 5% More of Deposits

A 5 per cent payment amounting to $38,549, to depositors of the First State Bank of Chicago Heights was announced yesterday by Edward J. Barrett, state auditor. The sixth payment since the bank closed, it brought total disbursements to 35 per cent.

James A. Farley Joins N. Y. Central R. R. Board

New York, Dec. 11 (AP).—James A. Farley, former postmaster general, was elected a director of the New York Central railroad today, filling a vacancy. He was elected chairman of the Coca-Cola Export corporation last fall, a position he now holds.

N. Y. EXCHANGE REFUSES TO LIFT ITS BAN FOR SEC

Insists on Order Curbing Member Activities.

New York Stock exchange to the floors of regional exchanges."

Regarding the SEC's study which led to its request for removal of the multiple trading ban, Boylan said:

"We do not find in the report [of the SEC] any new factual material which leads us to alter our convictions of the propriety of the action taken by this exchange, nor do we concur in the forecast [of the SEC] that the action of this exchange will affect 'interexchange competition in a manner harmful to the local industry, the general public, and to individual investors.'"

The letter created a mild stir in Wall street. Some observers said it marked the first important deviation by the exchange from what had appeared to be a policy of compliance with SEC recommendations.

CHICAGO BOARD MEETS TODAY.

Arthur M. Betts, chairman of the board of governors of the Chicago Stock exchange, said last night that the executive committee at its meeting today will probably discuss the refusal of the New York Stock exchange to rescind its ban on multiple trading. What action, if any, might be the result was not indicated.

WESTERN UNION, FLORSHEIM SHOE EARNINGS MOUNT

Western Union Telegraph company yesterday announced its October net income rose to $500,440, from $303,489 last year. Profit for the first 10 months of 1940 was $2,719,276, equal to $2.60 a share, compared with $950,359, or 91 cents a share in the corresponding period last year.

The Florsheim Shoe company reported net profit of $1,098,231 for the fiscal year ended Oct. 31, equal to $1.37 a share on class B stock. Net income in the preceding fiscal year was $998,191, or $1.24 a share. Irving S. Florsheim, president, said the company's plants are operating at full capacity.

ASSESSED VALUE OF COUNTY RAILS RAISED FOR 1940

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 11 [Special].—Taxes against railroads in Cook county will be levied against an assessed valuation of $109,280,000 for 1940, compared with the 1939 valuation of $103,990,238.

While the Cook county assessed valuation has increased, according to an announcement by the Illinois tax commission today, the statewide assessed valuation of railroads is 8.36 per cent less than in 1939, the result of a Supreme court decision that the commission must use the state average, 35 per cent of full value, instead of the percentage used by each county in determining the assessed valuation.

The assessed valuation for all railroads in the state for 1940 amounts to $318,477,475, against $347,526,471 in 1939.

HOW TO BORROW
$25 to $250 or more
On Your Own Signature
Getting a loan at "Personal" is as simple as A-B-C. Just do this:—
A—Come in or phone. Say "I want to get a loan.
B—Sign and get the cash.
C—Repay to suit your convenience—[you set both the date and amount of your monthly payments].
FIRST CHOICE
COAST-TO-COAST
During the past year, over one million people were served by the 400 affiliated "Personal" offices from coast to coast—more than were served by any other loan company.
If YOU need $25 to $250 or more and can repay small monthly installments, you should not hesitate to see us at once for a loan.
We keep the entire transaction between us. Your employer, friends, or relatives are not notified.

Joyful as Christmas Draws Near
